MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXVIII. DECEMBER 7, 1901. No. 1760.

WALL STREET took a very favorable view of the President's message, and also of Secretary Gage's report, but the stocks that ought logically to have benefited most by their contents, the Industrials, failed most lamentably to respond. It seems to have become the settled view of buyers that an Industrial must not be bought except upon an eight to ten per cent. basis, but that there is no minimum of return for railroad issues. This is an erroneous view, but it influences the average buyer nevertheless, and explains some anomalies in current quotations. As to the stock market of this week, that was characterized by the same realizing tactics as were apparent last week, and the buyers who are assisting the big men to unload will be repenting soon. They probably think that the past history of the railroads and their future prospects justify much higher quotations, forgetting that Wall Street more than discounts everything a long way ahead. However, that thoroughfare is a school that is always receiving and dismissing scholars, and it is never possible to endow the newcomer with the wisdom of the one that is going away.

EXCEPT that they have been the feature of the European reports for so long a time, the depressing statistics of trade and labor that are now finding currency, ought to indicate that the limit of depression has been, or is about to be reached. It is significant of a probable bettering of conditions that less is heard of the pinch in money and, while a week or two must pass before this is actually known and rates are maintained at high points, there is a promise that the present emergency will pass without much further trouble and that the opening of the year will find the great commercial nations facing the future with renewed courage. Some encouragement comes already from the opposition the German Tariff bill is meeting in the Reichstag. The United States and its competing ability continue to hold a front rank among public questions, as will be seen by the following incident: Among the petitions addressed to the French Senate and referred to a Committee, was one by M. Francis Laur, a mining engineer, and former Deputy, concerning the U. S. Steel Trust and the effects it may have on French industry. He remarked that France was menaced by the trust, as well as England and Germany, and suggested as a means of defence a modification of the customs duties, following the example of Russia. He stated that there was a flagrant inconformity between the French and American tariffs. For machine tools the French duties are 35f. per cwt. for machines of a weight not exceeding five cwts.; 10f. for machines from five cwts. to one ton, and 7f. 50c. for those of over a ton while such machine tools and other metal goods are charged 45 per cent. ad valorem in the United States. The committee to which the petition was referred have reported that the complaint is well founded, and propose to refer the petition to the President of the Council, to be submitted to the Minister of Commerce for him to consider by what means the French metallic industry may be defended.

ENGINEER MARTIN, of the Brooklyn Bridge, in his report on the plan of the experts for improvements in the Manhattan terminal, has abandoned part of it and kept the rest. He has abandoned the Park Row and Vesey street road and has been wisely advised in so doing, for, whatever its value (and it would be great), public opinion would not permit an elevated structure on Park Row across Broadway. He has, however, kept the Centre street approach with connections to the new East River Bridge, and when it is completed, Bridge No. 3, at Canal street. That this approach would do something to relieve the intolerable and dangerous condition of the Manhattan terminal, is obvious; and it would have the additional advantage of providing the new East River Bridge with a City Hall connection, and so of increasing its use to the public. Yet the objections urged against any such plan are weighty, and should receive careful consideration. There is a well-founded dislike to any extension of the elevated roads in Manhattan; and the objection would have, in this instance, peculiar force, because the building of the new Hall of Records, and the destruction of the old structures in City Hall Park offer an opportunity of making a spacious and appropriate public square at this great center of present and future interborough traffic; and, obviously, an elevated road through this square would forever make it an ugly and gloomy place. Probably this objection should not count, in case the proposed approach really and permanently relieved the crush at the terminal; but it is at bottom only a makeshift. Nothing can permanently relieve the pressure of traffic on the existing bridge, except the completion of new bridges and tunnels. If the proposed approach is only a makeshift it is a pity to sacrifice permanently the appearance of one of the most important squares to the city to attain a merely temporary object. There must be some way of attaining that object for the time being without the construction of such an elevated approach. The opposition which takes its stand on these lines cannot be lightly ignored; and the Board of Estimate, before it consents to the proposed Centre street road, should be well assured that no other less objectionable makeshift cannot be devised.

EVIDENCES continue to accumulate that the present Congress at least is not likely to do anything in the matter of reciprocity. It is announced that the treaties negotiated under the Dingley Law are finally dead, beyond all hope of resurrection. The reciprocity convention in Washington could agree only upon resolutions, which were a flat denial of the principle of international trade, upon which alone reciprocity can have any meaning. Even President Roosevelt, in his message, practically dodged the issue. Assertions to the effect that reciprocity is the handmaid of protection are meaningless, when protectionists object to any reciprocal treaties with foreign countries, which abate one small fraction of the exclusive protection which American industries now enjoy. It is apparent, that is, that the interests which made the present tariff and profit from it have not yet come to see the necessity of sacrificing in some measure the exclusive control of the domestic markets for the sake of preserving and extending the foreign markets. They want to keep everything and give nothing, and the result can only be in time the practical exclusion of this country from Continental Europe. The fight during the present session is likely to turn particularly upon the proposed reciprocity convention with Cuba, for it is in this direction only that the administration is committed to definite measures. At present the opponents of any tariff concessions to Cuba or the Philippines appear to hold the strongest hand; but the game is exceedingly interesting, because it brings into clear relief the larger and more national considerations of policy, which for the first time in the history of the country have become plainly and unavoidably relevant. It is urged that in this matter the United States is bound to consider not merely their own interests, but the welfare of the Cubans and Filipinos, on the penalty, in case the well-being of those islands is ignored, of being obliged to face continual restlessnesss and political commotion. It remains to be seen whether such unfamiliar reasoning will possess any weight with rigidly protectionist Congressmen; but the mere fact that the policy of the country must hereafter be influenced by something besides a combination of private and special interests, is a most important and salutary fact.

A NEW, or an amended suggestion is made for increasing the funds available for city improvements. This by Comptroller-elect Grout, who thinks that the proposal of Comptroller Coler, to release from the debt limit bonds issued for self-sustaining works, would open up an era of extravagance by giving the city too large a new borrowing power at once. He thinks it would be better to capitalize the income of these improvements at 4% under supervision of the State Auditor; then allow the city to expend only 10% of such new capital in any one year, and only 60% in all. By this homœpathic process he hopes to see latent extravagance prevented. The importance of Mr. Grout's remarks is not so much in the suggestion contained in them, as in the implied admission that something ought to be done to better enfund the city, if we may use the term. His amendment raises all the objections raised by the original proposition, with another added, that the interference of a State functionary, controlling in so important a matter, would only increase that State control of local affairs of which complaint has already been so loud, and which the new charter endeavors to mitigate somewhat. In referring to this subject, it is interesting to note that the suggestion made in these columns last week by Tax Commission Feitner, that the valuation for measuring the debt limit be increased by including the value of the real estate owned by the city, known as the city exempt real estate, has received the approval of Comptroller Coler as a simple way of reaching the point and obtaining money for immediate relief, while he adheres to a preference for a system that would gradually end in municipal control of the great public utilities.

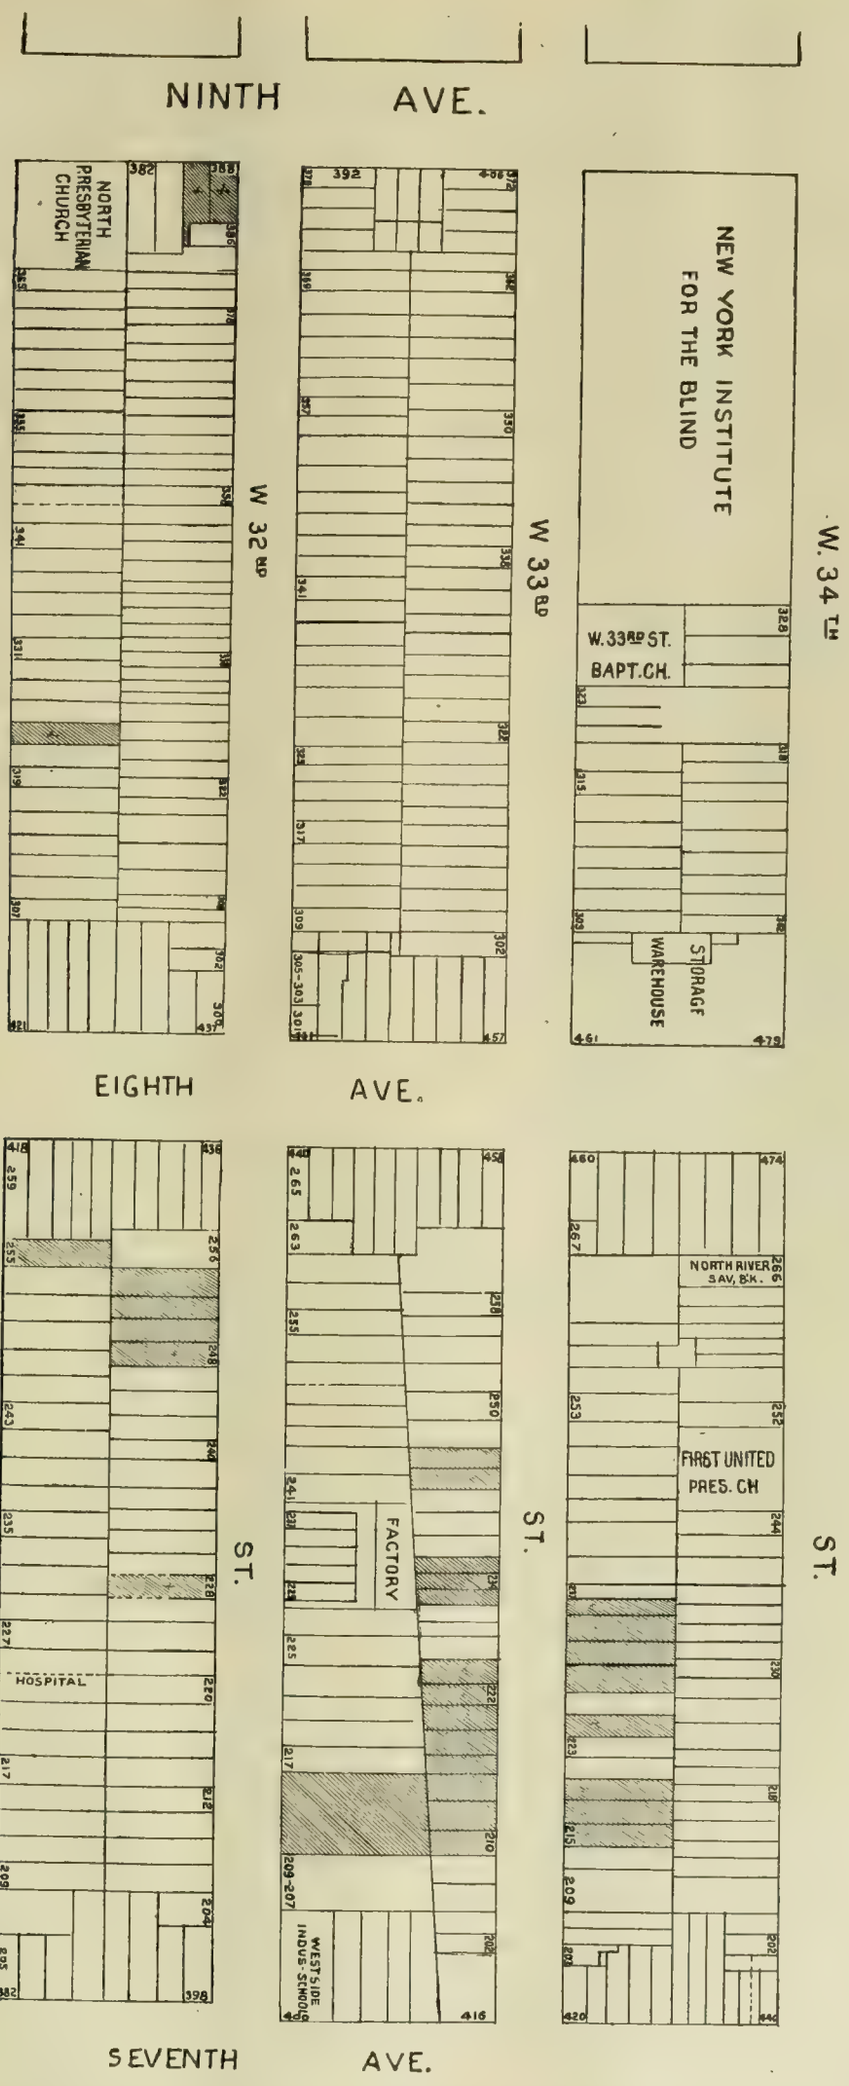
The Real Estate Situation

The most novel and interesting aspect of the present movement in real estate continues to be the important part played in it by realty corporations. A very considerable proportion of the tall buildings, now being erected, either for business or residential purposes, are owned by real estate corporations. There has been organized during the past week an extremely important company, which for some purpose, as yet undivulged, is making extensive purchases west of 7th avenue and south of 34th street. What is still more significant, it is stated that for the first time a company, not merely to speculate, but to invest in real estate, is now being formed. The capital of this company is to be $8,000,000; and among the people interested may be mentioned Flake & Dowling and Richard M. Montgomery. Whether this particular company does or does not go through, it is obvious that some such company is the next step in the application of organized corporate methods to the ownership and improvement of real estate in New York city. The present corporations represent exclusively groups of rich speculators, whereas the real estate corporations, which have obtained a recognized position in Boston, are indeed managed by experts, but are owned by small investors. The Boston Real Estate Trust, for instance, has had a successful existence of fourteen years. It has a capitalization of $7,000,000, and its stock, the par value of which is $1,000, sells now for more than $1,300 a share. It is operated by real estate experts, and makes a specialty of business property. But it is distinguished from New York companies in that it scarcely ever sells real estate, but holds it for the purpose of paying dividends out of the rentals it receives, and it has succeeded in always paying 4½ per cent. Something similar is certain to take place in New York, only it will be done on a larger scale, and will come about somewhat differently. The present real estate corporations will find it in the end easier to sell the properties they are building and accumulating to the small investors in a big corporation than to large individual investors; and it is extremely probable that these companies will hereafter tend to combine and merge their interests in larger corporations, which will have the advantage of bigger capitalizations, and can be floated on the stock market. Such corporations will have to commend themselves to investors, not by promised results, but by results, which have been already obtained. They will have to show down an immediate earning power of at least four per cent. upon the capital stock; and the names of the managers will have to be a guarantee of the conservatism of the management. Under such conditions there is no reason why these corporations should not become the great purchasers and improvers of New York real estate. On Manhattan Island the individual investor no longer has the opportunities which he formerly had. Expert advice and management are needed, not merely in the purchase of properties, but in their subsequent operations; and investors must buy this advice by putting such experts in control of large investment companies. Under conservative managers, such real estate companies would be one of the safest kinds of investment, for it would combine a small but adequate return, with a steady increase in the value of the assets. It would be an Astor estate, which distributed the accumulated profits due to increased value.



More About Realty Companies.

IT is reported that only about 8,000 owners of tenements out of an estimated 75,000 have complied with the Section 131 of the Tenement House Law, which requires the registration of names of owners with the Health Board, accompanied by detailed descriptions of their properties—street and number, number of apartments and number of rooms in each apartment, the number of families occupying the apartments and the trades or occupations carried on therein. After January 1st this registration will have to be made with the Tenement House Commission, which then takes over the administration of this portion of the Tenement House Act. What may be the reasons for the failure of owners to register we cannot say, but it may be well to point out again that all violations of the Tenement House Act are misdemeanors, and punishable by imprisonment or fine, or by both, in the discretion of the court.

The purchases which have provoked most comment during the week are those of the Stuyvesant Real Estate Company between 7th and 9th avenues, 31st and 33d streets. A diagram, which will be found in another column, gives the precise location of the purchases of this company, which have been so far announced; but evidently it has obtained options on much additional property. Two-thirds of these thirty parcels are situated close together on opposite sides of the same street, while the remainder are scattered around sufficiently to indicate the area which the buying embraces. The prices which have been paid are by no means small, and prove that, whatever the purpose of the purchases may be, the purchasers are not sparing money in order to accomplish it. Having in mind the recent acquisitions of the Long Island Railroad Company on 33d street near 6th avenue, and the current notion that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company proposed to build into New York somewhere in that vicinity, the daily papers jumped at the idea that these purchases were made for the purpose of securing a bridge terminal; and the popularity of the idea did not suffer from the fact that knowledge of the business was denied at the offices of both companies, for it was recollected that the plans of the North River Bridge Company were supposed to call for six blocks—just the number covered by the operations of the Stuyvesant Real Estate Company. However, the difficulty with the supposition was that these plans, also, provided for an entrance to Manhattan some blocks further south, and would have to be changed in case the purchases were made in the Pennsylvania interest. All things considered, it looks rather as if the Stuyvesant Real Estate Company was operating in the neighborhood on its own account, and this supposition becomes extremely plausible, in view of the character of the neighborhood, and the possibility of its improvement. The blocks in question were formerly a good middle-class residential district, which of late years has been deteriorating, because of the nature of surrounding influences. But this deterioration has not gone very far, and only a few cheap flats have been erected on the sites of former residences. It is not too late to redeem it by the erection of a very much better class of apartment houses renting, say, from $40 to $75 a month; and it is entirely possible that the Stuyvesant Real Estate Company has been formed for some such purpose. This is the more plausible, when it is remembered that 7th avenue is only one block from 6th avenue and that the Long Island Railroad tunnel and other influences will make 6th avenue and 33d street one of the most important business and traffic centers of the city.

The Transactions of the Week.

Two other transactions of some interest may be mentioned. The more important of these is the purchase by another realty corporation of Chickering Hall on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 18th street. The Hall is, of course, to be torn down and a store and loft building erected in its place, probably by Henry Corn. One might be tempted to believe that this was the first sign of the removal from this part of 5th avenue of the piano trade in order to make way for wholesale business, but this interpretation of the sale would be premature. It means only that a large hall, devoted to concerts and lectures, is no longer profitable at 18th street and 5th avenue. In time it is possible that the piano trade will remove further up-town, but for the present it is well situated where it is. Another announcement of some interest is the proposed erection of a twelve-story apartment hotel on a corner of 39th street and Lexington avenue. This is near a very good residential section in which prices are not high, and which has not yet been invaded by the builder of apartment houses or hotels. It should be good section for such operations.

The New Appointments.

A TALK WITH PRESIDENT-ELECT CANTOR—THE CONSULTING ARCHITECT.

The announcement has been made that Perez M. Stewart, the well-known builder of this city, will be the Superintendent of Buildings, at the head of the Bureau of Buildings, in the office of the President of the Borough of Manhattan, and that William Martin Aiken, architect, will be his Chief Inspector, and practically his deputy, having all his powers in his absence from duty, and, also, the consulting architect of the President of the Borough.

President-elect Jacob A. Cantor told a Record and Guide representative that the announcement of these intended appointments was made thus early, because he wanted the assistance of Mr. Stewart and Mr. Aiken in designing the alterations required in public buildings to meet the requirements of the new boards created by the Charter, and for other purposes. Regarding these selections, Mr. Cantor said Mr. Stewart and Mr Aiken would co-operate in their work, and he added: "I think I am safe in saying that this will be the first time that the city has had the benefit of a practical builder and an architect of experience working together in the building department. Mr. Aiken will discharge the duties of both Chief Inspector and of consulting architect to the President of the borough. I have a bureau in my office of public buildings, and it is in connection with that that the consulting architect will act. He has already started to work, because I have to make provision for the new board of aldermen that the Charter creates, and for other bodies.

"I propose to revive, as nearly as possible, what was known before consolidation in 1898, as the Department of Public Works. This, with its various bureaus of Public Buildings, Sewers and Highways, will be grouped where they are now, on Park row. The Building Bureau will, of course, take the offices of the present Building Department on 4th av. My own office as President of the borough will be in the City Hall, and I am going to ask the Municipal Assembly to give me the present Council Chamber and the office of the President of the Council. The object in getting the Council Chamber is to provide a place of meeting for the eleven local boards of improvement, who will, we expect, under the greater powers conferred upon them by the new Charter, have to hold good-sized public hearings, and, therefore, have to have a room suitable for the purpose; and, inasmuch as the Council Chamber will not be needed for the Council, as that body is abolished, that room will suit our purpose.

"Coming back to the Bureau of Buildings; that will be in the charge of the two able men I have named, and they will only have the interests of the city to conserve. No man will be removed or appointed by reason of any political power or influence, but each man's appointment or retention will depend simply on merit, and a man once removed for good cause, no political influence or other power will be able to restore him.

"As to the distribution of the force of the Department, which now has jurisdiction in the two boroughs, Manhattan and the Bronx, I presume that will naturally be guided by the present arrangements; that is, the men now detailed in the Manhattan will remain there, and those detailed in the Bronx remain in the Bronx."

In explanation of the appointments referred to above, and to clear up some mystification in which people who do not know the new Charter are in over Mr. Aiken's appointment, it may be stated that the borough presidents in Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn, and in Queens and Richmond, whenever appropriation is made therefor by the Board of Aldermen on recommendation of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, have power absolute to appoint a superintendent of buildings; but only when thereto authorized by the board of estimate and the board of aldermen, a consulting engineer for sewers, a consulting engineer for public buildings, and a consulting architect.

The Superintendent of Buildings within his borough will have generally the powers now exercised by the Commissioner of Buildings. He has power to appoint and remove subordinate officers as follows: Such chief inspectors of buildings and such inspectors of buildings, engineers, clerks, messengers and assistants and other subordinates as in his judgment may be proper and necessary to carry out the building laws and rules and regulations. He may designate a chief inspector who shall possess his powers and authority in his absence. The chief inspectors must be competent architects, engineers or builders of at least 10 years' practice; and the inspectors competent men, either architects, engineers, masons, carpenters, plumbers or ironworkers, who shall have served at least 5 years as such.

The process will be this: Mr. Cantor will, on January 1st, appoint Perez M. Stewart, Superintendent of Buildings, and Mr. Aiken as consulting architect, when authority is received from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Stewart will at once, on taking office, appoint Mr. Aiken Chief Inspector in the Bureau of Buildings.

The Bay Window Case.

ANOTHER PERIOD IN A LONG LITIGATION.

Justice Lawrence, in the Supreme Court, has dismissed the case of Ackerman v. True. Three years of litigation have passed without the courts having decided the main point raised by the plaintiff, i. e., the right of the Park Department to issue a permit for certain bay window extensions on Riverside Drive. The suit was brought by Mrs. Charlotte Y. Ackerman, wife of Gilbert F. Ackerman, a retired merchant, against Clarence F. True, for an injunction to restrain him from continuing to permit the fronts of six houses on Riverside Drive to project 3 feet beyond the line of her premises. It was alleged that the bay windows and extended cornices of the houses constituted unlawful obstructions and cut off the view of the Hudson River and Riverside Drive, by reason of which the plaintiff was damaged to the extent of $10,000. Mrs. Ackerman bought the lot, being the corner of 82d st and Riverside Drive several years ago, and erected on it a residence in which she now lives. Mr. True, who was the seller, later built six houses along the Drive and reaching to 83d st. He obtained from the Park Department a permit to build the bay windows, and extended cornices on the facades.

The case was first heard before Justice Andrews in April of 1899. Judgment was given for plaintiff for $2,500 damages, with leave to reopen if plaintiff was unable to obtain from the Park Department a permit similar to that of Mr. True. The court, however, did not order the removal of the projections, to secure which was the main object of the suit. Defendant appealed, stating a number of grounds, and the judgment was set aside by the Appellate Division. The second trial took place last April before Justice Lawrence, who handed down a decision on Monday which was as follows:

When this case was before the Appellate Division (56 A. D., 54) the judgment which had been rendered at the previous trial was reversed for the reason, as I understand the opinion delivered by the court, that as a mandatory injunction had been denied and merely an award of damages given, the defendant was entitled to have the assessment of damages made by a jury, and could not be deprived of his right to such trial by the act of the plaintiff in bringing an action in equity. On the present trial the claim for damages has been abandoned and an injunction alone is asked for. In the view which I take of the case as it now stands, it is unnecessary to decide whether the permit granted by the park commissioner for the erection of the structures complained of was illegal. In Broadbelt v. Loew (15 A. D., 343), it was held that the question whether bay windows and a stoop which project beyond the line of a city street are lawful structures is one which can only arise between the municipal authorities and the owner of the building. The principles enunciated in that case preclude the plaintiff from succeeding in this case unless she has shown such special injury to her property as entitles her to some relief other than that which could be obtained by the authorities (High on Injunctions, sec. 702, and cases cited). A perusal of the evidence shows that no such case has been made by the plaintiff. The evidence shows that the value of the plaintiff's lot has materially increased since she purchased it in 1898, and I am not prepared to hold that it is established that that increase would have been greater if the defendant had not erected the structure complained of. But, apart from all these considerations, I am of the opinion that the plaintiff was guilty of laches in not objecting to the erection of the alleged encroachments upon the street line before bringing this action, and that she must be held to have acquiesced in their construction. The great preponderance of the evidence is to the effect that the plaintiff's husband, who, it is conceded, represented her, knew of the plans in conformity with which the defendant's houses were erected, and that it was explained to him that the permits obtained permitted an erection of the bay windows beyond the building line, yet he made no objection until after the houses were completed (High on Injunctions, sec. 756, and cases cited). Upon this state of facts a court of equity should not grant a mandatory injunction and compel the taking down of the structures, a judgment must, therefore, be rendered dismissing the complaint upon the merits, with costs.

Proposed Markets on Park Ave.

Harlem Property-Owners' Association, organized primarily to oppose the threatened assessment for raising the viaduct on Park av, have taken up the question of the proposed markets under the viaduct, and as a result the Secretary, David A. Scull, has addressed the following letter to Mayor Van Wyck:

Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Harlem Property Owners' Association, which is composed of owners of property between 2d av and 7th av, from 106th st and the Harlem River, it was resolved to bring to your attention the fact that a movement is on foot to devote to market purposes the space under the new railroad viaduct on Park av, between 111th st and the said river. It is the opinion of our committee that to appropriate such part of said avenue to market purposes would inflict great injury upon the abutting properties and would be a use of the avenue inconsistent with the public rights therein.

We propose to bring this matter to the consideration of the property owners interested, at a public meeting to be held early in December, 1901, and you are requested to defer indorsement thereof (should you at present approve the plan) until the wishes of the property owners and residents in the neighborhood can be ascertained and submitted to you.

West End Affairs.

ASH DUMP ON BROADWAY—AMSTERDAM AV. DOUBLE TRACKS.

George S. Lespinasse delivered a very interesting address before the West End Association on Monday evening, on "Paris and New York; Their Physical Aspects and Their Laws," which was most attentively listened to, and earned the speaker a hearty vote of thanks at its close.

The association were assembled in regular monthly meeting under the chairmanship of their President, Cyrus Clark, and elected to honorary membership Mayor-elect Low, and to regular membership, George A. Bowman, of No. 103 West 42d st. The resignation of John Larkin was received and accepted.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Cyrus Clark; Vice-Presidents, James Van Dyck Card, John C. Coleman, James J. Phelan; Treasurer, J. Edgar Leaycraft; Secretary, George B. Sheppard.

Dr. Weichman called attention to the fact that the Department of Street Cleaning had practically established an ash-dump on the vacant lots between 97th and 98th sts, Broadway and West End av, and submitted photographs in support of his statement. The matter was at once referred to the Committee on Legislation, with power to act.

The Committee on Local Improvements reported in reference to the matter of the plans for improving Columbus Circle, that these plans were withdrawn shortly after last meeting, with the statement that their presentation had been premature. The chairman expressed the opinion that in no case should suggestions of this character, whether presented by members or non-members, be taken up until after reference to and report by a committee.

The Amsterdam Avenue Special Committee submitted a letter from Prest. Vreeland, of the Metropolitan Street Ry. Co., stating that the removal of two outer tracks from Amsterdam av could not be accomplished until the Third Av. R. R. treasury held all the stock of the 42d St., Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Av. Road, which was being acquired as rapidly as possible.

On motion of Mr. Coleman, the sum of $50 was appropriated for use by the Grievance Committee, in connection with street signs being prepared, as samples, by the Edison and Welsbach companies, for erection in 72d st and Amsterdam av.

On motion of Mr. Otis, the Grievance Committee were requested to ascertain why the owners of vacant lots, southeast corner West End av and 82d st., and northeast corner of 83d st, had not been compelled to fence them as required by law.

Obituary.

JAMES E. LEVINASS.

James E. Levinass, for many years a well-known real estate broker in this city, died on Saturday last at his home, in Portchester, N. Y. He entered E. H. Ludlow's office in 1868, and left it about 1874 to go in business for himself. Morris Wilkins, Geo. R. Read, Benjamin Richards and E. J. Sause left the Ludlow office at the same time. He afterward went into business with Charles S. Brown, and early this year became connected with Richard V. Harnett & Co. He was treasurer of St. Peter's Church at Portchester, the vestry of that church being the pallbearers, and Charles S. Brown, Benjamin Weed and Henry W. Donald the honorary pallbearers.

Proposed New East River Bridge Approach.

A map of the proposed New East River Bridge approach, or the widening of Delancey st to the Bowery, and the extension of the same street to Elm st, compiled in the Topographical Bureau, is now on file in the offices of the Board of Public Improvemest, Nos. 19-23 Park row. In submitting this map, Engineer Risse said:

"I wish to suggest that the triangular block bounded by Broome st, Elm st and Marion st, be taken entirely for a public place. The larger part of this block is proposed to be taken by the approach suggested by the commissioner, and by taking the whole of it better access to the new approach is obtained. The valuation of the land to be taken is, according to the Tax Department books, as follows: Land to be taken between Norfolk st and Bowery, $1,037,000; between Bowery and Elm st, including publice place, $786,600; total, $1,823,600."

Is making the map a rule was adopted to as nearly as possible follow the lot lines in widening Delancey st, by taking off 75 feet on the south side, and making an extension from the Bowery to Elm st, 100 feet wide. Thus the southern line of the extension touches the streets through which it passes at points north of Broome st, as follows: Bowery, east side, 209.9 feet; Elizabeth st, east side, 164.11 feet, west side, 153 feet; Mott st, east side, 109.0½ feet, west side, 97.1 feet; Mulberry st, east side, 50 feet, west side, 40 feet. This southern line extends back from Mulberry st 200 feet west, then goes south to Broome, thence along northern line of Broome to Marion. With this line in mind, and remembering that the approach is to be 100 feet wide, an idea of the property proposed to be taken on any of the streets named may be obtained. For example, on the Bowery it is proposed to take 100 feet north of 209.9 north of Broome. There is to be added the triangular block mentioned by Mr. Risse. The dimensions given are not precisely accurate, as no field work has been done on the proposed improvement.

American Art.

The following observations on current American art and artistic opinion were contained in a letter recently received in this city from Mr. Herbert Lespinasse, a young American student now at work in Zurich:

"Your descriptions interest me very much, but I am afraid that in the wealth of polished marble and marble of all colors in the big New York hotels and apartment houses there is a tone of vulgarity—in fact, I feel almost sure of it. As for landscape painting, I believe the American school to be good, for landscape painting adapts itself well to the American character; but as for mural decoration, I think America is far from the standard of a Puvis de Chavannes, and as for painting proper, it will be some time before Americans generally will understand men, like Burne-Jones, Gustave Moreau, Arnold Boecklin, and again, Puvis de Chavannes. There is yet in America too much Vibert, and in the applied arts and architecture always a repetition of French 18th, 17th, 16th or other schools adapted to the American atmosphere—nothing individual, nothing like the laudable efforts shown in the work of the Darmstadter Kunstler Colonies, or by Bing in Paris. And then, how ridiculous of Tiffany in his article, to say that Art-Nouveau will not survive, and will not be recognized by the Art World. How does he suppose all the great epochs were formed? Our modern times must have an art adapted to it, and not the tedious reproduction, generally misinterpreted, of what has been done before. Maybe it is the word that bothers him (Art-Nouveau), and as Mr. Charpentier rightly says, 'there is no such a thing'—but now let us call it 'Modern-Art' and Time will give it its proper name."

Bachelor Apartment—Definition.

There was practically no opposition to the amendment of the Building Code to provide a definition for an apartment hotel at the hearing given yesterday by the Council Committee on Law. As was stated last week, it is proposed to insert in Section 10 of the Code a paragraph reading as follows: "An apartment hotel shall be held to mean and include every building or part thereof which shall be intended or designed for or used as the home or residence of families, bachelors or others, whether occupying single rooms or rooms arranged in suites, but without separate dining-rooms and kitchens, provided such building shall contain a general dining-room for the use of the residents in common, and shall contain more than fifteen sleeping rooms above the first story."

Chairman Hottenroth said the amendment was drafted by Charles Buek, and Wm. J. Fryer took occasion to say that Mr. Buek had done a great deal of patient and valuable work when the Building Code was being prepared that entitled him to the gratitude of the building trades. This work consisted of from time to time examining propositions, and when the tentative code was ready, of going over it carefully and suggesting alterations and additions.

Mr. Buek said the amendment before the Committee was prepared after taking legal advice and considering the opinions of others. It was drafted with the idea that a bachelor apartment house should be be fireproof the same as a hotel.

Mr. Fryer suggested verbal changes in the Code to provide uniformity of reading.

Other speakers were Judson Lawson, Vice-President of the Builders' League; Lawrence Veiller and Charles H. Israels. The last-named gentleman thought there ought to be a definition for bachelor apartments that had no dining-rooms or kitchen, and promised to let the committee have an amendment he had prepared covering that case.

A True Warning.

In buying a piano for the early tuition of young children, most parents have the idea that a cheap instrument is good enough for the purpose.

Later, when the child arrives at a higher stage of proficiency, the parent invariably finds it necessary to buy a first-class instrument.

This idea, although it may have the support of some teachers, is a grave mistake, and whenever practised is done so at the expense of the scholar's hearing.

The scholar's future success depends entirely upon the delicate quality of his hearing or "ear for music," which should be educated by every known means from the very start.

Students who do not take this quality into consideration had better not think of learning to play any musical instrument at all.

The volume and purity of tone in a first-class piano only will afford the proper training to a sensitive, musical ear, and the "SOHMER" stands at the head of all first-class pianos. Professionals recommend it as the best.

Legal Decisions.

Nuisances—Stepping-stone or carriage-block at curb in front of dwelling house. A stepping-stone at the curb in front of a dwelling house, where the sidewalk is sufficiently wide not to be materially interfered with, is not a nuisance, but its maintenance constitutes a reasonable and necessary use of the street by the owner of the premises; and a party falling over the stone, while hurrying in the night time to cross the street, cannot maintain an action against the owner for his injuries. (Robert v. Powell, Court of Appeals, Nov. 12, 1901. N. Y. Law Journal, Nov. 23, 1901, 168 N. Y., 411.)

The formal and ceremonious commencement of the Atlantic av improvement is a circumstance to be noted as bearing on the fortunes of the realty market of this borough. The silver spade and wheelbarrow that were used in the ceremony cannot too soon be succeeded by the iron ones of everyday use; or the flowery speeches be followed too soon by the shoutings of the section bosses to their gangs. The condition of Atlantic av has been an eyesore and a grievance for years, and the actual commencement of the work of its improvement cannot fail to give satisfaction. The plan now to be executed provides for a tunnel from Flatbush and Atlantic avs to Bedford av, from which point the tracks will be elevated as far as Howard av. Again going into a tunnel extending to Manhattan Beach crossing, the tracks emerge and will be laid on an elevated steel viaduct reaching to the further boundaries of the old 26th Ward. The cost as estimated in 1897, is placed at $2,500,000. Of this amount the city is to pay one-half and the Long Island R. R. Co. the remainder, provided that, in the event of the cost exceeding this estimate, the city's share of the burden shall not exceed $1,250,000. All cost for change in motive power to electricity and for new rolling stock devolves upon the railroad.

Henry A. Meyer has sold to Wood, Harmon & Co. ninety acres of land in the 32d Ward, having its centre at Utica av and Av N. The purchase price was about $1,500 an acre, making the total consideration $135,000. This tract covers three farms, one of forty-eight acres, formerly belonging to Garrett Williamson, and two of thirty-two acres, belonging to William and John Williamson. The significance of this transaction lies in the fact that at Utica av and Av N the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company has under way the building of a very large central station, from which about a dozen lines of cars will run to all parts of the city, and that it lies just west of Lincoln Park, recently opened and developed. It is expected that Wood, Harmon & Co. will improve the new purchase and place it on the market in the spring.

The World of Building

Material Market.

Copper.—It was claimed Thursday that the surplus copper stock of the Amalgamated Co., and that of its selling agent, the United Metals Selling Co., had been greatly reduced. The Metals Selling Co. is said to have disposed of the greater part of its excess supplies, and that the product of the Anaconda, Boston and Montana, and other Amalgamated properties, have also been reduced by recent sales and curtailed production. The copper combine is, however, still carrying a large amount of copper, though much less than it was two months ago. The market is still in a very unsettled condition. The spot quotations given out are entirely nominal, at 16½@17c. for Lake, 16⅝@16⅝c. for electrolytic, and 16c. for casting, though it is understood that some brands of the latter are procurable at a cent from this figure. London reported renewed weakness yesterday.

Lumber.—Trade goes on under about the same conditions as those noted in our last issue. The Eastern spruce market is in a strong position, with a fair amount of arrivals. State spruce is particularly strong. Indications are that the market will be in a steady condition during the balance of the season, and that there will be a still further advance in values. Yellow pine for construction work continues to be called for quite heavily, but the yard demand is only fair. Prices are stiff. Hemlock continues on a $14.50 basis, $15 being asked and easily procured on some sizes, and there is every indication that prices will very shortly be advanced. Among hardwoods poplar is steady and in fair demand at unchanged prices; ash is in good demand, with stocks low; chestnut continues in fair demand, and prices are firm. In North Carolina pine the conditions at present are very satisfactory. Cypress continues in good demand, and maintains its usual strong position. The outlook in the hardwood market is very good. The demands of the furniture manufacturers are large, and there seems to be every indication that the coming year will be much better than the present one.

The condition of the lumber trade at the time of taking the census last year is shown by a bulletin issued this week by S. N. D. North, Chief Statistician for Manufactories. It gives the following statistics:

*Decrease. †Including custom work and repairs.

Lath.—Arrivals have continued small, and, with a moderate demand, prices have been maintained at $3.50 for Eastern spruce.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—There is a fair demand for common building brick, which are selling at $5.75@$6.25. Pale brick are quoted at $3.50@$3.75, and hollow brick at $6.00@$7.00. There is a fair business doing in lime at unchanged values. The demand for Rosendale and Portland cements has been moderately active, and prices have been unchanged.

Nails.—The demand for wire nails continues fair, with orders largely confined to small lots. Lower prices are reported as being made by outside mills. The influence of this competition is naturally in the direction of lower prices, but the market is steadied to a degree by the strength in rods and billets, which justifies the maintenance of the price of wire products at a point not very much below the present level. It is difficult to quote a price which represents the market as a whole, as quotations vary considerably, according to the special circumstance of the case. The local market is represented in a general way by the following prices: Small lots from store, $2.35 to $2.40; carloads on dock, $2.25. The near approach of prices of wire nails to those of cut nails is causing a falling-off in the demand for the latter. Representatives of mills are adhering to the price of $2.25 for nails from store. Jobbers are asking the same price generally, but in some cases are selling 2 cents below these figures. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Plumbers' Supplies.—The corner in spot and November pig tin, mentioned in our last report, is over, and prices are settling back to normal figures; the closing Friday was at 24.50c. to 24.75c. Pig lead is dull, and prices are without change. American pig in small lots is quoted at 4.55c. to 4.60c. per lb. The market for spelter is quiet and steady. Western brands in small lots are quoted at 4.55c to 4.60c. per lb. It is said that at the present time the production does not equal demand, and higher prices are looked for. The market for tin plates is without change of any sort. Deliveries are still hardly up to the measure of requirements, although the latter are limited. The American Tin Plate Co. are selling only for the first quarter of next year. A further decline of 3 pence per box in the price of Welsh plates was reported this week. There is no change in the general condition of sheet copper. The demand is of good proportions, and prices remain firm on the basis of 21c. per lb. for sheet copper from store. Heavy contracts are being placed for both black and galvanized sheets for delivery next year, prices to be the same as those in force by the leading sheet interest at the time deliveries are made on these contracts. Three or four new sheet plants are just about ready to start, and are soliciting business for next year. The mills are still unable to make deliveries as promptly as required. Prices on black sheets are slightly easier, No. 27 common being quoted in small lots at about 4.05c. A heavy demand for galvanized sheets is noted. The market is firm at 65 per cent. to 67½ per cent. off the list.

Paints and Colors.—Conditions are practically unchanged from those reported last week. The volume of business for the season has been more than satisfactory, though the past few days have shown a decided falling-off in some lines. Business during the interval since our last report of the white lead market has been quiet, the unsettled weather having in a measure checked consumption. Then, again, many of the grinders have shut down for the usual December cleaning-up and stock-taking. The local demand for mixed paints and colors in oil has fallen off considerably, as the weather has been unfavorable for outdoor work. It is reported that the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. have obtained a controlling interest in the stock of the newly-organized H. W. Johns Paint Manufacturing Co. It is said that the offices of the company will be removed to the building occupied by the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co., 60-72 Vandam st, this city.

Linseed Oil.—There has been few who did not believe the price of linseed oil would recede from the comparatively high figures which had prevailed, and the decline announced last week did not, therefore, cause surprise, although the recession, it was believed, would be gradual. The direct cause for the drop in oil is, of course, the lower market price of flaxseed in Chicago. The indications point to a probable lower range for seed, and naturally the market value of oil will follow that of seed. There has been little, if any, change in the linseed oil market the past few days. Resales are still being made at 40@50c. as to quantity, but crushers do not seem to be inclined to meet such competition, and maintain their prices on the basis quoted in our market reports.

Glass.—Since the placing of a contract for 500,000 boxes by the jobbers with the manufacturers, there have been no unusual features in the market. The price of window glass having been reduced, a greater demand is expected, but so far has not yet materialized. At the corresponding time last year the market was far brighter, because usually jobbing and consuming demands are active as soon as the glass plants start. Foreign competition is limited to the smaller sizes of window glass. Plate glass is moderately lively. Though the outcome of affairs abroad, which influenced the change of prices in this market, is by no means certain, it might lead to a change at some unexpected moment. At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. this week the capital stock was increased from $10,500,000 to $12,500,000. The increased capital is to be used to extend the stock-house system of the company in different parts of the country.

Business in Good Shape.

The news of our fire on the night of 28th ult. having been widely disseminated by the Associated Press, it may interest our friends to learn that while our Tenth st offices, warehouse and cedar mill were destroyed, only one branch of our business —cigar-box cedar—is affected thereby. Our mahogany and hardwood lumber yards, and a large reserve stock of mahogany veneers, which we at all times carry, being located at another point, deliveries are not interrupted and business is proceeding as usual. While the fire was at its height, General E. A. McAlpin generously placed at our disposal a suite of offices in the large warehouse of D. H. McAlpin & Co., corner Ave. D and East 10th st—a few doors from our old offices, where we shall be pleased to welcome our friends. We have also been fortunate in securing from Messrs. D. H. McAlpin & Co. their 5-sty warehouse corner Ave D and East 11th st, with its fine power equipment, which we shall use as a cedar plant and veneer warehouse during the rebuilding of our own premises. Our loss is covered by insurance: we shall rebuild at once.

A 15-sty steel framework for the new building on the northeast corner of William and Cedar sts, was completed in twenty-six days' work. This is a record performance.

The San Francisco "Chronicle" says that a large combination of the redwood lumbermen of the Pacific Coast is forming. It is proposed to employ a selling agent to represent all those in the combine. The intention is to exploit the East and Europe for the redwood lumber trade.

Carter, Black & Ayers, of 1 Madison avenue, are now sales agents for the manufacturers formerly represented by the late firm of Meeker, Carter & Booraem, and they are prepared to submit samples and prices on all kinds of front and enameled bricks, architectural terra cotta, etc.

Saturday was a bare day in the Building Department of Manhattan and the Bronx, not a single plan, not even for an alteration having been filed. This is a record-breaker of the most undesirable kind. It did happen that the day the Department opened in 1892, no plans were filed, but the circumstances are not comparable.

L. A. Liebeskind, the builder, has just completed extensive alterations to No. 41 West 19th st, making it suitable for restaurant and cafe purposes, with a roof garden on the third floor extension. The fourth and fifth floors have been arranged for bachelor apartments, the premises are now ready, and will be let on long lease at moderate rent.

Thompson, Coady & Co. is the name of a new firm of contractors for heating and ventilating apparatus, with offices and shop at 139 West 24th street. Both are experienced in the business and Mr. Thompson personally supervised the installation of the plants in the new Broad Exchange Building, and Importers' and Traders' Building, both erected by the Geo. A. Fuller Co.

The following bids were received by the Fire Department on Wednesday for new repair shops, to be located at 12th av and 56th st; Louis Wechsler, $295,000; Thomas B. Lahey, $297,000; Alfred Nugent & Son, $249,700; John T. Cockerill, for T. Cockerill & Son, $234,900; John R. Sheehan & Co., $247,000. All of these bids being in excess of the amount appropriated, $200,000, for the building of the structure, the bids were rejected.

THE MASONS AND THE FIREPROOFERS.

Nothing has been heard for some time regarding the difference between the mason builders and the makers of the patent fireproof floors and partitions, over the attempt of the former to control the fireproofing contracts through their agreement with the bricklayers. But it does not appear that the latter are taking the decrees of the masons as those of Allah. On the contrary, there are indications that they are carrying the war into the enemy's country by bidding on the mason work as well as the fireproofing. Sometimes this is done with success. For instance, one of the companies manufacturing a fireproof specialty are executing the mason contract on the Collingwood, on West 35th st, and have another contract for the same work on a new apartment hotel that is to be erected on 43d st.

FIREPROOFING IN HIGH BUILDINGS.

A sensation is being made of exemptions from fireproof construction having been granted by the Department of Buildings in the plans for the office buildings at Broadway and Maiden lane, and at Broadway and 23d st, and an investigation, with a view to legal action, has been set on foot by a number of builders and architects. It is also claimed that a similar exemption was made in another building last year, but so far action is taken only in reference to those named. In the buildings in question, ordinary wood is being used where metal or fireproof material are required by the building code, and the investigation being made has shown that the Building Department has assumed to grant permission for this violation of the code. In an interview to the newspapers, A. S. Gilbert, of the law firm of Gilbert & Mayer, which has been retained to make the investigation, discusses the action of the Building Department as follows:

"The Board of Buildings has no right to grant such exemptions, and they plainly exceeded their authority in doing so. The only power that the Board of Buildings has in the Borough of Manhattan and the Bronx is defined in Section 105 of the Building Code. This section provides that the Commissioner of Buildings shall be empowered, with the approval of the board, to vary or modify any rule, law, or ordinance relating to buildings, only in case there are practical difficulties in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the law, so that the spirit of the law shall be observed and public safety, security and substantial justice done. Neither in the papers filed in the Building Department, nor, as a matter of fact, has it any time been shown that there are such practical difficulties in the way of complying with the building laws on the structures referred to Section 105 was enacted for the purpose of using every possible precaution against and in the event of fire, and these exemptions allow the use of ordinary wood where either metal or fireproof material should have been used. These builders have practically set aside certain provisions of the building laws."

Owner of a piece of property, for which he was asking $30,000, was called upon by a broker, and broker obtains written authorization to sell at that figure. Shortly afterward, broker offers owner $25,000 in behalf of purchaser. Owner declares that he will not sell at anything less than $26,000, and, moreover, will not hold that open for any great length of time, agreeing to take thirty per cent. cash and seventy per cent. on bond and mortgage at five per cent. This happened upon a Saturday. Broker sees purchaser, who authorizes him to buy property on terms stated by owner. Sunday having intervened, broker calls upon owner Monday morning, but before broker has a chance to speak, owner says that he will not sell the property, although broker has a party who is ready to take the property upon the terms specified to broker by owner. Broker called upon owner unaccompanied by purchaser, although he was absolutely in a position to produce him. Is broker accordingly entitled to his commission?

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

November 29, 30, December 2, 3, 4 and 5.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

Lien filed against my property by E Freeman, Dec. 3d, is unjust, as he abandoned the work and was served with a three days' notice, and paid no attention to it. Contract was awarded to another painter and he is finishing the work. I will take steps to vacate same.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXVIII. DECEMBER 14, 1901. No. 1761

OF the very many causes given for the break in stock market prices there is only one worth considering, and that is that prices were too high for intrinsic merits. For the same reason it may be expected that they will go still lower, as the bubble of foolish theories of combinations and increased profits burst one by one. It does not follow from this that there may not be a sharp advance any day; such a thing may occur, but it will only be a temporary reaction, and the downward movement will reassert itself whenever the support that comes from overzeal in short selling is exhausted. The market is in a process of righting itself from the inflation into which it was forced by the tremendous buying movement of last spring, and this process may take a year or so to complete itself. Meantime, there will be intervals that will recall bullish times, but all the while prices will be seeking the level of real values, and may eventualy go below them. It would have been unlike ourselves not to have done more than we should have done because times were good, and our having put highly speculative values on everything so that nothing could stand the strain of an unfavorable circumstance,—such as dear money just now—is not without precedent. The situation of the moment puts us in the same boat with Europe, though not by the same means; there money is scarce and dear because business is bad and a great many weak-kneed concerns need propping; here the same condition as to money prevails, because we are prosperous and there is a demand for funds from all sides. This suggests the necessity of an adjustment of ventures to means that must now be contemplated.

THE official disclosure of Pennsylvania's plans for entering Manhattan are received with somehing more than satisfaction in that borough itself, and the plea of President Cassatt for fair treatment by the city authorities will surely receive generous response. The announcement does several things besides telling us what the Pennsylvania Railroad propose to do. For instance, as it is proposed to operate between Long Island City and Jersey City through tunnels, by electricity, it shows, if the experience of Baltimore has not already done so, that Central Depot talk about the impossibility of employing electricity as a motive power in the Park avenue tunnel is all fudge and subterfuge. Most likely now, having this great competitor at its doors, the Central will find a way of doing what it has until now said could not be done, and that all the pressure of agitating property owners and local authorities could not induce it to do. The announcement also puts to rest whatever hopes or fears there were of a North River bridge and releases from the ban of "approved routes" a great deal of property that has suffered for a good many years from being included in one, especially. The plan filed by the Pennsylvania with the County Clerk shows the main station laid out under the three blocks bounded by Seventh and Tenth avenues and Thirty-first and Thirty-third streets; the block bounded by Seventh and Eighth avenues, Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets, and the easterly one hundred feet (about) of the block bounded by Eighth and Ninth avenues, Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets. In all four blocks and one hundred feet of a fifth. Communication with Long Island is to be had by three several lines running west from seventh avenue under Thirty-first, Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets to the East River; and with New Jersey by two several lines running from Tenth avenue under Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets to the Hudson River. No intermediate stations are indicated on the plan. It is to be hoped that the newcomer will appreciate the fact that an entrance into Manhattan is a very valuable privilege, and also that the authorities and property owners there will bear in mind that they will reap immense, direct and indirect, advantages through the presence of the only possible competitor to those interests that have boasted for so many years that they owned the only railroad entrance into the center of the country's business.

The Promise of Better Things.

LET there be no mistake about it. The outlook for a period of sustained and heightened activity in the real estate and building market of this city is extremely promising. General and local conditions are both propitious. During the past few years business throughout the country has been large and remunerative to an extent rarely equaled in American industrial history; but, partly because of certain depressing local conditions, and partly because real estate is always the branch of business last to feel the impulse of general prosperity, the New York realty market has not felt any effect from the good times, commensurate with the expansion along other lines. But now the depressing local conditions are being, to some extent, removed. Taxes promise to be a little less burdensome next year, and if the reform administration fulfils its promise, lighter still the year following. The renting of almost all classes of property is in a better way than for years past. Rents are higher and are more easily collected. There is a general interest in real estate operations among the many shrewd capitalists, who are more than ever gathering to the city from all parts of the country. The stock market has had its boom, and is now feeling the reaction; but prices of stocks and bonds are still so high that real estate speculation and investment offers, in comparison, many attractions. But most important of all, there is a prevailing feeling of confidence and hope, a prevailing readiness to undertake large enterprises, a prevailing expectation of higher prices and more substantial returns, which will add the necessary spark to the whole combustible mass.

The activity in real estate which is promised will be, however, subject to conditions, and will assume forms widely different from those to which we have been accustomed in the past. The present activity in real estate is undoubtedly prompted chiefly by the dawning consciousness of what the effect will be upon real property of the enormous growth of the consolidated city in population and trade—particularly when the full fruits of this growth are gathered by an adequate system of inter-borough communication. The Record and Guide has frequently been inclined to doubt whether in face of the increased taxes, which consolidation brought upon Manhattan, consolidation was not more of an evil than a benefit to the "predominant partner" in the union, but in the light of present tendencies and prospects, such doubts are shown to be unnecessary. The promised activity in real estate is the outcome of the full realization and completion of consolidation—of the prospective union of at least four of the boroughs, not merely on paper, but by tunnels and bridges. The Subway will make the Bronx really a part of Manhattan; the three new bridges and two tunnels will do away with the East River between Long Island and Manhattan, while the Pennsylvania tunnel under the North River will tighten the relations between New York and the numerous inhabitants of Hudson and Essex counties in New Jersey; and the point to be kept in mind is that these tunnels and bridges will not merely stimulate the industrial progress of Manhattan by assisting the wage-earners of New York to better and cheaper homes, but they will have an enormous reactive effect upon business itself. The stores, theatres and restaurants will have more customers, and there will be a general quickening of action and purpose throughout the whole city. A reciprocal process at once of concentration in business and distribution of population will set in, and Manhattan will be benefited by both processes. The whole economic and domestic organization of the city will be raised to a much higher degree of convenience and efficiency. The effect of these positively stimulating forces cannot be over-estimated. The trade, industry and growth of Manhattan have been suffering for years, and are still suffering, from insufficient space in which to spread; and when the bars are finally let down, and the impulse of expansion given full play, things will go with a rush.

But just as the conditions of this activity are different, so the forms that it will take are different. Just as its range and location are determined, in large measure, by public improvements, so the advantages of it will be reaped by expert speculators and investors, who have foreseen these results, and arranged to take advantage of them. In New York real estate money is no longer made by people who sit still and wait for the growth of the city to increase the value of their property. It is made rather by people who understand current tendencies, who know where to buy and how to improve, and who have an abundance of capital to back their projects. At one time almost every New Yorker, with a little money was, in his way, a real estate speculator; now speculation requires expert knowledge and abundant means. The consequence is that although the effects of the coming improvements in inter-borough transit are not yet actually felt, operators are discounting the promise of the next five years. They are accumulating property in the regions most likely to be affected; and they are providing the facilities for more business. When one looks at the course of the past year's operations en masse one sees what is really a gigantic speculation, which has for its field the whole circumference of high-priced realty in New York City, and in which one finds participating the names which represent most of the large financial interests in the city; and the important facts to be remembered about this speculation are that it is being conducted by experts, who know what they are about and is financed by people who can command as much capital as they need. Moreover, it is now only in its first stages. During the next five years it will begin to build up new residence districts on Washington Heights and in the Bronx; and it will transform and reconstruct the central parts of the city. And this work will be performed systematically and thoroughly, with a complete knowledge of the needs of the city and the likes of its inhabitants. It will be an organized speculation, carried on largely by corporations, and in which the small investor will finally participate by the purchase of shares in those corporations. New York is not the largest city in the world; but it is adding every year a larger number of people to its population, and a larger amount of business to its workshops and offices, than any other city here and abroad; and if the present tendencies continue, it will be the best organized and equipped city in the world to carry out the stupendous co-operative projects of future trade and industry.

"I 'D LEAVE my happy home for you," seems to be the spirit in which all public appointments are accepted nowadays, and Robert W. De Forest, the Tenement House Commissioner-Select is no exception to the rule. Still, from the standpoint of avowed tenement reform, his is an ideal appointment, and the outline he gives of his official policy may make it a good one also for builders and owners who, though tenement reformers too, do not claim to be so on such altruistic grounds as others. We use the word "may" because, though Mr. De Forest says, and we believe honestly, that he is perfectly open-minded about any amendments to the Tenement House Law, we cannot imagine him coming quite up to the requirements as to amendments, that those who differ with him on the tenement house question think necessary. In his statements he says: "I shall welcome a conference with all fair-minded men who have definite and precise amendments to suggest and good reasons to give, why these amendments should be adopted. In dealing with such questions all interests should be carefully considered; the man who by thrift has become the owner of a small tenement in which perhaps he lives himself, and rents the other apartments, is entitled to consideration as well as his tenants." It must not be supposed by this that any of the main requirements of the law are to be abandoned, but simply, as we read it, that there may be some easing of them in one way or another that will prevent them falling too harshly in certain cases. As a matter of fact, we do not see how the Commissioner will be able to do any more without stultifying himself and the work he is appointed to do. Notwithstanding what he has said the Tenement House Department will still be the department of tenement house "reform." Mr. Low's aphorism "the extreme of the law is the extreme of injustice" could not be better applied than to the Tenement House Law, though its use in that connection must surprise those who are acquainted with the spirit in which the law was framed and passed. This spirit is expressed best by the following extract from the Act: "The word shall is always mandatory, and not directory, and denotes that the house shall be maintained in all respects according to the mandate, so long as it continues to be a tenement house." However, if the framers of the law have added to their knowledge during the past year and, still more, if they are willing to admit it, the facts show an openness and liberality of mind that ought, at least, to encourage an attempt to reach an agreement on the subject of the amendment of the law. Any proposed amendments are much likelier to receive favorable action by the Legislature when endorsed by the Commissioner than when not, and this it is important to bear in mind. Whether a complete agreement can ever be reached regarding this law, or it can be put into such a shape that it will undo the mischief it has already done, we very much doubt. The views of the two sides are too far apart we fear. The attractions in building barrack-tenements are not yet great enough to invite much capital into that field, and we do not imagine the Tenement Commission will let down the bars raised against the 25-ft. front tenement. As to the requirements for the old tenements nothing is said except that the smaller owner is entitled to some consideration. A mere discrimination of that kind will not meet the case, nor would it be possible. If the requirements are bad in principle for the small owner they are equally so far the large one, and any attempt to differentiate between such owners would be impossible. None the less we advise those who have practical objections to the law and suggestions for their removal, to accept the invitation Mr. De Forest makes them; there can be no possible harm in a discussion of differences; much good may come from it.

AS to the Deputy Tenement House Commissioners.—Everyone has been saying that if the chairman of the late Tenement House Commission became the head of the new Tenement House Department, the secretary of that commission would naturally be one of his deputies. His appointment is as logical as that of his chief, and undoubtedly Mr. Lawrence Veiller's experience and ability ought to make him a valuable member of the department, especially in the exercise of those provisions of the law which will enable the officers of the department to restrain the lavish dirtiness and reckless destructiveness of the tenementers of the lower sort. We hope for great things in this respect from the continuous presence of the department's inspector in the tenements and, indeed, they ought to realize for us what we have long predicted, that their being there will do more to remove the worst evils of the tenements, which are those arising from the foul habits of the generality of their occupants, than anything else can do. Further, though we have had no conversation with him on the subject, we do not think that Mr. Veiller will look upon his new work as a sacrifice of his time and abilities; judging from his past we rather think that he will regard his appointment in the order of natural selection, and the home he is going to as happy as that he is leaving. He has our heartiest wishes for his success. Mr. Wesley C. Bush, the other deputy, ranking with Mr. Veiller, is too well known to our readers to need introduction. The new department is fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. Bush, not only because it has yet to be organized, and Mr. Bush has already organized a kindred department, that of buildings in the old city of Brooklyn, but also because Mr. Bush is acquainted with the tenement question from another point of view to that of his chief and his deputy—the point of view of the builder and the owner of tenements. We understand that Mr. Bush will have charge of the work of organizing and operating the Brooklyn division of the department, and will practically be the tenement commissioner for that borough; but we presume that he will, at the same time, be consulted in matters of general policy, and so help to round out the judgment of the department. To his success we look forward with perfect confidence.

IN another column attention is called to the fact that the period of real estate and building activity, which is promised for New York City, has been determined largely by the improvements in inter-borough communication, which are now well under way, and as real estate and building activity is vitally connected with material progress and prosperity of New York, the full implications of this fact should be well considered by the incoming administration. It means that New York has reached a stage in its growth, in which prompt and far-seeing action on the part of the city's rulers is a necessary condition of private industrial, commercial and constructional expansion. Hitherto, public improvements have continually lagged behind popular needs; and the consequence is that when such improvements came, they did no more than meet a pressing necessity. They did not anticipate future growth and make adequate provision against it. But for the coming day and generation these laggard methods will not serve. If desirable public improvements do not merely keep abreast of popular necessities but run ahead of them, the consequences will be more than ever disastrous. When the population of a city is increasing only at the rate of 50,000 or 60,000 a year, public authorities can procrastinate about municipal betterments without any disastrous consequences; but the consequences of procrastination when a city is increasing its population at the rate of 120,000 a year may be seen on the Brooklyn Bridge every day at six o'clock. That sort of thing will no longer do; and the incoming administration will be badly advised in case it follows the advice of the new Comptroller, Mr. Grout, and does no more than complete projects that are already begun. After careful consideration it should lay down a systematic and comprehensive scheme of improvements of all kinds; and it should then make adequate provision for the carrying out of those plans. Furthermore, in any such comprehensive plan of municipal improvements, money should be appropriated, not only for projects necessary to popular convenience and well-being, but also for projects like the new Public Library, which will make New York a city of some comeliness and distinction. For New Yorkers want to be proud of their city, as the best type of contemporary American standards of taste, as well as of the best American standards of political reform and industrial efficiency. If the new administration places itself at the head of this progressive movement all along the line, if it stimulates private, aesthetic, civic and commercial enterprise by the inception of important and excellent public works, it will help to perpetuate the power of the reform party, and to make New York City the real American metropolis.

The Real Estate Situation

Building on Lower Wall St.

An evening paper recently tried to prove that "sky-scrapers" might diminish in popularity hereafter, because the Speyers will be content with a four-story building on Pine street, and because the profits from existing buildings are apparently unattractive. But unattractive as these profits may be, it is astonishing how eager capitalists are to secure them. Somehow it seems useless to prove a particular business enterprise is not worth while, when many people are ready to undertake. The year 1901 already holds the record for the number of sky-scrapers actually begun; and if it has any single competitor it will be the year 1902. The plans already announced include a new Boreel Building, an extension to the Manhattan Life, an exceptionally large one for the Bank of the State of New York, and a twelve-story structure on Pine street. Then an announcement has been made during the present week, which suggests the possibility of several more improvements. The purchase of the southeast corner of Wall and Pearl streets by W. K. Aston for the Tontine Co. has a peculiar importance, in that a new twelve-story building is to be erected on the site, which is in a neighborhood in which three similar buildings are now going up. Mr. Aston has always held that property east of Pearl street was not worth buying, but he has found by experience, that the business interests located east of Pearl street are just as anxious to secure quarters in a modern building as are those further west on Wall street. Of the building now under construction at the northwest corner of Wall and Water streets, on the site of the old Tontine coffee house, about one half has already been rented from the plans, and applications are already in for nearly all the balance. The ground and second floors have been nearly all taken by New England transportation companies, the rest of the tenants being coffee and sugar houses, now occupying old buildings. The rents rang from $1.65 to $1.75 per square foot. Judging from these facts it seems more than likely that another year will see a large building movement inaugurated in this section. In fact, it would not be surprising to see it extend both north and south as there is scarcely a new or modern building in the whole business section, along or near the river front.

Real Estate Aspects of the Pennsylvania Plans.

The announcement that the Pennsylvania and Long Island Railroad companies are prepared to build a tunnel through Manhattan to Queens is the revelation of a plan second only in importance to that of the new Subway. Its effect upon real estate in Manhattan and Queens will be incalculably great and far-reaching. It is the additional step which was necessary to release Manhattan Island from effects of its insular situation, so that in the future the metropolitan district, both in New York and New Jersey, while it has the benefit of the water front, will no longer be hampered by lack of land communication. From every direction through tunnels and over bridges, the lines of rails will converge upon Manhattan Island, and will make it the most hugely concentrated collection of the machinery for human action and diversion in the world.

The selection of the vicinity of 7th avenue and 33d street for the main station will definitely establish Herald Square as the most central point in the city, and will prepare the way for changes of the utmost importance from as far south as 23d to as far north as 59th street, from as far west as 9th avenue to as fareast as 4th avenue. Roughly speaking, the whole district within those lines will receive currents of direct influence from the new tunnel. In the first place 7th and 8th avenues, especially the former, up to 59th street, will be much benefited—particularly as it is extremely probable that some of the other roads terminating in Jersey City will be stimulated or forced to build tunnels with stations somewhere along the same line. In the second place the neighborhood to the west of Herald Square should immediately jump into prominence as a hotel section—for the tentative plans of the Pennsylvania Road include a station hotel. In the third place the whole district will become much more available for retail trade than ever before. In general it may be said that the station is more likely to be used by through passengers and by commuters in order to reach town for shopping and amusement purposes, than by commuters, who come in daily on business. The latter would not find it convenient to get to the City Hall via the line of the 33d street tunnel and the Subway; and if this is so, its effect upon the locality will be to intensify tendencies already in existence, which are making the district between 30th and 50th streets the established playground of people who are seeking rather to spend than to make money.

But, as already pointed out, the new influence which the tunnel and station will have upon real estate will be to open up the neighborhood west of Broadway and 6th avenue. It will convert a section which was steadily deteriorating, which will just as steadily advance. In the eight blocks on which the station will be built, prices have in some instances jumped up $15,000 a lot, but the fact that the railroad company will have the power of condemnation in reserve will help hereafter to keep prices within reasonable bounds. The Stuyvesant Real Estate Company has announced the purchase of eight additional parcels this week; but operations are not confined to that corporation. As was inevitable the speculators are already gathering to the feast, and have helped considerably to bid up prices. They have made a number of purchases in 32d and 33d streets, which have not yet been made public. Among the names of operators who already have property under contract may be mentioned Max Marx and A. M. Bendheim, who have bought thirty parcels, while other operators have bought Nos. 327, 345 and 347 West 31st street, and No. 390 7th avenue.

A New-Law Apartment House.

There is one transaction this week, which is particularly worthy of mention, not for the amount involved, but because it promises to bring about the erection of the first elevator apartment house to go up under the new tenement house law. As is well known the effect of the provision of that law, which forbids the erection of semi-fireproof apartments over six stories high, has been thus far to prohibit the erection of this—until then—very popular class of buildings. Since the middle of April not a plan for such a building has been filed; and the tendency has consequently run strongly in the direction of apartment hotels, which in this respect have an advantage over apartment houses. This week, however, the northwest corner of Lenox avenue and 112th street has been sold to the Globe Realty Co., which has practically resold it to a builder, who will erect on the plot two six-story elevator apartment houses. It is doubtful, however, whether this example will be much followed until there is no longer any hope that the Legislature will not amend the tenement house law, so as to permit the erection of seven-story semi-fireproof apartments. The time will, of course, come when a revival of apartment house building will take place, and the present cessation is a good thing, in so far as it will permit the demand for such accommodation to catch up to the supply; but under existing legal conditions the revival will not take place very quickly—particularly as there is a general expectation that the seven-story apartment house will again be permitted.

FEW more impressive indictments of the management of a railroad company have ever been made than that which the testimony of the residents of the Bronx and Westchester county, at the hearing about the New York and Portchester Railway Company, has been making against the New Haven and Hartford Company. One property owner and commuter after another has emphatically and unequivocably testified that the service of the New Haven Company is inadequate, and that very little attempt is made to improve it. Mr. William Peters, for instance, the Chairman of the Central Tax-payers Alliance Society of the Borough of the Bronx, presented a resolution of that Society, which not only favors the granting of the application of the Portchester Road, but declares that the New Haven Road both refuses to provide adequate facilities itself, and always apposes any attempt to obtain relief by other means. One cannot help wondering how the officials of that road regard the universal dislike of their service and methods on the part of their patrons, which such testimony indicates. Do they believe that they can permanently block all improved facilities, both on their own and on other possible competing lines? The only way to bring their deficiencies home to them is to build additional roads, such as the proposed New York & Portchester line.

AS he did some seven or eight years ago for the old 23d and 24th Wards, then all lying west of the Bronx River, James L. Wells is appealing on behalf of the section lying east of that stream, since incorporated, for the prompt approval of the permanent map, which is already prepared and awaiting approval by the Board of Public Improvements. Mr. Wells very properly points out that until the map is approved, the street lines are not established and, therefore, no building can go on; without improvements, of course, valuations are at a standstill, and the city suffers because it cannot collect more taxes. The map has been before the public for a year or more; it was in course of being approved, one or more sections at a time, when objection was raised to it as a whole. The Board of Public Improvements appointed a committee to consider and report on these objections, but the committee does not report, or consider, as far as we know, and so the matter is tied up and nothing done, which is a great shame, and a thing the Bronx is right in being indignant about.

High-Priced Realty in Manhattan.

We print herewith a list, which has been made as complete as possible, of parcels of Manhattan real estate which have been transferred during the past thirty years at a price of over $50 a square foot. This list is based upon a thorough examination of the files of the Record and Guide. It cannot pretend to include all the cases in which very high prices have been paid for parcels of Manhattan realty, because, particularly in recent years, many parcels which must have been sold at very high prices have had only nominal considerations actually expressed in the deed. In some few cases the prices used have been obtained by the valuation which the revenue stamps disclosed, but this method of reaching the price has been employed only when there was some corroboratory evidence that the prices given were about correct. Where the prices have ranged below $100 per square foot, the list does not pretend to be complete. With parcels of such an order of value certain typical instances only are given. In no important case is the building on the property supposed to contribute materially to the value. The prices practically represent the value of unimproved property, because even, if the old building is still standing, it is the sort of building which in other cases it has been found profitable to tear down. The purchaser, that is, was buying a lot and not a building. The prices paid for the different parcels which make up the new Custom House are all included, although only two of them amount to more than $50 a square foot. In several other instances some lower prices have been added, because they form interesting matters for comparison. In the following analysis the list is examined from several different points of view: (1) as to the distribution of those very expensive parcels; (2) as to the relation between the size of the parcel and the price obtained; (3) as to the date on which the price was obtained and the evidence which the list afforded of an increase in the values of the most expensive grade of Manhattan real estate.

In the first place, it may be remarked that in three cases only has the price paid for real estate in Manhattan exceeded $300 per square foot. Two of these cases were corners of Wall and Broad sts, and the purchasers of both of them were the owners of abutting property, for whom the corner possessed an altogether exceptional value. It should be added that in neither of these cases did the area of the parcel amount to 750 square feet. The third case is the northwest corner of Broadway and 34th st. In this instance the size of the parcel was a little over 1,000 square feet, and the purchaser, not the owner of abutting property, but a trade competitor of the owner of abutting property. The parcel would never have been worth as much as $320 a square foot to R. H. Macy & Co. In only one recorded case has a piece of real property in Manhattan sold for somewhere between $250 and $300 a square foot. In 1884 M. Wilkes the purchaser of one of the corners above mentioned, paid $280 a square foot for a little over 1,000 square feet at No. 15 Wall st. Here again the size of the parcel is very small and its value to the purchaser exceptional. There are seven recorded cases in which real property in New York brought between $200 and $250 a square foot. Three of these are situated on Broadway, one on Broad st, two of them corners of Nassau and Pine sts and one Nassau and Liberty. There are twelve recorded cases in which parcels of real property have brought between $150 and $200 a square foot, of which eight are Broadway corners, two are on Wall st and one on Park row. Finally, there are forty-three recorded instances in which real property in New York has sold at prices ranging from $100 to $150 a square foot. Of these ten were Broadway corners and eight interior Broadway lots, four on Liberty st, including two corners of Nassau; five on Wall st, three on William, three on Sixth av, two on Park row, two on Broad st and one each on Pine st and Exchange pl. Of the twenty-one cases in which property sold above $150 a square foot all but six were situated as far up as Maiden lane or south thereof, and all but three were situated on Ann st or south of it. Of the three remaining, two were on Broadway at or near 23d st and one on Broadway and 34th st. Of the forty-three instances in which property was sold at prices ranging from $100 to $150 a square foot, thirty were situated on Maiden lane or south of it, three between Maiden lane and Chambers st, two between Chambers and 14th sts, three in the vicinity of 23d st and Broadway or Sixth av, and two in the vicinity of Herald square.

Thus it may be seen that there are four important centres around which very high-priced real estate tends to be grouped. The first and incomparably the most important of these centres is the Stock Exchange. It is the financial importance of New York which has given an extreme value to that part of the city, in which such business is transacted. A subordinate centre down-town is Maiden lane, on which values have a tendency to be higher than on the other cross-town streets, except those in the immediate vicinity of Wall st.

This slightly increased value of Maiden lane property may be explained partly because it is the centre of the jewelry trade, which can afford good rentals for small spaces, and partly because it is a wider street and affords more light. The third centre of very high-priced realty is 23d st—not on the street itself, but on Broadway or 6th av near that street. Finally, the fourth centre of this very high-grade property is Broadway and 34th st. No parcel of New York realty north of 35th st has ever brought over $100 per square foot. No parcel on 5th av, unless it was also situated on Broadway, has ever brought over that figure. There have been two sales of 5th av property at more than $80 a square foot, and three others at more than $70 a square foot, while there have been altogether twenty-four sales of 5th av property at prices between $50 and $84 a square foot. Of the five parcels which brought over $70 a square foot four were used for business purposes and one for residence. Mr. J. B. Haggin can claim the distinction of having paid more per square foot for a lot on which to put a private dwelling than any man in New York, but Elbridge T. Gerry is not so much behind him.

As far as the size of these very high-priced parcels is concerned, we have already pointed out that the three lots which brought more than $300 a square foot were corners with an area of between 500 and 1,000 square feet, and were wanted by the owners of surrounding property or their rivals. The parcel which brought $280 a square foot contained only a little over 1,000 square feet, to be exact, 1,069½. The lot which fetched the next highest price, $250 per square foot, viz.: the northwest corner of Pine and Nassau sts, contained almost 3,000 square feet. It also was purchased by the owner of surrounding property, for whom it may be assumed to possess an exceptional value. In this sale the building probably counted for something. There have been three sales in the vicinity of $225 per square foot. One of these, No. 189 Broadway, contained only 1,543 square feet, and was purchased by the owner of abutting property. The other two, however, were Nassau st corners, of which one contained 2,766 square feet, and the other as much as 6,043 square feet. Neither of these purchases were made by the owners (at that time) of abutting property. Neither of them are exceptionally small parcels, and consequently they may be said to represent a more normal and less exceptional value. This is particularly true of the purchase by the Hanover National Bank of the southwest corner of Nassau and Pine, a plot containing over 6,000 square feet, but rendered exceptionally advantageous in respect to light and air because it is across the way from the Sub-Treasury. Further down the scale it is to be observed that the four parcels which brought from $199 to $211 per square foot contained in each case between 4,000 and 5,000 square feet. Two of these were corners and two interior lots; and perhaps the most remarkable of the four was the price which the Century Building Co. paid for 5,233 square feet at 72-74 Broadway, viz.: $210 per square foot. This was an interior lot, but it had the advantage of running through to New st. The property of the Manhattan Life, contiguous to it, cost from $132 per square foot to $171. It may be further remarked that not one of the plots which fetched from $150 to $200 per square foot contained as much as 6,000 square feet. The average is 4,000 or 5,000 square feet. As an illustration of the advantage of purchasing, if possible, very large parcels, only part of which has to be paid for at the scale of an excessive frontage, that of the Broad Exchange building is one of the best. In 1899 the Central Realty Bond & Trust Co. paid an average of only $57.76 per square foot for the 26,661 square feet upon which the Broad-Exchange Building is erected, while Hallgarten & Co. paid in the same year $114.60 per square foot for the 4,360 square feet diagonally across the way. It will be noticed also that the Broadway Realty Co. paid $102 per square foot for the 29,152 square feet upon which the Bowling Green Building is erected.

The years in which these prices have been made extend from 1872 until the present time. Of the three parcels which sold for more than $300 per square foot, one was bought in 1872 and one in 1884 and one in 1901. Of the eight parcels that sold between $200 and $300 per square foot, one was sold in 1884, one in '95, one in '96, one in '98, one in '99 and the other three in '91. Of the twelve parcels that fetched from $150 to $200 per square foot, one was sold in '82, one in '85, one in '90, two in '92, one in '95, one in '96, one in '97, one in '99 and three in 1901. Of the forty-two parcels that sold at prices ranging from $100 to $150 per square foot, three were in '72, three in '82, one in '84, two in '87, one in '88, one in '91, two in '92, one in '94, three in '95, four in '96, one in '98, two in '99, two in 1900 and ten in 1901. Consequently the period at which these high prices were made corresponds closely with the different periods of speculative activity in New York real estate. There was a big boom in 1872, another in 1882, another around 1890, fairly continuous activity between '91 and 1900, and the greatest activity of all in 1901. It is to be observed that all the prices over $100 per square feet which have been paid for property north of Reade st were made since 1899, and for the most part in 1901. Finally, the figures show plainly that the invention of steel construction, together with the increased business of the city which filled the offices, has added anywhere from 50 to 100 per cent. to the value of down-town property available for such improvement. The northeast corner of Broadway and Maiden lane brought $131 per square foot in 1872 and $196 in 1897, while in 1901 a parcel four times as large, at the southeast corner of Broadway and Maiden lane, brought $211 per square foot. As another and final instance, it will be noticed that whereas in 1883 the corner of Broadway and Exchange place brought only $52 a square foot, the Manhattan Life paid from $132 to $171 per square foot for interior lots a little further north, and the Century Building Co. $210 for a parcel in a similar situation.

The parcels which have sold at figures ranging from $50 to $100 per square foot have not been analyzed as closely as those above that figure, because in respect to those sales the table does not pretend to be complete. Purchases within this range have taken place frequently along the whole length of Broadway as far north as 42d st, on a number of the down-town streets that run off Broadway or parallel to it, on all parts of 5th av as far north as 68th st, on 14th, 23d and 34th sts, and in at least one instance on Madison ave. But we refrain from detailed comments until the table is as complete in this as it is in other respects.

The Grand Boulevard and Concourse.

The opening of bids for the grading and paving of the Grand Boulevard and Concourse in the Bronx has been prevented by the issuing of an injunction by Justice Beach, upon the application of Jacob W. Mack, a taxpayer. Thus there is another delay in making this great improvement useful to the citizens and remunerative to the city. In this connection it should be mentioned that President of the Borough of Brooklyn and Comptroller-elect Grout claimed that the assessment made for this improvement is illegal, inasmuch as that section 413 of the Charter was violated in that when the resolution imposing the assessment was passed, no statement of the assessed valuation of the property was presented.

of Huston's lien; and a motion was then made before the trustee in bankruptcy by Phillips & Avery, attorneys for the subcontractors and lienors, for an order directing the trustee in bankruptcy to pay the amount of their clients' lien.

It was conceded before the referee that the amount claimed in the lien was due, and that the proceedings to obtain the lien were regular, and the only question involved was whether the adjudication in bankruptcy before a filing of the notice of lien barred the right of McMann & Taylor to obtain and enforce payment of their mechanic's lien. It had previously been held by the Circuit Court of Appeals, in what is known as the Emslie case, that a mechanic's lien filed prior to an adjudication in bankruptcy (although within four months of the filing of the petition) is valid, and is not made void by the adjudication in bankruptcy; but the claim now advanced on behalf of McMann & Taylor, that a mechanic's lien filed after an adjudication in bankruptcy, should be upheld as valid (if filed within the statutory time) as against the claim of the trustee in bankruptcy, to whom, upon his appointment, the title to all the property of the bankrupt was transferred by operation of law under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act, presented a new and novel question. George C. Holt, the referee in bankruptcy before whom the motion was made, decided in favor of the lienors, and granted the motion; and upon this decision an order was entered asking the trustee in bankruptcy to pay over to the attorneys for the lienors the amount of the mechanic's lien, with interest.

The trustee in bankruptcy then filed a petition for a certificate to review the decision of the referee, who thereupon certified the question to the District Court of the United States, where the question was argued at length, and Judge Adams, District Judge, has handed down a decision affirming the order of the referee and directing the trustee in bankruptcy to pay over the amount of the lien. Although judgments, attachments, mortgages given as security for debts, and other preferences, if obtained or given within four months prior to the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, are rendered invalid and unenforceable by the filing of the partition, it is now held that a mechanic's lien, whether filed before or after the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, may nevertheless be enforced.

Amending the Building Code.

PROPOSITIONS BEFORE THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

Charles Buek's suggested definition for an apartment hotel, and Wm. J. Fryer's additions to provide conformity in the code, were put before the Council on Tuesday in a report from the Committee on Law, which was placed on the order of second reading. The committee's recommendations follow, but apparently, Mr. Buek's definition is misplaced, and ought to follow that of an hotel, and begin immediately after the words "above the first story." New matter, wherever it appears, is put in quotation marks:

That section 10 of the Building Code be re-enacted to read as follows:

Sec. 10. Hotel, Definition of.—A hotel shall be taken to mean and include every building, or part thereof, intended, designed or used for supplying food and shelter to residents or guests, and having a general public dining-room, or cafe, or both, and containing also more than fifteen sleeping rooms above the first story. Whenever any [such] building hereafter erected, "as in this section described," shall be located on any other than a corner lot or plot, it shall not cover in the aggregate more than ninety per cent. of the area of such lot or plot at and above the second story floor level, if not more than five stories in height, and two and one-half per cent. less for every additional story in height; and on a corner lot, when covering an area of not more than three thousand square feet, it shall not occupy more than ninety-five per cent. of the area of such lot at and above the second-story level. "An apartment hotel shall be taken to mean and include every building or part thereof which shall be intended or designed for or used as the home or residence of families, bachelors or others whether occupying single rooms or rooms arranged in suits, but without separate dining-rooms and kitchens, provided such building shall contain a general dining-room for the use of the residents in common, and shall contain more that fifteen sleeping rooms above the first story." In case any such building is to occupy a number of lots, the Commissioner of Buildings having jurisdiction may allow the free air space, proportioned as herein stated, to be distributed in such manner as, in his opinion, will equally as well secure light and ventilation.

Also, that section 105 be amended by adding the words "apartment hotel" after the word "hotel" in the second line, to read as follows:

Sec. 105. Every building hereafter erected or altered, to be used as a hotel, "apartment hotel," lodging-house, school, theatre, jail, police station, hospital, asylum, institution for the care or treatment of persons, the height of which exceed thirty-five feet, excepting all buildings for which specifications and plans have been heretofore submitted to and approved by the Department of Buildings, and every other building the height of which exceeds seventy-five feet, except as herein otherwise provided, shall be built fireproof, etc. (the remaining portion of this section being unchanged).

Alderman Mathews introduced into his board another draft of an ordinance to amend the code, which, it is understood, is the work of Charles H. Israels. This not only provides a definition of a bachelor apartment house, but it also takes from the code the provisions relating to tenement houses, which conflict with provisions of the Tenement House Law, besides providing other changes that would become necessary by reason of the creation of a new class of buildings to be known as bachelor apartments. It was referred to the Committee on Law, and is as follows:

An Ordinance to amend "The Building Code" in relation to "Bachelor Apartment" houses, and to make same consistent with the provisions of chapter 334 of the Laws of 1901, known as "The Tenement House Act."

Be it Ordained by the Municipal Assembly of The City of New York, as follows:

Section I.—Part III. of the Building Code is hereby amended by striking out all portions of Section 9 following the title and substituting the following:

An apartment-house shall be taken to mean and include every building so defined in chapter 334 of the Laws of 1901, and any such building shall be subject to all the provisions of said chapter.

Part III. of the Building Code is hereby further amended by inserting between sections 9 and 10 thereof a section to be known and styled section 9A to read as follows:

Section 9A.—Bachelor Apartment Houses, Definition of.

A bachelor apartment shall be taken to mean and include any house or building, or portion thereof, which is rented, leased, let or hired out, to be occupied, or is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied, as the home or residence of more than two households, in which the rooms are arranged in suites of not more than four rooms, with bath-room, and are rented by the month or year, and in which no kitchens, laundries, ranges, set wash-tubs or sinks are provided within any of the apartments. Any such building is provided with more than one kitchen or laundry within the entire building, or having within any apartment any range, set wash-tub or sink, shall be deemed a tenement and must comply with the tenement-house laws and ordinances. Any such building in which apartments or suites of rooms are rented for periods of less than one month, or which contains a general public dining-room or cafe, shall be deemed a hotel and must comply with the laws and ordinances applying to hotels.

Any bachelor apartment-house erected shall not cover any greater percentage of a lot than may be lawfully covered by a lodging-house, and the requirements for light and ventilation for a tenement-house, as in force upon the first day of April, 1901, shall apply to a bachelor apartment-house.

Sec. 2. Part V. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by inserting the words "bachelor apartment-houses" between the word "dwellings" and the word "apartment-houses" in the third paragraph of section 24, thereof.

Sec. 3 Part VI. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by inserting the words "bachelor apartment-houses" between the word "asylums" and the word "apartment-houses" in the second paragraph of section 31, thereof.

Sec. 4. Part VII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by substituting the words "Bachelor Apartment-houses" for the words "Tenement-houses" in the title thereof.

Sec. 5. Part VII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by striking therefrom the first twenty-two lines of section 53 thereof, up to and including the words "section 105 of this Code, for * * *" and inserting in lieu thereof the following words:

Sec. 53. "Apartment-houses, Bachelor Apartment-houses," and "Dwellings of Certain Heights." Every non-fireproof building hereafter erected or altered for a bachelor apartment-house, five stories in height, or having a basement and four stories in height above a cellar, shall have the first floor above the cellar or lowest story constructed fireproof in such manner as required in section 106 of this Code. When any such non-fireproof building exceeding five stories in height or having a basement and five stories in height above a cellar, has a store on the first story, the entire second story floor shall also be constructed fireproof. No non-fireproof bachelor apartment-house or dwelling-house shall be hereafter erected more than six stories in height, nor exceed a height of seventy-five feet unless such building has both the first and second-story floors constructed fireproof, and then the height shall not be more than seven stories, nor exceed eighty-five feet in height. Fireproof bachelor apartment-houses, if constructed entirely in accordance with the requirements of section 105 of this Code, for * * *

Section 6. Part VIII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by substituting the words "bachelor apartment-house" for "tenement-house" in section 57 thereof.

Section 7. Part XIX. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by striking therefrom in the beginning of the first paragraph of section 103, the words "every dwelling-house occupied by or built to be occupied by three or more families, and the word "or" between the word "hotel" and the word "lodging-house," and inserting between the word "lodging-house" and the word "and" the words "bachelor apartment-house."

Section 8. Part XIX. of "The Building Code" is hereby further amended by striking therefrom, in their entirety, lines 62, 63, 64 and 65 beginning with the words "In case * and ending with the words "* * bolts or hooks," at the end of section 103 thereof.

Section 9. Part XIX. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by inserting the words "bachelor apartment-houses" between the words "dwelling-houses" and "hotels" in the beginning of the first paragraph of section 104 thereof.

Sec. 10. Part XXIII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by inserting the word "bachelor apartment-house" between the words "dwelling-house" and "apartment-house" in the third paragraph thereof.

Sec. 11. Part XXVIII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by striking therefrom the words "No frame building exceeding three stories in height shall hereafter be erected to be occupied by more than six families, nor shall any frame building already erected be altered to be occupied by more than six families, nor more than three stories in height," in the last paragraph of section 146 thereof.

Sec. 12. Part XXVIII. of "The Building Code" is hereby amended by striking therefrom the words "tenement-houses for occupancy by not more than six families" in the tenth and eleventh lines of section 147 thereof.

Sec. 13. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent or conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 14. This ordinance shal take effect immediately.

The Little Things That Bring High Rents.

We love to pat ourselves on the back and to brag of our enterprise and progress; nevertheless, we do move slowly. The most obvious improvements get a hearing from us with difficulty, and are adopted finally because they are, in a sense, thrust upon us. The builders of this city, as a class, are particularly well satisfied with themselves, with the progress they have made in recent years, and their general "uptodateness." In the main, they are entitled to praise, for great things have been done, and in economies and comforts the modern building quite outclasses the structure of a very short time ago. But in many little things it is extraordinary to find how tenaciously even progressive men cling to old methods and devices that were superceded long ago.

The other day I was inspecting one of the largest of our new apartment houses. The suites were to rent for from two to five thousand dollars. The finish was of a very high order, the plumbing was of the most substantial and recent type; there were electrical devices of many kinds, gas ranges equipped with thermometers, and, of course, the general service was all that could be desired in such matters as elevators, mail-chutes, etc. No expense had been spared apparently. Yet in turning to the apartments on the west and south sides of the building, upon which the sun was then shining strongly, I was surprised to find retained those old annoyances to the flesh in the shape of inside shutters and Holland linen shades. Nearly every element of the building showed progress, but evidently there was one part of the world that had stood still for the last fifty years. I asked the manager of the building what provisions had been made outside for shade from the summer sun.

"Oh," he replied, "awnings," as though the answer was quite obvious.

"Awnings of the old sort?" I asked.

"The old sort! There is only one sort," he said.

"The kind," I continued, "that disfigures a building, is always full of dust, rattles to the wind, sticks in every movement, fades and wears out in a year or two?"

"Yes," he said, laughing. "Blinds, like other articles, have their defects. But what are you to do?"

"What would you say?" I asked, "to an awning that is at once both an awning and a shade? is practically indestructible? is folded away into the casement? is practically invisible when not in use? that shuts out the light and yet admits the air? that can be regulated to suit every condition of light? can be moderated, so to speak, at will, like the turning up or the turning down of a gas-jet? that is an embellishment to the structure, and finally, that is so simple and easy that a child can work it?"

"I wish it were true!" he said.

"Why?" I asked.

"For the same reason that any good thing is desirable. But especially in our case, because we have found that the amount of rent we can demand is in a very considerable measure determined by what I am going to call the little details of equipment. People will not pay a dollar a year more for ten thousand dollar's more solidity in a structure, but they will pay five hundred dollars a year more rent for two hundred dollars laid out judiciously for novelties and conveniences. Just such things as these awnings or blinds of yours."

"Then why?" I asked, "have you not equipped your building with decent modern blinds?"

"Blinds such as you tell of? I never heard of them."

"Yet they are made in this city," I said; "and are to be seen in fine houses, such as Whitney's, Flagler's and others."

"Oh, then they are costly?"

"No, only a little more so than the 'antiquities' you have there. They last a great deal longer, so that in the end are very much cheaper. But, though they are cheaper, that isn't the point—they are better. They improve the look of the building; they better the apartment; they aid in bringing in higher rents. Even if they were greatly more costly it would still be good policy to equip your building with them on exactly the same principle that you install the dearer electric light instead of the cheaper gas, or the still cheaper candle."

"Who makes these blinds and awnings?"

"James G. Wilson, Nos. 3, 5 and 7 West 29th st."

"Oh, yes; I have heard something about them."

"You haven't, believe me, unless you have really looked into the matter carefully. No matter what you think, I guarantee that if you will investigate at headquarters you will admit you don't know anything about them, and that your additional knowledge will mean money to you."

BROKERS' COMMISSIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Owner has a plot of land, one lot out of centre of which has been sold. Purchaser comes along, who can use the entire plot, but not with the one lot out. Owner has property on opposite side of street; broker finally induces the party who bought the one lot to exchange for lot opposite, thus giving owner opportunity to dispose of his whole plot. Broker sold the whole plot and charged brokerage on that. Is he not also entitled to brogerage on the lot exchanged on opposite side of the street?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A broker leases an improved property for a term of years at a stipulated rental of $20,000 per annum. The lessee to pay all taxes, water and other charges, but in the lease the lessee agrees to pay to the lessor $400 per month above the stipulated rent, the lessor agreeing to use said money for the payment of taxes and water charges, in the event of increase of assessment or tax rate, the lessee, of course, paying the difference. May the broker claim a commission on a $24,800 basis, or only on the $20,000 stipulated as rent?

Answer.—On $20,000 only.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In current issue of Record and Guide you answer a question similar to following, but with enough difference to make me think my answer will be in the affirmative: I called on an owner on a Saturday afternoon, asked her for price of her property, which, she informed me, was $30,000; I asked her for written authority, and she promised to give it to me on Monday morning; in the meantime, I saw my principal and received instructions to close the matter at owner's terms: price $30,000, she to have a lease until next May. When I called Monday morning to tell the owner that I was ready to close, she replied: "All right," but at that moment her daughter entered the room and declared that she did not want to move, having just fixed up her living apartments upstairs, etc., etc., and did not desire to move south, which was her mother's intention immediately upon selling the house. Although I had a lengthy conversation with the daughter, and although her mother repeatedly declared that she was willing to sell, but would not do so without the consent of the daughter, as it would cause her to go into hysterics, etc., the result was that the deal, which was for three parcels, above being the middle house, fell through. Is my claim for commission good?

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS NEED NO LICENSE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly let me know (1) if real estate brokers must have a license to do business, and if so, what is the cost of same. (2) If not, does the "authorization for sale of property" apply to any one who endeavors to make a sale of property for a commission?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) Yes.—Law Editor.

DEED TO CONVEY TAX TITLE.

Kindly inform me what form of deed is customary for an owner to give who holds a tax title. Would a quit claim deed answer the purpose?

Answer.—Yes, or a bargain and sale deed. You should not give a full covenant warranty deed.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION ON RENEWAL OF LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly give me the authority on which you base your opinion, expressed in the Record and Guide, of March 28, 1901, under the heading, "Broker's Commission on Renewal of Lease?" If there are any cases sustaining your opinion, will you kindly let me know where they are reported?

Answer.—I find no reported cases in which the question whether in such contingency the broker is entitled to commission has been litigated. My authority is the fact that the broker was employed in the first instance; he effected the contract, containing the option, and when the lessee exercised the option the broker had really effected a lease for ten years. The "custom of the trade," as I am informed, is that such commission shall be paid.—Law Editor.

The sale of the Empire City Race Track, which was to have taken place at 11 o'clock at Manor Hall, Yonkers, on Tuesday last, was postponed again, this time to December 26th, at the same place. The sale was first postponed from November 21st, with the consent of both parties in interest, the Washington Life Insurance Co., plaintiff, and the estate of William H. Clark, defendant. No reason was given for Tuesday's postponement, which was announced by the referee, Bankson T. Morgan. Register Isaac Fromme was present on behalf of the Clark estate and James M. Hunt represented the creditors.

A public hearing was held in the Council Chamber this week on the proposed changes in the rapid transit route in Lenox av, between 141st and 150th sts. Edward M. Shepard and Albert B. Boardman, counsel to the Rapid Transit Commission, were present, with President Alexander E. Orr. Mr. Boardman explained that the changes would involve the extension of the road to 150th st, thus allowing the residents of that district much better accommodation. The matter was referred to the Railroad Committee of the Council, with instructions to report at the next meeting, to be held on Tuesday.

The Board of Estimate held a public hearing Tuesday upon the proposition of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad to carry its main line along the north bank of the ship canal at Kingsbridge. The road now makes a wide detour around Spuyten Duyvil Creek. The change would save a distance of nearly a mile and do away with nine grade crossings. The company is willing to exchange its present roadbed for the right of way along the canal. H. H. Brown, a resident of Kingsbridge, who appeared to support the company's proposal, said that the right of way asked for could be acquired for $437,850. The value of the old roadbed is about $700,000, he said, so that the city would make more than $260,000 by the change. The matter was referred to Comptroller Coler, with a request that he make a report before the end of the year. The settlement of this matter is awaited by the Topographical Bureau before drafting the final map of the Marble Hill district.

Richard Gibbons has just received a decision from the Court of Appeals which finally disposes of his suit against the Bush Co., Ltd., to recover a balance due on a contract for building six warehouses on 42d st. There was a counter claim of $503,000 based on a contention that the work was not done in accordance with the terms stated in the contract, particularly as to time set. Plaintiff claimed that the delays were at the instance of defendant, and won in every court. The final verdict is for $180,000, with interest. The Appellate Division ruled, and were later sustained by the Court of Appeals, that, in such cases, a penalty in the contract may not be construed literally, and that evidence may be heard before a jury as to the circumstances when there have been delays in completing buildings, and where the plaintiff alleges that delays have been at the instance of the defendant.

The Long Island Railroad Co. has acquired possession of the J. M. Horton Co.'s brick ice cream factory and stables, comprising between 200 and 300 feet, on the south side of Atlantic av, between Carlton and Vanderbilt avs, and extending through to Pacific st. The company is preparing to build a large freight and passenger terminal on the south side of Atlantic av. The company has acquired or secured options on nearly all of the property between 5th and 6th avs, on the south side of Atlantic av, through to Pacific st, a block 675 feet in length, and it already owns the next block, 800 feet in length, between 6th and Carlton avs. The purchase of the Horton Co.'s property nearly completes the purchase of the block between Carlton and Vanderbilt avs.

The proposed park in the Eastern District bounded by Berry st, Nassau av, Lorimer st, Driggs av, Manhattan av, Leonard st, Bayard st, Union av, and North 12th st, has been approved by the Board of Estimate. The assessed value of the property to be taken is $441,409. The Corporation Counsel is authorized to begin proceedings in condemnation.

He was long active in Republican politics in Kings County, and was chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee in 1891, and the following year a delegate to the National Convention. He was one of the founders of the Union League Club.

Liebmann's Sons, No. 36 Forrest st, owners.

The World of Building

Material Market.

Two important events have occurred this week: One, the readjustment of lumber prices, and, the other, the renewal of the "beam" pool for another year, and a concurrent agreement to maintain for the present prices of structural iron and steel, as they have stood for some time. By reference to the quotations given on another page it will be seen that the prices of nearly all kinds of lumber in active demand and use have been advanced from 50 cents to a dollar. The "beam" pool meeting took place at Pittsburgh. This organization controls in the output of structural iron and steel. Reports presented showed that this year beat all records in tonnage, and the outlook for next year was excellent. Some of the eastern mills urged an advance in prices, but this was opposed by other interests, who argued that the present price allowed a fair margin of profit and an advance might check consumption. A great demand for structural steel exists, and the material for the new Custom House, about 10,000 tons, may be given out this week. Many small orders are being placed, which aggregate a further very heavy tonnage.

The United Metals Selling Co., which has been holding up the price of copper for months, yesterday followed foreign sellers and made a cut of about 1¼c. a pound in electrolytic, which applies to Lake copper and castings, previously quoted at 16⅝c.

Lumber.—The general market has held firm. Spruce is strong and active, with arrivals of fair volume. Hemlock is strong, prices having been advanced 50c. The mills report that they have plenty of orders. The demand for mahogany the past month has been fairly active. Stocks on hand have been reduced, and arrivals have been readily absorbed, and prices are advancing. Cypress has been in moderate demand, and there is a fair supply on hand. Shingles are reported unusually scarce, and prices have advanced. The big lumber company recently organized by John H. Kirby, and which has taken in nearly all the mills in Beaumont, Texas, has booked one of the biggest orders for lumber ever undertaken by a lumber company. While details of the transaction have not been given out, it is known that the order will approximate 200,000,000 feet, which will, perhaps, require the mills of the company three years to saw. The lumber is for shipment to New York, but further than that its destination is unknown. It is said that the lumber is to be long-leaf yellow pine exclusively.

Lath.—Few cargoes of eastern spruce lath have been received. There was, however, an arrival of a consignment of 1,400,000 from New Brunswick, shipped by rail. Prices have been unchanged and firm.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—Common building brick are in good demand, and prices are firm at $5.75@$6.25; there is a fair supply, although not as large as it was a year ago. For pale brick $3.00@$3.50 is asked, and for hollow brick, common size, $6.25@$7.00. Offerings of eastern lime have been limited, and prices have held firm. The demand for Rosendale and Portland cement has continued steady at full quoted prices.

Hardware.—There is a falling-off in the volume of business, as usual at this time. Steel goods and screws are in an unsatisfactory condition, and low prices are ruling. Wire nails and wire prices are regarded with suspicion, and the trade, unless covered by some kind of special understanding with the manufacturers, are buying very cautiously.

Nails.—The week has brought no particulary new developments in the wire nail market, but there has been no improvement in the matter of prices. There is a considerable irregularity in quotations, which depend to a considerable extent upon the conditions of the transaction. The tone of the market is far from strong, and lower prices are developing and becoming more open, especially with the concerns which have recently been entering the market. The local market is represented in a general way by the following prices: Small lots from store, $2.35 to $2.40; carloads on dock, $2.25. The demand for cut nails is confined to moderate proportions. From some mills it is still difficult to obtain full assortments, owing to the continued difficulty in obtaining steel. Representatives of mills are adhering to the price of $2.25 for nails from store. Jobbers are asking the same price generally, but in some instances are selling 2 cents below these figures. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Plumbers' Supplies.—The New York copper market is still in a state of waiting for such developments affecting prices as it is generally believed must result from the present condition of affairs. So far as can be learned there is little or nothing being bought for consumption at present, and prices are nominal at 16½@17c. for Lake Superior ingot, 16⅜@16⅝c. for electrolytic, and 15@16c. for casting, according to brand. It is estimated that the surplus stock now amounts to 60,000 tons, which must be held until consumption again overtakes production, or the latter has been sufficiently curtailed to admit of the working-off of the heavy accumulations. The London market continues to decline, and heavy sales are reported. Business in pig tin has been quiet throughout the week. The market has been in the buyers' favor, but consumers showed no inclination to enter the market. After the rapid declines of last week, a slight reaction set in, prices advancing as high as 25¾c. per lb. for spot. Notwithstanding the announcement that an agreement has been arrived at between the American Smelting and Refining Co. and the miners, it is stated in the trade on good authority that the miners have not agreed to curtail the production of pig lead. It is held that, while the conference may be over, an agreement has not been reached, and especially not an agreement that will better the situation. Market conditions remain unchanged. The American Smelting and Refining Co. continue to quote Desilverized at 4.37½c. New York. Business in spelter is quiet, and prices are without change in any direction. Western brands in small lots are quoted at 4.55c. to 4.60c. per lb. The usual demand for sheet zinc is noted by jobbers, who quote 600-lb. cask lots at 6¾c. per lb., and smaller quantities at 7¼c. The coming into the market of three or four of the new independent sheet mills, which are ready to start and are soliciting orders vigorously, tends to lower the price of sheets, although it is not yet apparent in the quotations of any of the makers, who are filled up with orders for some time ahead. Prices on black sheets, No. 27 common, are now quoted by jobbers at 4c. to 4.05c., and galvanized at 65 to 67½ per cent. off the list.

Paints and Colors.—As usual toward the close of the year, there is a dulness in all primary markets, and no new business can be looked for until January 1. Manufacturers will send out road representatives after Jan. 1, but spring business never takes on a great activity until a month later. Prices of paint are unchanged, and there is no present prospect of a movement either way. The usual holiday dulness is very apparent in the white lead market. Many of the grinders are stock-taking or cleaning up around their factories, preparatory to their spring business, which so far is very promising. As stated in our last report, prices for raw metal will remain unchanged, but should foreign pig further decline and reach an import basis, then the domestic will be reduced to meet this competition, otherwise prices will remain as they have been for the past year or more. Both mixed paint and colors in oil have been moving slowly in the local market, but not out of proportion to the usual demand for the fall season.

Linseed Oil.—The weakening of the seed market has caused a corresponding easing of the tone of the market, and again there are sellers for future delivery at 50c. There does not appear to be any pressure to sell at that price, however. Some of the large western mills are not ready to sell futures below 53c. Spot oil remains quiet, but fairly steady, with 53c. generally quoted as inside, though some resale stock might be picked up at less.

Glass.—Trade has been quiet since the reduction in price, as buyers look for still more favorable terms. As usual under these conditions, the interest shown is comparatively light, and is likely to remain so until the market takes on a steadier tone, which will not be until after the first of January. Importations of glass are rare, owing to the weak market, but the output of American plants more than supplies the market at present. Mirror plate is unsteady, in sympathy with plate glass, but colored and other fancy effects are in strong position, although quiet. It is rumored that there will be a change in price of window glass either one way or the other, but nothing definite is expected to take place during the remainder of the year.

The South Jersey glass manufacturers are exercised over the agitation to compel the removal of small boys from the factories. The manufacturers are always short of tending boys, and if the boys cannot hold their places several of the factories will have to close down, as they cannot compete with the West and pay the wages of men.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

The Charles R. Hedden Construction Co., authorized capital $1,000,000, has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey.

William D. Grant has on exhibition at his warerooms, No. 206 West 42d st, a fine display of the latest designs in mantels, fireplaces, tiles, etc., and architects, builders and others interested are invited to call and inspect them.

John W. Rapp has the fireproofing contracts for the following buildings: Women's hotel, on 29th st, near Madison av; Pabst Theatre, at 58th st and Grand Circle; Commonwealth and Keystone Buildings, in Philadelphia; and Woodward & Lathrop store, Washington, D. C.

The question of working for general contractors on municipal work is one that has been brought prominently before the Master Plumbers' Association. Several city departments have made plumbing a separate contract, but some departments which have contracts to give out before the end of the year seem to have included plumbing in the general work.

"WHY THEY WEEP"—WHO? THE ARCHITECTS.

Would not any one weep who had twenty-four sections of one law thrown at him as being violated in the plans for a moderate alteration to a small building—the change being a desirable one from every point of view? This was the fortune of one architect this week, who had filed in the Department of Buildings plans for alterations to a 4-sty tenement house on the East Side. The width of the present building is 25 feet, and the depth 38 feet. It was proposed to add an extension to this building 16 feet in width by 4 stories in height. The interior arrangement of the existing building was bettered by a brick light-shaft being inserted, and altogether the proposed additions and betterments would be unobjectionable from a sanitary standpoint of view, and perhaps, with one or two exceptions, would not be in violation of the old Tenement House Act. The new Tenement House Law being now in operation, the application was properly disapproved with the following objections, viz.:

I. The following sections of Chapter 334, Laws of 1901, must be complied with: Sections 11, 13, 14, 18, 20, 21, 22, 24, 26, 32, 33, 53, 54, 70, 73, 74, 76, 77, 78, 83, 84, 91, 92 and 95.

Another architect, filing plans for a new 6-sty tenement, had seventy-two objections given against his plan, and in consequence the project was abandoned.

RUST REMOVERS.

The following rust removers are recommended in the directions issued to the United States Artillery: Cyanide of potash is most excellent for removing rust, and should be made much use of. Instruments of polished steel may be cleaned as follows: First, soak, if possible, in a solution of cyanide of potassium in the proportion of 1 ounce of cyanide to 4 ounces of water. Allow this to act until all loose rust is removed, and then polish with cyanide soap. The cyanide soap referred to is made as follows: Potassium cyanide, precipitated chalk, white castile soap. Make a saturated solution of the cyanide and add chalk sufficient to make a creamy paste. Add the soap, cut in fine shavings, and thoroughly incorporate in a mortar. When the mixture is stiff cease to add soap. It may be well to state that potassium cyanide is a violent poison. For removing rust from iron the following is given: Iron may be quickly and easily cleaned by dipping in or washing with nitric acid 1 part, muriatic acid 1 part and water 12 parts. After using wash with clean water.

WHAT GAS CAN DO.

In a recent lecture in the Royal Victoria Hall, London, Prof. Lambert described some of the things illuminating gas can do besides illuminating. He declared that 37 cubic feet of gas will heat 30 gallons of water from 50 to 110 degrees, will boil 8 gallons of water, or make tea for 64 persons. It can develop one horse-power in an engine for two hours, or lift a weight of 88 tons 10 feet high. It can melt 10 pounds of iron and make a casting in 20 minutes, or braze a metal joint in 2 minutes, the work being done in that way much more quickly than is possible in furnace or forge. The same amount of gas in a good radiating stove will comfortably warm a room 16 feet square, in cold weather, for an hour. It will also suffice to cook a dinner for eight persons. These are but some of the things which Prof. Lambert demonstrated can be done with thirty-seven cubic feet of gas. And what does that amount of gas cost? At prices now prevailing in New York about 3½ cents.

EFFECTS OF WATER ON BRASS.

Some student of applied chemistry or metallurgy, or some student of architecture with a taste for chemistry, might do a service to his fellow citizens by studying the changes which take place in brass, or, at least, in certain kinds of brass, under the influence of water. So far as we know, nothing is said on the subject in any work on the materials of construction; yet, as a matter of practice, observant architects often notice, where plumbers' brass-work has been changed, after some years of use, that a chemical or molecular transformation has taken place, involving, apparently, a crystallization of the metal, the sharp edges of which can be crumbled by the fingers into a crystalline powder. The screw-threads of compression-cocks, particularly where used for hot water, are very frequently affected in this way, so that the screws become loose. That the trouble is not due to wear of the thread is shown by the fact that the screws by which the washers of compression-cocks are attached to the end of the spindle, although they are not touched, as a rule, more than one a year, lose their threads like the others, a crystalline mud under the washer showing what has happened. In the case of plumbers' brass-work, where great durability is not expected, and where accuracy of fit is not essential, the matter is not very serious, unless, indeed, the spontaneous splitting of brass pipes, which often causes great damage, is due to a similar action; but the same transformation of brass is sometimes to be observed in steam-fittings, and in this case it becomes of great importance.—American Architect.

NOVEMBER BUILDING PERMITS.

The comparative table taken from a Western exchange is intended to exhibit the building activities in the chief cities of the United States, and in two large cities of Canada in November. Most of these communities show a remarkable amount of construction work for this time of the year. The average is far above that of a year ago. It is not as high, however, as the average for October of this year, but the decrease in November is natural, considering the cold weather as a bar to rapid building operations. The table follows:

RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 Vesey St., City.

Mortgage-Rent-Assignment Clause.

THIS CLAUSE BECOMES OPERATIVE BEFORE FORECLOSURE PROCEDINGS ARE BEGUN.

On November 11th the Record and Guide published an opinion by Mr. Justice Hoffmann, in the Municipal Court, in which he held that an assignment of rent clause commonly inserted in mortgages, becomes operative upon default in the payment of the principal, and before foreclosure proceedings have been instituted. The opinion was given in the case of James Thomson and others against James W. Erskine, which plaintiffs brought through their attorneys, Phillips & Avery, to recover $160, being two months' rent of an apartment in the building Nos. 338 and 340 West 85th st, New York City, built by Edward W. Kilpatrick, upon which a mortgage became due on January 27, 1901, and was not paid. On January 28th a notice was served upon all the tenants in the two buildings that the rents of the premises had been assigned to the plaintiffs, and that same were to be paid to their attorneys, Phillips & Averyy. The tenant paid the February rent to Kilpatrick, and being in doubt of his legal position, declined to pay that for March. During these months Kilpatrick retained possession of the premises, and met the obligations as landlord under the lease, supplying steam, elevator service, etc. Suit was begun to recover these two months' rent, and Justice Hoffman awarded judgment in favor of the plaintiffs. Messrs. Marshall, Moran & Williams, attorneys for the defendant, took an appeal from the judgment to the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court, claiming that the Justice erred by treating the alleged assignment of rents as a separate clause in the mortgage, instead of treating it and construing it as part of the receivership clause, and that such assignment of rents could become operative only in the event of the appointment of a receiver, and that viewed in this light as part of the receivership clause, the alleged assignment of rents could give no notice to mortgagees before the bringing of foreclosure proceedings. Messrs. Phillips & Avery, attorneys for the plaintiffs, contended upon the appeal that the judgment should be affirmed; that the receivership clause stood by itself; that it did not make any difference whether it was included in a written instrument called a mortgage, or in a separate paper by itself; that upon default in the payment of the mortgage the assignment became aperative, and the assignees became entitled to the rents; and that if the tenants, after notice of such assignment, chose to pay the landlord, they made such payment at their peril, and the assignment could nevertheless be enforced against them.

The Appellate Term has affirmed the judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, the following being the opinion of Justice McAdam, in which Justice Freedman, presiding, and Justice Gildersleeve concur:

The plaintiffs, mortgagees of real property in the City of New York, sued the defendant, tenant of the mortgagor, to recover two months' rent, on the theory of an assignment of the rent to plaintiffs by the mortgagor.

The facts are conceded. The mortgagor still owns the property. The alleged assignment is contained in the bond given by the mortgagor to the plaintiffs; and by its terms was to become operative upon default in the payment of principal or interest. Subsequent to the mortgagee's default, the plaintiffs notified defendant of the assignment, and the recovery is for rent accruing after the service of the notice.

We see no reason why a mortgagor may not, if he so desires, agree with his mortgagee, and so stipulate in the bond, to assign the rents of the mortgaged property, in the event of his default. Modus et conventio vincuit legem. The fact that the bond and mortgage also authorize the appointment of a receiver, does not affect the assignment. And the appellant's contention that because the assignment immediately follows the provision for the appointment of a receiver, the parties contemplated that the rents would on his appointment be assigned to him is not tenable. A receiver does not need an assignment of the rents which he is appointed to receive; and a prior assignee of the rents would have a superior title. (Harris v. Taylor, 35 App. Div. 462.)

The power of the mortgagor to make the assignment is undoubted. (Moffat v. Smith, 4 N. Y. 126; Riley v. Sexton, 32 Hun 245; Morris v. Niles, 12 Abb. Pr. 103.)

The judgment must, therefore, be affirmed with costs

This decision is of considerable importance because under the law as thus laid down, a mortgagee, immediately upon default in the payment of his mortgage, can, under such assignment, reach the rents of the mortgaged premises, providing he takes the necessary preliminary steps, as was done in the case above referred to, and will not be put to the necessity of moving for a receiver and of showing inadequacy of security.

Legal Decisions.

Foreclosure of a mechanic's lien in the Municipal Court of New York City. The Municipal Court of the City of New York has jurisdiction of an action brought to foreclose a mechanic's lien under the provisions of section 3404 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which relates to the foreclosing of mechanics' liens in court not of record. (Eadie v. Waldron, 64 App. Div., 424.)

Remedies of a vendee induced to purchase land by false representations. A person who has been induced by false representation to purchase real propety has, upon discovery of the fraud, three remedies open to him, either of which he may select: First, he may rescind the contract absolutely, and sue to recover the consideration, in which case he must first restore or offer to restore the property; second, he may bring an action to rescind; third, he may retain what he has received and bring an action at law to recover the damages sustained, in which case the measure of his recovery is the difference between the value of the property sold and what it should be according to the representations. (Grosjean v. Galloway, 64 App. Div., 547.)

THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

Below is a summary of the business directly affecting the interests of real estate owners in the Boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Brooklyn, which came before the Council at its meeting on Tuesday last:

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing one, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c.; where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

December 6, 7, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed by H. Brown and J. J. Brown is incorrect, in that they are not entitled to any further payments for some time according to the terms of contract, and that their work is not yet completed, neither is it done according to plans and specifications, in fact. I have made them payments in advance, and before they were entitled to same, and shall take steps toward vacating this lien. Emma Horenburger.

[2]Editor Record and Guide.

Our connection with the lien on stable at 147th st and Amsterdam av, filed by Gustave Deiner, is that, having completed our contract and not being able to get final payment, Mr. Deiner, who was a subcontractor under us, acting under our instructions, put a lien upon the building for the amount due him.

Questions and Answers.

STEAM HEAT IN BUSINESS BUILDING ON SUNDAY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is landlord of a business building supposed to supply steam heat on Sundays and other legal holidays? The only clause in lease relating to heating is as follows: "Tenant shall pay rent as above stated, which shall include steam-heating and water for toilet purposes." The first part of this clause relates to the amount and time of payment. Tenant now claims that he has consulted his attorneys and is advised that unless lease states explicitly that heat is not to be furnished during Sundays and holidays, he is entitled to heat during each day of the year when necessary. Kindly let me have your interpretation of the law upon the subject.

Answer.—I find no cases wherein the facts are "on all fours" with the facts in this case. In my opinion the answer depends upon the general character of the building and the business carried on therein by the tenant or tenants. It is not supposed that any business is carried on in an ordinary business, mercantile or office building on Sundays or legal holidays, and such a contract as is set forth in the lease is made with a view to the purpose for which the building is hired, and with a view to the fact that the premises hired to any individual tenant are not likely to be occupied during Sunday, though, of course, they may be visited. Unless it is clear that when the lease was made it was in contemplation of both landlord and tenant that the permises were to be occupied by the tenant on Sundays and holidays, in my opinion the landlord is not obliged under such a clause to furnish heat on those days. If the tenant desired heat on those days he should have had a provision that it should be so furnished inserted in the lease.—Law Editor.

PROCEEDINGS TO SELL INFANTS' REAL ESTATE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In case I sell a piece of property which involved infants' proceedings, what would you advise me as a real estate broker to do? Have I the power to sell the property and settle the infants' proceedings? If not, which would be the proper course for me to pursue?

Answer.—You cannot make a contract for the sale of the property which will be binding, without an order of Court. If you have on hand a deal for infants' real property, application should be made to the Supreme Court by their guardian for leave to sell. It will be necessary to employ a lawyer, as these proceedings are exceedingly technical.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXVIII. DECEMBER 21, 1901. No. 1762

WHILE it has been found possible to steady the stock market and prevent bad breaks, there is no prospect for upward movement of good proportions. If there was, such movement would be a very unwise, and could only be an unstable one, considering the fact that the banks only yesterday, so to say, got themselves into fairly good shape by calling loans. The circumstances of the hour forbid the hope of cheap money before the new year has well opened. A period of poor business in Wall Street is not to be regretted if the flourishing conditions that prevail elsewhere are maintained. It is undoubtedly a fact that business is very good throughout the country, although speculation languishes, or is left almost entirely to the professional operators. This is a good thing. It shows that people have forsaken the fascination of the tape for their legitimate pursuits, and the country will in the end be much better off for it. So far as the securities themselves are concerned interest centers on Amalgamated Copper, which has for the second time in three months reduced its dividend. The trouble with Amalgamated seems to be that it has for months been reducing its own production and holding up the market for its rivals to sell on. It is understood that while Amalgamated has been piling up stocks, the rich Michigan and Arizona mines, declining to enter into an agreement as to either prices or production, have, by making concessions to buyers, marketed their whole product, and in some instances have disposed of production ahead at good prices. This left Amalgamated no alternative but to cut prices and open a war in which its rivals were strategically the better off, and itself dependent upon an increase in the foreign demand for copper. This will come in time, because Europe is getting every day nearer a new big movement in electrical transit; but Europe moves slowly, and meantime, what is to be done with a productive capacity in copper immensely superior to all possibilities in the way of demand?

MORE evidence of an improvement in the business condition of Europe comes to hand as the year is drawing to a close. Not only have the prices of British Consols and other government securities advanced substantially, but this is also the fact regarding German industrial issues, which were the chief sufferers by the general depression in trade. The latter are still very much below their figures for the boom period of two years ago, but they seem to have reached bottom last September, and are now enjoying a not unnatural rally. This refers more particularly to the chief coal, iron and electrical securities, but bank stocks which were depressed by the exposures and failures in banking circles last summer have also rallied. Another thing that is exciting hope is the probable early close of the Boer war, or if not its close, its reduction to very small proportions. This hope is not occasioned so much by War-Office statements as by some made by the chairmen of the great South African banking and mining companies, whose annual meetings have recently taken place, and who, according to custom, addressed their stockholders upon the future prospects of the territory in which their properties are operating. These statements while conservative in tone, extremely so indeed, were quite hopeful for the future. Undoubtedly, an official end of the war would remove an incubus from the world's business and lead to its ultimate expansion, though the first effects of a sudden stoppage of the British Government's disbursements for supplies and materials would be followed by discomfort in some quarters and possibly by trouble. There has recently been a very wholesale and, apparently, wholesome cutting of prices for basic materials in the European markets, that, though at first sight indicative of bad business, suggests in second, a possible stimulation in manufacturing that may produce a rally in activity, if a revival complete is not to be expected for some time to come. Bankers report a renewed demand for investment securities of the best classes—generally those of governments and municipal bonds, which, though indicative rather of caution than enterprise, gives an air of more spirit to financial centers.

Taxation.

FROM the fact that the discussion of it opened a month or so ahead of the assembling of the State Legislature, it may be presumed that there is general fear that the subject of taxation will occupy a good deal of the attention of that body, next and the succeeding two or three months. This expectation does not raise the spirits of the urban taxpayer, because any consideration given to taxation in Albany ends in either directly increasing his burdens, or the taking away of some of his tax assets, which indirectly does the same thing, by lessening the distribution of those burdens. This was conspicuously the result of the action of the Legislature this year, as we took occasion to show that it would be when the various tax measures, recommended by Governor Odell, were before it. The increase in the tax burdens of the past and the ever growing demand of the governing bodies for more and more money to carry on their work with, must serve to force the question of taxation upon the attention of all thinking men, and produce action by representative bodies everywhere. But it is in the cities where the consideration is the gravest, because of the use to which the State puts its power over them, that is, to despoil them for the sake of the rural sections. The statement is already made that Governor Odell will recommend the passage of a bill taxing mortgages one-quarter of one per cent.

We are glad, therefore, to see that representative associations are taking the matter up seriously, with the view of impressing the Legislature with the feeling of this community regarding it. It was one of the chief topics dwelt on at the annual dinner of the Builders' League, a report of which is given in another column. Very appropriately the directorate of the Real Estate Board of Brokers' have framed a memorial to the Governor, not merely objecting to a tax on mortgages, but praying for their total exemption from taxation. Some weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce of this city adopted a report from their Committee on State and Municipal Taxation, which we quote here because it so aptly and accurately portrays the consequences of recent tax legislation:

"Your Committee believes that the tendency of the Legislature to create indirect revenue for State purposes, and to look to this revenue exclusively for State purposes, is unwise, because it takes away from taxpayers that interest in State expenditures and State taxation which is present when taxation is direct; weakens the sense of responsibility of legislators; has already so operated as to throw nearly all of the burden of State expenditures on the urban political divisions; the principle of uniformity in taxation has been lost sight of; it takes from the political divisions, which need for local purposes nearly ten times as much money as the State needs for its purposes, some of the best subjects of taxation, and thus throws a heavier burden on those remaining; it encourages the disposition to extend the charges of the State to subjects heretofore considered local, and which, in some instances at least, must be considered purely local.

"Your Committee has on several occasions urged that the taxation of mortgages is unwise, because: The tax cannot fall otherwise in the end than upon the property mortgaged; the incidence of taxation upon real property is already heavy; the tax can only be collected at much expense and vexation. It is the purpose of your Committee to advocate the views which have been thus stated before the coming Legislature if the opportunity or occasion to do so occurs."

It is to be hoped that other influential bodies will follow the example of the bodies named above, and enter a protest, which shall be none the less emphatic because clothed in the courteous phraseology of a memorial, against the rural dictum which is now controlling the State policy in taxation, that this city should pay the whole taxes of the State. It has been stated upon the authority of the Tax Department that the practical effect of the tax bills passed last session was to deprive this city of half a million of dollars of its income from taxation, after making all allowance for the lessened demands of the State on the city that will result from the former's collecting directly part of its own income. This illustrates how it comes about that the burden of State expenditure, as the Chamber of Commerce Committee points out, nearly all falls upon the urban political divisions. Undoubtedly, this is an unfair use of power, for while we speak of its being the policy of the State, it is really the policy only of the rural portions, first in representation but second in wealth, which impose their wishes on the urban portions second in representation but first in wealth, which latter are really disfranchised as to taxation for State purposes, because a voice without power is really no voice at all.

As to the proposal to tax mortgages referred to in the report quoted above, we trust we are to be spared its baneful effects in the coming year. During the term of each of the last two Legislatures the discussion of this proposition disturbed business in the realty field very seriously, and its repetition with the new year would undoubtedly be then followed by similar consequences. All the arguments used against the two unsuccessful measures to tax mortgages one-half of one per cent. can be used against the new proposal, although the suggested tax is less by one-half. As was pointed out by Assemblyman Seymour at the Builders' League banquet, real estate has all it can bear now in the way of taxation, and as that gentleman suggested, the thing to do now is to frame an equitable system of personal property taxation—a system that will not be ruinous to the subject taxed, as is the present one where operative.

The Real Estate Situation

If the present speculative activity comes to an untimely end it will be killed by its own energy. In all the neighborhoods effected by the movement there are a good many more people who want to buy than there are people who want to sell, for the list of buyers are swelled by the very large number of corporations, now conducting operations of that kind. In consequence of such competition prices tend to be forced up to a figure which may be justified some years from now, when the public improvements on the boards are completed, but which bear absolutely no relation to the present earning power of the property. Such prices discourage immediate improvement, and unquestionably hinders the growth of the district in which they are made, just as they have very decidedly hindered the early development of Longacre Square. It all comes from the preponderant speculative element in the market, which immediately takes possession of a growing neighborhood and bids against itself in the effort to obtain advantageous positions. It is even easier to create paper values for real estate than it is for stocks, but it is quite as dangerous; and the methods of some of the speculative corporations in that respect will bear examination. It frequently happens, for instance, that a company which buys an important parcel with the intention of improving it, merely organizes a building company for the purpose, and transfers the property to this company at a figure which always shows a handsome profit on the books of the parent corporation. But whether that profit is realized will, in the end, depend upon the actual success of the building operation which is a more or less doubtful matter. Corporate method and organization in the real estate market have most assuredly come to stay; but before such corporations can obtain and justify popular support, their methods in reckoning profits must be beyond suspicion. Considering the hazards of real estate operations, they can even less than other corporations afford to count their profits before they are hatched.

The Dangers of Current Speculation.

There is every prospect that the year 1902 will equal the record of the year 1901 in the amount of money invested in office buildings. During the past year there have been plans filed for sixteen of these buildings, to be erected at an estimated cost of $10,105,000. Of these buildings five were to be eighteen stories high or more, and the rest, all but one, to be between ten and fifteen stories. The location of twelve of the sixteen were on Maiden Lane or south of it, while the other four are to be situated between 23d and and 35th streets. As compared to this record, 1902 is likely to do still better. The projected construction of ten such buildings has already been published, and the number increases steadily. It was only a week ago that we pointed out the promised appearance of a new office building area on Wall street and the neighborhood east of William street. Later news calls attention to an equally pronounced tendency to erect similar buildings on Battery Place. Although the Washington Building was one of the first "sky-scrapers" erected in New York, it is only recently that any renewal of office building took place on Battery Park. During the last few years, however, four such structures have gone up, one of which, the Maritime Building, is just being finished; and the process is likely to go on with increasing rapidity. The block frontage on Battery Place between West and Washington streets has just been sold to a company, which will improve it with a sixteen-story building, and another sale last spring indicate a summer project further west. Of course, the removal of the Custom House has made the neighborhood more desirable for this class of improvement, but this is not the only inducement. Property is comparatively cheap in the vicinity; and the advantages which the Park frontage afford in the way of good light and air, are unequalled in the lower part of the city.

Office Buildings on Battery Place.

Fifth avenue is going into the hotel business, even more generously than Herald Square. There are now building on Fifth avenue corners, between 52d street and 55th street, two 18-story apartment hotels, while another is said to be projected for the corner adjoining the University Club. To this formidable list have been added, during the past week, two other building projects of similar dimensions. Among the reports current is the item that the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and 44th street is to have a hotel for transients second to none in the city in the perfection of its mechanical arrangements and the luxury of its accommodations. The plot on which this building is to be erected is not as large as that of several others, but it is proposed to obtain some compensation for the scarcity of ground space by taking possession of even more of the air than usual. A building of indefinite and prodigious height is threatened. It is evident that Fifth avenue is coming into the possession of the "sky-scrapers" with great rapidity. This will be the fifth building of more than fifteen stories high, and a couple of others will soon follow. One of these is to be erected on the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and 60th street, and will complete the architectural demoralization of the Plaza. It is a great and permanent misfortune that this handsome square has not been better treated by its owners. Two buildings only,—the Vanderbilt House and the Metropolitan Club—are of anything like decent proportions. Every other structure will be either monstrous tall or else ugly and common-place; and the astonishing part of it is that it never occurs to anybody to notice or regret such a maltreatment of our one well-planned and nicely proportioned public square.

Fifth Avenue Projects.

During the past week there have been three sales announced each of which aggregated more than $1,000,000 and the plans of four proposed building operations, each of which will demand an expenditure running up into seven figures. It is a disappointing day, in which a transaction of unusual magnitude is not magnified still further in the headlines of the daily papers. Nothing like it has been seen before in the history of New York real estate; it exceeds even the record of last spring, and the character of the movement is invariably consistent. It gathers around the centers of business and population which the coming improvement in sub-surface transit will make more than ever central; it is largely speculative and is accompanied by a furious bidding up of quotations; but it is sustained by the willingness of the people who embark in these transactions to invest millions of dollars in new buildings, and the new buildings are either hotels or office-buildings of the most expensive character—all tending, as we pointed out last week, to provide the necessary machinery for the increasing industrial and social importance of New York in American life, and while men are planning 1,000,000 dollar hotels and office buildings every day in the week, building along other lines, the building of tenement and residence accommodation for the poor and the ordinarily well-to-do is almost at a standstill. If we judged from the building announcements, the observer of manners in New York would think that the New Yorker was coming to divide his time between twenty-story hotels and twenty-story office buildings, and that in the course of the day he would do more traveling in a vertical than in a horizontal direction.

As a consequence of the publication of the Pennsylvania plans, Herald Square is now the bright particular center of speculative excitement; and Long Acre Square, which for so many months commanded the situation, has become comparatively quiet. Hotel people are evidently fearful that the passengers on the Pennsylvania Railroad, when they land at the new terminal in New York, will not have enough sleeping accommodation in that neighborhood, for two hotel projects are already planned. One of them, the enlargement of the Imperial Hotel, may be dismissed with scant notice, for it is not proposed to complete it until the Pennsylvania-Long Island tunnel is completed, and the estimate of three years for the consummation of that project is manifestly insufficient. The other project is of more immediate interest. The old Broadway Tabernacle, at the northeast corner of Sixth avenue and 34th street has been purchased, together with a couple of lots abutting on 35th street, and on this plot a twenty-story hotel is to be erected. The dimensions of the property acquired are very considerable. The Tabernacle parcel measures 98.9 on Sixth avenue and 150 feet on the street, and contains consequently 14,835 square feet. The reported price is $1,300,000, or $88 a square foot, a very reasonable price, considering the size of the parcel. Early last summer Henry McAleenan paid $32.44 a square foot for the southeast corner of 35th street and Sixth avenue; but the lot contained only 1,125 square feet. The two houses abutting on 35th street measure 35.6x100, and give the purchaser a frontage of 35.6 feet on 35th street. The price said to be paid for this 35.6 feet, viz.: $140,000, compares curiously with the $135,000 which earlier in the week was said to have been paid for a single lot on 34th street between Sixth and Seventh avenues. But with all that will be going on in that neighborhood during the next five years, it is no wonder that men's heads are being turned, and that values are nowhere near a safe and permanent level.

AS was locally expected, and in many instances feared, the Board of Public Improvements adopted the new street approach to the New East River Bridge suggested by Bridge Commissioner Shea—that is, the widening of Delancey street from Norfolk to the Bowery and its extension from Bowery to Broome street. It was somewhat surprising, and still unexplained, why having the Spring street route before him, the Commissioner took the trouble to report another that would be more expensive and has less to recommend it. On the other hand it has occasioned surprise that the property owners having the Delancey street route offered them with official endorsement, did not unite in supporting it. But they did not, and the reason is that they preferred the Spring street route because it is the better and more economical one; and because it deflects from the straight line northerly instead of southerly as the other does. It is northerly that the traffic from the bridge will want to turn and need passageway. Those of our readers who do not know what is offered by the two approaches will do well to turn to the diagrams published in our issue of November 16 last, on page 651. The approach has yet to be approved by the Municipal Assembly, or in the event of the latter failing to act—a highly probable contingency, in view of the fact that their official life can only endure for nine days more—by the new Board of Aldermen, and then by the Board of Estimate. The opponents of the plan are reserving their powder, believing the question must go to the new administration, and that the latter may be induced to prefer the Spring street route; meantime, however, the supporters of the Delancey street extension route have scored one.

THE brief, straightforward and manly statement that Perez M. Stewart, who has been selected to fill the position of Superintendent of Buildings for Manhattan, made before a local organization composed of builders and contractors, and given elsewhere, cannot fail to be well received in the building trade. Working on the lines he has laid down for himself, Mr. Stewart can be assured of the cordial and hearty support and coöperation of the best elements of the building trades.

INFORMAL announcement has been made that the tax valuations have been completed. The books will open on the first Monday in the new year, that is, January 6. The total will show a normal increase of from $75,000,000 to $80,000,000 compared with the previous year's total, and this increase is fairly distributed over the city. There is some recognition of the change of values on 34th street, but a recognition merely. Attention is called to the fact that in the coming year applications for reductions of real and personal valuations must be made by April 1. It is necessary to mention this, because hitherto the time for making these applications has extended from the opening of the books until April 30.

Builders' League Dinner.

GASTRONOMY ACCOMPANIED BY MUSIC AND ORATORY—TENEMENT-HOUSE COMPROMISE REJECTED—A NEW MORTGAGE TAX—GOVERNOR ODELL'S INTENTIONS—RECEPTION OF NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS.

The dinner of the Builders' League of New York, which, according to custom, took place last Saturday evening, was as successful and enjoyable as any that preceded it, which is saying a good deal on that point; and, if anything, more important than any other, judged by the remarks of the post-dinner speakers and the announcements and statements made by them. The serious interest of the occasion centred around the policy of the new Superintendent of Buildings, as revealed by him in the speech reported below, and the announced policies of the legislators and municipal departments; also the attitudes of the only present realty organization and the League toward them. The Tenement House Act and the statement that Governor Odell contemplates the introduction of a bill into the coming Legislature imposing a tax of a quarter of one per cent. on mortgages received a good deal of attention. The speakers enlivened their remarks by amusing touches and anecdotes; these, with an able orchestra, and the excellent, lively, voluntary vocal efforts of some of their members, kept the company in gay spirits until the close.

It was regretted that Borough President-elect Cantor could not be present, and that Assemblyman Thomas M. Costello, of Oswego, an old and esteemed friend of the League, was not there to tell them what new attacks the rural lawmakers were contemplating upon the metropolitan purse. The guests of honor were Perez M. Stewart, the coming Superintendent of Buildings; Francis E. Ward, the newly-elected President of the Real Estate Board of Brokers; Wm. J. Fryer, expert and adviser in general on building law; Senator Patrick F. Trainor; Assemblyman Julius H. Seymour, the sponsor for the bill to exempt mortgages from taxation; Rollin M. Morgan, humorist and Assistant Corporation Counsel; and the Record and Guide, which takes this opportunity of again acknowledging, its representative having done so at the time, the cordiality of the terms in which the lips of the President of the League acknowledged its value and usefulness to the building trades, and the fulness with which the hands of the assembled diners endorsed in the orthodox manner his remarks. President Leo introduced the several speakers with his usual felicity of speech, and Vice-President Judson Lawson was assiduous in his attentions to secure the comfort and well-being of the guests. The partakers of this feast of reason, material comforts and flow of soul and wit were those whose names follow, the first name given at each table being that of the gentlemen responsible for the comfort of those who sat with him, a responsibility that was fully discharged in each case:

It ought to be mentioned that the function opened with a tribute of respect to the memory of the late President McKinley, the company standing with bowed heads while the orchestra played an appropriate selection.

President Leo, in opening the oratorical part of the proceedings, after thanking the League's guests for their attendance, explained that what they aimed at was a sociable, pleasant, friendly gathering without set speeches. The gentlemen who were present as the League's guests were men whom they delighted to honor, some of whom had been with them before, and all of whom he hoped would be with them again. He said his own position as chairman was something like that of the telephone girl who was called only to ring up some one and then dropped the wire, and so when he should have called on some one to speak, Central's duty would be done. All the same, in the course of his little "ringing-ups" he managed to make some important statements. Among other things, he paid a high tribute to the abilities and character of the Superintendent of Buildings-to-be, and referred to the announced policy of the appointed Tenement House Commissioner in terms that should interest owners and builders of tenements, and which are given in substance in their proper place.

President-elect Cantor was represented by the following letter:

John P. Leo, Esq., President Builders' League:

Dear Sir—In response to the invitation extended to me by your committee some time ago, with reference to the annual dinner of your League, to be held on next Saturday evening, I regret to say that while appreciating the compliment conveyed, it will be impossible for me to be present on that occasion. I have enjoyed the hospitality of your League in the past in the most enjoyable way, and I can assure you that my regret is intense at my inability to be present to have another agreeable evening.

Permit me to say in addition, that the responsibilities of the office to which I have been chosen by the people are indeed great, and one of the duties imposed upon me by the charter was that of selecting a competent man to take charge of the Building Department of this borough. I have selected Hon. Perez M. Stewart, as you all well know, to occupy this important and responsible position. I am satisfied that he, in conjunction with Mr. Aiken, who has been chosen as chief inspector of the department and consulting architect to the city, will be able to give that department a thorough overhauling—a cleaning-up of all abuses, and to make the administration broad, clean and efficient. Both men are thoroughly competent for the difficult duties to which they have been assigned by me. Notwithstanding the high qualifications possessed by them, they will need the active and hearty co-operation of all the interests of the city dealing directly with their bureau, and I am sure that your League, with all others who are brought in contact with them, will materially assist in making their work a success.

It is to be hoped that there will be at all times a free interchange of opinion between the architects and builders of New York with the superintendent, and I am satisfied—knowing him as well as I do—that he will be pleased to receive such recommendations or suggestions that may help to improve the service. All that we desire is to give the people a clean, efficient and businesslike administration of city affairs, and all good citizens should do their part in accomplishing that result. With compliments, I am,

Faithfully yours, JACOB A. CANTOR.

New York, Dec. 11, 1901.

The first speaker was Senator Trainor, who made a most amusing address to his "fellow builders" on the peculiarities of legislative proceedings, which, however, closed with some serious suggestions regarding the amendment of the Tenement House Law. He advised the League, if they could not get the law amended this winter, to petition for the appointment of a legislative committee, to sit during recess in New York City to inquire into the working and the results of that law and to make a report, so that when the Legislature again convened they would have something practicable before them on which they could exercise their judgment and make a law that would be consistent with fair play, and would not interfere with the interests of any honest owner or builder. He said subjects so technical and detailed would not receive the attention they deserved amidst the immense amount of work that the Legislature had to do during the few months that they were sitting, and, therefore, a committee sitting in recess was advisable.

President Leo commended the suggestion of Senator Trainor and said the directors of the League were in favor of having this—the Tenement House—law which was placed upon the statute books without opportunity for suggestion or amendment being given to those most interested, executed to the letter. They had considered the statement made by Mr. De Forest when his appointment as Tenement House Commissioner was announced, and had come to the conclusion that there should be no compromises; that nothing could better show the true nature of the law than its enforcement, and they were going to see that it was enforced. In case it was not enforced, a presentment to the Grand Jury would lie, and an indictment might follow; and he thought the League had backbone enough and determination enough to make that presentment.

Assemblyman J. H. Seymour was introduced as the gentleman who last winter cheerfully assumed the responsibility for, and ably advocated in the Legislature, the League's bill to exempt mortgages from taxation. He gave an account of the fortunes of that bill until it was found it could not be passed. Further, he said the builders, who were making this the great imperial city of the country by investing their own and other people's money in physical developments, should have laws which protected them in the operations they undertook. There ought to be a proper tenement house law and a law taking taxes off mortgages. He had opposed the iniquitous proposal to put a tax of one-half of one per cent. upon mortgages, because he regarded it as an additional tax on the land and an obstacle to its development. However, Senator Stranahan was not able to pass that measure. At the same time he ought to tell them that Governor Odell had a scheme for taxing mortgages one-quarter of one per cent., which he would endeavor to have passed this winter in order to secure to the State an independent revenue. That was fifty per cent. better than his previous proposal, but real estate could not stand even that. Taxes were already double what they were three or four years ago, and real estate bore almost the whole burden of the city and the State. What was needed was an equitable personal property tax. Great honor and credit awaited any one who could devise this, and he hoped they might see one presented for discussion this winter. However, he hoped they might at least defeat the Governor's bill and pass a bill to exempt mortgages from taxation. Nothing, he was sure, could give a greater impetus to building in cities than that.

Perez M. Stewart, having been introduced, was received most heartily, and his remarks were loudly applauded. He spoke substantially as follows: "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Builders' League of New York: I was told by your President that I would not be called upon to make a long speech, but simply to say a few words to you. I have therefore no prepared speech to make. I appreciate highly your kindness and hospitality, and the opportunity I have here of meeting you all this evening. A majority of you gentlemen are engaged in the same business that I have been engaged in during the past fifteen years, and I think I am able to understand and sympathize with your views on the Building Department. I am not, however, going to criticise that department; I can say nothing about it now, because I have not familiarized myself with it. One thing I can say, and will say regarding myself, and that is, when I am appointed Superintendent of the Bureau of Buildings I will administer that bureau from a business standpoint and not from a political one. I realize my responsibilities; I am giving the matter much deliberation, thinking it over in many ways to see how I can make that bureau a successful one. I will endeavor to obtain the best men for positions under me, taking men already engaged in the work where their retention would, in my opinion, best serve the interests of the city, and others from outside, and make them all understand that I will not countenance any dereliction of duty; that the law must be respected and enforced. Outside of their responsibilities to the city, they will only have to consider their responsibilities to their families. If they contribute to the funds of any political organization, it will be because they want to do it, and not because it will be required of them by the head of the department. As far as the builders of Manhattan are concerned, I will be and am ready at all times to meet them half-way. If they do what is right I will stand by them; if they are wrong, I will not. With me this question will not be one of I think, or I suppose, but will be one of determination. My only aim and object will be simply to make the administration of the building bureau of the Borough of Manhattan reflect credit upon the people, and give satisfaction to the taxpayers. I am going there with this idea in my mind: I am simply nothing more or less than the servant of the people. To do their bidding, to treat everybody alike, with not a bit of discrimination, not a bit. I shall expect the people in the bureau with me to do the same. That is all I can say to you to-night. I prefer to be judged by my acts, not by words. In conclusion, I may say that you can help me to achieve the ideals I have indicated, and I sincerely trust that after the second of January I will not only have the support of your President, but the support of your entire organization."

Francis E. Ward, speaking of the value of co-operation between the kindred associations, said: "President and gentlemen of the League: I did not think I would have to do more to-night than hold down a chair, which until now I have been doing very enjoyably, and, therefore, I have no prepared speech to make to you. What I may say must be taken as informal. The Real Estate Board of Brokers, of which I have the honor to be President-elect, is the only representative body of brokers in New York since the Real Estate Exchange closed. The relations between brokers and builders should be close and cordial, because it is you who start a good thing and we who push it along. We ought, therefore, alway to meet in a friendly spirit and act together whenever we can. I can say for the Board of Brokers, that we are looking for larger light, and if we are convinced that we are wrong and you are right we will always be glad to accept your verdict. We, however, wish to maintain our independence, and as long as we think we are right, we wish to maintain our attitude unchangeably. Now, in the matter of the proposed tax legislation at Albany, the Real Estate Board of Brokers claim that there should be no tax on mortgages, and trust our representatives will be able to kill absolutely any attempt to impose such a tax. We have passed resolutions in our board, which are to be presented to the Governor in the coming week, to that effect. Although we may be discouraged by the report which has been given you to-night that an attempt is to be made to put a tax of a quarter of one per cent. upon mortgages, no other tax being on them, we may have to accept that, and have it enforced, as you wish to have the Tenement House Act enforced, to show that it is not a good law, and so work towards total exemption. We should insist that a tax on mortgages is an unjust tax, and no taxes that are unjust should be levied. I do not know that a tax of one-quarter of one per cent. would paralyze building, as a tax of one-half of one per cent. would certainly do, but it would do injury, because any tax would be met by a corresponding increase in the interest rate, and, therefore, we of the Board of Brokers are going to fight hard for total exemption."

Wm. J. Fryer followed with an interesting address upon the interruptions to business brought about by changes in the laws relating to buildings and the changes in the departments supervising them, during the past two years, which brought home in a practical way the value and necessity of settled conditions.

Lewis Harding, at the close of these addresses, suggested that Mr. Stewart should be placed on the list of honorary membership both of the League and their directorate, and this proposition was carried unanimously by a rising vote.

Mr. Stewart having acknowledged this compliment, the proceedings ended by the whole company joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne," which is the happy way in which the League always terminate their annual banquet.

The Bronx—Permanent Maps.

In spite of the opposition of Comptroller Coler and Brooklyn Borough President Grout, the Board of Public Improvements Wednesday approved a number of maps showing individual Bronx street lines and four sections of the permanent map for the section east of the Bronx River.

The street maps were: Bronx Boulevard, from southeast corner of Bronx Park and 180th st to a point in the Bronx River opposite the southerly end of Lowmede st; also from a point in the Bronx River opposite the northerly end of Lowmede st to Demilt av. Avenue A, from Westchester av to East River, in the Bronx. Avenue E, from the Catholic Protectory to the East River, in the Bronx. Tremont av, from the center line of Old Fort Schuyler road. These streets and avenues were shown on the tentative plan of the street system of the Borough of the Bronx which was adopted by the board without giving dimensions.

The district lying east of the Bronx River has been divided into thirty-four sections for the purpose of map-making. The maps for thirteen of these sections have now been approved, including the four adopted this week, which were those of the sections with their boundaries given below:

Section 29, bounded by 228th st southeast, Bronx River boundary line of the city of New York, old West 3d st, Palmer st, old St. Quentin av, Baker st, 239th st northeast, Bayard st, 237th st northeast, Huntington st, 236th st northeast and Olinville av.

Section 41, bounded by Delancey av, Yates st, 193d st northeast, Matthews st, 194th st northeast, Willett st, Bronx and Pelham Parkway, Radcliffe st northeast, Valentine st, 198th st northeast, Wheeler st, 199th st northeast, Timpson st, 198th st northeast, Walter st, Morris Park av, 60th st, 193d st northeast, Wheeler st, 192d st northeast, Arnow st, 191st st northeast, Colden st, 189th st northeast.

Section 44, bounded by City Island av, Van Courtlandt st, 205th st northeast, Delarell st, 207th st northeast, Noole st, 212th st northeast, Johnson st, Hutchinson River, New York city boundary line, Pelham Bay Park and Hutchinson River.

Section 52, bounded by 191st st northeast, Hannan st, 192d st northeast, Post st, 194th st northeast, Baker st, 196th st northeast, Edgar st, 197th st northeast, Fort Schuyler and Pelham Bay Park Shore Drive and Pelham Bay Park.

New Street Approach to Bridge No. 2.

The map for widening Delancey st from Norfolk st to the Bowery and extending the same street from the east side of the Bowery to Broome st, to complete the approach to the New East River Bridge, was adopted by the Board of Public Improvements on Wednesday. The map now goes to the Municipal Assembly for their approval, and in the event of opposition in that body, can hardly fail to be carried into the new Board of Aldermen created by the amended charter.

An outline of the route of the new street was shown by diagram in our issue of November 16th last, page 651. In making the map the rule was adopted to, as nearly as possible, follow the lot lines; in widening Delancey st by taking off 75 feet on the south side, and making the extension from the Bowery to Elm st to take a strip 100 feet wide. The southern line of the extension touches the streets through which it passes at points north of Broome st as follows: Bowery, east side, 209.9 feet; Elizabeth st, east side, 164.11 feet, west side, 153 feet; Mott st, east side, 109.0½ feet, west side, 97.1 feet; Mulberry st, east side, 50 feet, west side, 40 feet. This southern line extends back from Mulberry st 200 feet west, then goes south to Broome, thence along northern line of Broome to Marion. With this line in mind, and remembering that the approach is to be 100 feet wide, and idea of the property proposed to be taken on any of the streets named may be obtained. For example, on the Bowery it is proposed to take 100 feet north of 209.9 north of Broome. The map also lays out the triangular block bounded by Broome st, Elm st and Marion st, a public place. The larger part of this block was proposed to be taken by the approach suggested by the Commissioner of Bridges, and by taking the whole of it better access to the new approach is obtained. The valuation of the land to be taken is, according to the Tax Department books, as follows: Land to be taken between Norfolk st and Bowery, $1,037,000; between Bowery and Elm st, including public place, $786,600; total, $1,823,600.

Questions and Answers

Have the courts decided that amendments to plans for tenements filed prior to April 10th last may be made under the old law? I am told they have. Can you give me particulars?

Answer.—The case referred to by our correspondent was probably that of Gordon vs. Wallace, decided by Justice O'Gorman, October 3d last. The facts were that complainant filed plans under the old law for a 4-family tenement, and after the passage of the Tenement House Act of this year, desired to change the plans so as to make his building a 3-family tenement. The department held that amendments would have to conform to the new law. Suit was brought for a mandamus to compel the authorization of the amended plan, and Justice O'Gorman decided that the relator having complied with every provision of Section 4, Chapter 555, Laws of 1901 (the Kelsey amendment, requiring plans to be filed prior to April 10th, excavations to be begun on or before June 1st, and first tier of beams in place by August 1st, etc.), and as the amendments conform to the law as it existed at the time the plans were filed, his application should be granted.—Editor Record and Guide.

COMMISSION ON RENEWAL OF LEASE.

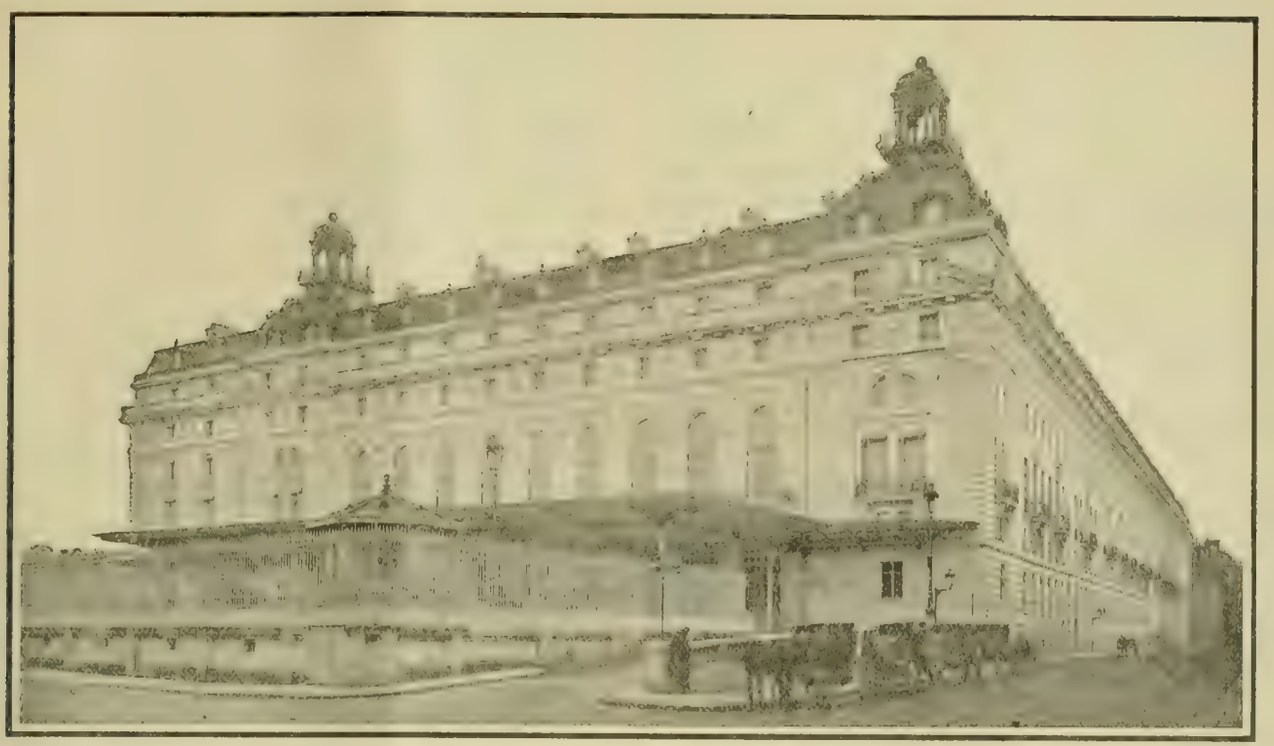
To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have read the several articles in "Questions and Answers" column in relation to commission on renewal of lease, and wherein you give a correspondent your opinion, but the matter is not clear to me. I am interested in a somewhat similar case to which your correspondent refers, and would like to have you answer this question direct in your next issue, so as to leave no doubt in my mind as to its correctness, to wit: Broker negotiates lease between landlord and tenant whereby lease runs for five years, with privilege of tenant to renew for five years more at the expiration of the first five years. On signing of lease broker collects commission on five years' lease. At the end of five years tenant exercises his option and renews for five years. Is the broker entitled to commission on the option of five years' renewal when the tenant so decides to remain in the premises?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS

A PROMISING LOCALITY AND A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.



For the most part, men speculate and invest in real estate in much the same way as they speculate and invest in stocks. They buy when or where other people are buying, and they sell when or where other people are selling. In real estate, for instance, there are at all times certain centres of speculative activity—regions in which prices have advanced, improvements are being made, and profits are being reaped. These centres command the public attentions; and capitalists are generally pursuaded by the force of advertisement and example to invest their money in such neighborhoods. The property must be in active demand, or else the ordinary investor would not be tempted, but it must be remembered when he does buy under such circumstances, it is not he who reaps the large profits. The man who makes the large profits is he who has anticipated the public demand and the coming improvements and has jumped in when the neighborhood was still comparatively neglected. Many large fortunes have been made in New York real estate by operations of this character, and there is no city in the world in which they so frequently occur or are so successful. For in New York no section of the city remains inactive for a very long period. Business is consequently encroaching on residence districts, and large business buildings are constantly taking the place of those of a less improved type.

The process whereby large profits are most frequently and most certainly made is something as follows: A shrewd speculator will begin buying in a district which is in the line of improvement, but which has not yet been appropriated by modern buildings. In making his purchases, he will, of course, be particularly careful to select the most advantageously situated parcels—parcels, that is—which are convenient for business purposes, which will give future tenants an abundance of light and air, and which are large enough to be improved under the most advantageous circumstances. Then he will erect upon such a parcel a building, precisely adapted to the needs of the locality, whatsoever they may be. If his judgment has been good, business men will recognize the advantages of using his building, and other speculators will follow his example until the neighborhood has become just what he saw it had the possibility of being. In the meantime he will have sold out, and begun similar operations elsewhere.

One large class of property in New York has not as yet been taken in hand for improvement by speculators or investors; yet it is a class of property which has great potential value for business purposes. We refer to water front property generally, and particularly to water front property on the North River, and near the wholesale district. This property has undoubtedly in the past been comparatively neglected, simply because its advantages for business purposes have not been sufficiently realized; and business men have been occupying lofts on back streets, near the water front, which, had West st itself been used, would have been much more convenient and pleasanter, and which would have offered to the investor better opportunities for an ultimate advance in values. For when the advantages of the water front property are appreciated, a considerable rise in values is bound to take place. Such property is strictly limited in amount, and fancy prices will be asked for it, when its value begins to be realized.

These remarks apply, as we have intimated, with peculiar force to the property on and back of the water front just west of the wholesale district, because property in this neighborhood is better situated than any in the whole city for the quick and convenient receipt and shipping of goods. A number of the most important railroads with connections all over the country have piers and freight yards in this vicinity. Among them may be mentioned the Erie, Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, and the New York Central. The Pennsylvania R. R. station and freight piers, Nos. 27, 28, 29, are directly opposite block 217, hereafter referred to, and as the map above shows, the N. Y. Central freight depot is exactly two blocks away. Here we have the two greatest railroad systems of the country. The last-named road has several piers adjacent, in addition to its freight terminal on Hudson st, connected with the main line by its tracks on 10th av. Furthermore, so far as foreign trade is concerned, the docks of many of the most important steamship companies are stretched along those parts of the water front, not occupied by the railroads, while the proximity of the Appraiser's Stores is an advantage in the case of imported goods. The concentration of all this machinery for collecting and distributing freight in this section makes it certain that the growth of the business carried on in this district will be restricted only to the general growth of the trade of the city. And as the foreign trade increases, the property convenient to the water front will necessarily reap the advantage.

The case in favor of all this property may consequently be stated something as follows: Here is a section of the city, conveniently situated for the transaction of business, which is, at present, fairly occupied by established concerns, but which is still covered to a considerable extent by old buildings. The district is very limited in extent, and is bounded upon the south and east by other districts in which business is more active, and whose activity is continually pushing its way both further north and further west. The wholesale fruit and provision trades, for instance, are constantly spreading over a larger and larger territory, and their growth must needs be as fast as that of the population of the city. Hence, there is every year a greater mass of business to be transacted in a region which remains a fixed quantity; and in the course of time, this can have only one result. The prices of property will increase, every inch of ground will be occupied by modern buildings, and all those lines of business which cannot afford the higher scale of prices will be forced to go elsewhere. At the present time Washington and West sts, between Christopher and Franklin sts, are occupied by a number of old-established firms. These firms do not for the most part manufacture on the premises. As a rule the whole building is occupied by one firm, who uses it as a sales-room and warehouse. Among the lines of business represented may be mentioned wholesale liquor dealers, glass manufacturers, dealers in smoked meats, tea and coffee merchants and bonded warehouses of all kinds. In addition, of course, there are many scattered lines of business. Some of the more important firms and companies are the Twisted Wire and Box Strap Co.; Sonn Bros. & Co.; Van Horne, Griffen & Co.; James Pyle & Sons; E. R. Durkee & Co.; R. J. Deitz Co.; and J. W. Beardsley's Sons. The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which has many warehouses in the neighborhood, has lately built one of the biggest of the lot on a corner of West and Vestry sts; while further north the Western Electric Company has put up on the corner of West and Bethune sts, one of the largest manufacturing buildings in the city—an example which in the course of time is likely to be much followed.

The real estate situation at the present time in this region is, on the whole, a very satisfactory one. For years past there has been a slow but steady increase in values. Precisely what this amount is, it is difficult to show by specific instances, because property is strongly held, and does not change hands very rapidly. But a few such instances may be mentioned. In March, 1893, the northeast corner of Washington and Laight sts, 42.6x60, improved with a 3-sty building, sold for $25,000. In 1899, the same property brought $30,000. In 1870, No. 380 Washington st, the northwest corner of Beach, 20x62, brought only $13,700. In 1899, No. 378 Washington st, the southwest corner of Beach, 25x75, and improved with a 7-sty building, brought, according to the revenue stamps, $75,000. The building is leased to the United States Government for $7,000 per annum. In general it may be stated without fear of contradiction that in the past ten years there has been an average increase of values in the vicinity of the above sales amounting to fully twenty-five per cent., and that this increase has not been due to any speculative bidding up of prices, but to a steady increase in the earning power of desirable parcels. There are many impediments placed in the way of merely speculative dealing, because, as we have pointed out, property is very strongly held. Among the largest holders are the Rhinelander estate, Trinity Corporation, and James Pyle. The parcels particularly in demand are corners containing no less than 5,000 square feet, and available consequently for improvement with modern warehouses or loft buildings. Single interior lots have not increased as much as corners, because taken by themselves they have not much value for building purposes; and a parcel is valuable in proportion to its size and its availability for improvement. But the very fact that makes the locality a difficult one for speculative operations increased its value for investment purchases. There is no danger of any large amount of property being thrown upon the market during a period of bad times.

One of the most interesting transactions in this neighborhood recently was the purchase at auction by Edward Roche from the City of New York of Nos. 300-306 Washington st, Nos. 176-196 Reade st, Nos. 202-220 Duane st, Nos. 187-189 West st. This makes a parcel with a frontage of 266.8 on Reade st, 70.7 on West st, 270.3 on Duane st, and 70.7 on Washington. Mr. Roche paid $453,000 for this property, which was not considered expensive. As we have said, there is very little property for sale in this neighborhood; but just at present there is at least one unusual opportunity to purchase at reasonable figures a large parcel amounting, indeed, to a whole block. This is the block bounded by West, Washington, Laight and Hubert sts. It has a frontage of 179.3 on West st, 224.6 on Laight st, 173.7 on Washington st, and 229.10 on Hubert st. At the same price per square foot, which the purchaser paid for the block described above, it would be worth $1,000,000, but being an entire block, the relative value would be proportionately greater. It is very unusual to find in New York a whole block of property for sale, and in all parts of the city many brokers are engaged in the laborious and difficult task of piecing together plots, which they can rarely make as complete and advantageous as this. Immediately opposite the West st frontage are the Pennsylvania freight piers and the New York Central freight depot is only two blocks away. But this opportunity is, as we have said, exceptional. There is really very little property which is desirable for improvement for sale, and this is one of the best reasons for its future investment value.

The Park Avenue Nuisance.

William J. Roome and Mary Smith, property-owners and members of the Park Avenue Association, have obtained a writ of certiorari from Justice Leventritt, of the Supreme Court, to review the order of the Board of Health directing the New York Central Railroad to make certain changes in the tunnel. They say the improvements will increase the noise, smoke and cinders which will rise through the shafts and reduce the value of property. It is contended that the Board of Health has no power to make the order.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Harry J. Sachs and Ogden & Clarkson have sold for N. L. McCready the 4-sty building Nos. 10 and 12 West 22d st, on plot 54x98.9. The buyer is said to be an investor, but Martin & Brother are offering the property for sale at $250,000. The building rents for $16,000 a year.

The Dennison Manufacturing Company have purchased from Sachs Brothers, through De Selding Bros. and Harry J. Sachs, the vacant lot No. 15 John st, and will erect thereon a 10-sty building for their own use. The price at which the property sold has not been made public; it was offered at auction last week by L. J. Phillips & Co., and bid in by the owners at $117,000. It was owned originally by the Thorburn estate. Several years ago the old building on the lot was condemned and torn down by order of the Building Department authorities. The parcel then passed into the hands of the Withhaus estate, and several months ago was acquired by the present seller, together with other property, in trade for a business building in Washington place.

The southwest corner of Bleecker and Wooster sts, an 8-sty building, on lot 25x100, has been sold by Myer S. Auerbach. The transaction is a three-cornered trade; the other particulars could not be obtained. The building is fully rented and is supposed to give an income of $11,800.

Max Gold has sold the two 6-sty tenements Nos. 24 and 26 King st, each on lot 26x100, and has traded with Rosenzweig & Klingenstein the similar buildings, Nos. 28 and 30 King st, taking in exchange Nos. 153 and 155 East 118th st, a frame building, on plot 50x100, which he will improve.

I. M. Olsen has purchased from Jacob Wolf for $50,000 with a building loan the old building, No. 37 West 19th st, on lot 25x92, and will erect thereon a mercantile building.

The Broadway Tabernacle property, at the northeast corner of 6th av and 34th st, on plot 98.9x150, together with two 4-sty dwellings, abutting at Nos. 68 and 70 West 35th st, on plot 35.6x98.9, owned by James C. Parrish, have been sold. The Tabernacle lots were purchased in 1857 for $78,500 and have been held at $1,350,000 and are said to have sold for $1,300,000; the 35th st lots sold for $145,000. Mr. Parrish paid $45,000 for No. 68, which is 17.6x98.9. At $1,300,000 the Tabernacle property sold for $88.20 per square foot, which compared with the prices paid for some smaller properties on the same streets makes it a bargain. The buyer is said to be William Shillaber, Jr., manager of the Washington Building Co., of which Edward F. Searles is president (although in well informed quarters the president of one of the large realty corporations is said to be the buyer). The property will be improved by the erection of a 20-sty hotel. Herbert A. Sherman was the broker.

The estate of Alexander J. Ross has sold to George E. Kenny the 5-sty tenement No. 318 East 27th st, on lot 25x98.9.

Oscar Hammerstein is reported to have sold Nos. 311 to 321 West 34th st, extending to 322 to 332 West 35th st, to a syndicate who control and manage the London Hippodrome. The plot is 125x197.6 and is 175 feet west of 8th av. It was purchaced by Mr. Hammerstein in February for $130,000 from the Whiting Manufacturing Co. and was formerly the site of the Decker piano factory. Mr. H. Wronkow, one of the owners, states that the property has not been sold, but an option has been given on it, but not to the people mentioned.

John J. Curtis has traded with William Z. Larned the 5-sty building Nos. 174 and 176 Pearl st, near Pine st, on lot 31x103, for the 4-sty dwelling No. 66 West 68th st, on lot 22x100. The Pearl st property figures in the deal at $58,000, against about $57,500 for the 68th st parcel. S. B. Rogers was the broker.

J. Arthur Fischer has sold for Mandelbaum & Lewine to Tierre Aguado the 3-sty dwelling on lot 20.6x98.9, No. 248 West 39th st.

G. Tuoti & Co. have sold for Mrs. Jacob the 5-sty building No. 3 Mulberry st, on lot 30x25, for about $15,000.

William Rau has sold, through E. H. Ludlow & Co., to Daniel B. Freedman, the 3-sty brick dwelling No. 143 West 20th st, on lot 22.6x92.

George Herrmann has sold, through C. M. Eadie, the 4-sty tenement No. 221 West 35th st, on lot 21x98.9.

Charles Buermann & Co. have sold for Henry Buermann, to Dr. Schlesinger, the old building, on lot 20x75, No. 501 East Houston st. A 7-sty shop will be erected on the plot.

John M. Berrien, in conjunction with Ranald H. Macdonald & Co., has sold for John Currie Wilmerding, as executor, the 4-sty dwelling, on lot 25x100, No. 5 West 31st st. The asking price was $100,000, and very near that figure is said to have been obtained.

No. 102 West 3d st, a 3-sty building, on lot 25x95, has just been sold by Sophia Murtha. The house was leased to the buyer five years ago for ten years, with a privilege to purchase within five years at $15,000.

Charles Martin has sold for Philip and A. Morrissey to David Mainzer the 3-sty dwelling No. 462 West 43d st, on lot 19x100. No. 458 recently sold for $12,000.

Adler & Herrman have sold to Goldman Brothers the 6-sty tenement, 25x94.9, No. 614 East 11th st.

John P. Kirwan has sold for Johannes Wyrich the 4-sty tenement, on lot 20x98.9, No. 428 West 32d st.

John M. Reid has sold for Robert Baker to John G. Coyle the 3-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 18.9x98.9, No. 226 East 31st st, for $14,000.

Abraham Goodman and Rudolph Wallach have traded with William and Joseph Wolf the 7-sty tenement with stores, on lot 42.6x100, Nos. 112 and 114 Ridge st, for the 6-sty flat, on lot 23.5x90.10, No. 235 6t st. The Ridge st property figures in the trade at $75,000, with a mortgage of $50,000, as against $42,000 for 6th st, with a mortgage of $30,500, making a difference of $7,500 to be paid in cash.

William E. Finn has purchased from Eugene Schleip and Albert Flake Nos. 308 and 310 West 58th st, two 4-sty dwellings, each on lot 21x100.5. No. 308 sold in February for $22,250, but according to the revenue stamps on the deed Mr. Flake paid $30,000 for No. 310. These houses are opposite the new Pabst Theatre, which Flake & Dowling are erecting at the Grand Circle, 58th and 59th sts.

Prices on 34th st, west of Broadway, seem to be climbing fast;

No. 144 West 34th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 25x98.9, was sold in October for a reported price of $80,000, to the Atlas Improvement Co. (Samuel G. Bayne), who have now resold it for $100,000. The plot, 80x98.9, on which the Herald Square Hotel stands, and which is much nearer Broadway, figured in a trade in 1897 for $240,000. Taking into consideration the fact that this plot would be worth considerably more now, and that $240,000 was a trade price; also that it is a large plot much nearer Broadway; $100,000 is a big price for No. 144.

McVickar & Co. have sold for William Hall's Sons the plot 50x100 on the south side of 51st st, 100 feet east of Madison av. The buyer is a banker, who will erect two dwellings, one for his own use.

R. C. Voth, of Potter & Brother, has purchased of Margaret E. Marcus the 4-sty dwelling, No. 242 West 52d st, on lot 20x100. M. E. Hewitt & Co. were the brokers.

Thirty-fourth st, west of 7th av, is also beginning to feel the effects of the Pennsylvania purchases. This week Nos. 206 and 208 West 34th st, two 4-sty dwellings, on lot 34x100, are reported sold for $50,000 to Hulbert Peck & Son for Mrs. E. C. Carpenter, as is also No. 213, on the other side of the street, a 5-sty flat, on lot 25x100, by the Municipal Realty Corporation to Mrs. E. B. Howland. These are the first sales reported on this street in nearly a year.

No. 1722 Broadway, a 2-sty building, on lot 25x86, between 54th and 55th sts, has been sold by the estate of Dr. James H. Brush, through William J. Roome and Ogden & Clarkson, to Daniel B. Freedman.

Another interesting transaction in Broadway is that of Nos. 1724 to 1728, at the southeast corner of 55th st; the plot is 77.9x105.11x75.3x86.8, and was sold by John N. Golding for Robert J. Doherty to Flake & Dowling, who have resold the property to a buyer, who will erect a 12-sty apartment thereon. Mr. Doherty bought it in January from D. H. McAlpin for $170,000.

Flake & Dowling have also purchased from the Alvord estate, through John N. Golding, Nos. 4 to 8 W. 31st st, a dwelling and stable, on plot 100x100. The estate has been asking $320,000 for the property.

7th av, between 30th and 31st sts, records another sale this week; No. 363, a 4-sty building, on lot 23x75, was sold by a Mrs. Bostwick, trustee, for about $30,000. William J. Roome and W. Hamilton McBride were the brokers. On November 26th No. 390, a 25x100 lot, sold for $20,000.

The old stable property at Nos. 213 to 219 West 41st st, on plot 100x98.9, has been sold by Potter & Brother to Samuel McMillen, President of the Hamilton Building Co., who represents the Hamilton Storage Co. The sellers bought the property in July from the Paran Stevens estate for $92,000.

Lowenfeld & Prager have purchased the 5-sty tenement, No. 31 Cannon st, on lot 25x100, from Elizabeth Hertfelder.

No. 17 Prince st, northwest corner of Elizabeth st, a 6-sty tenement, on lot 20x81, has been sold by Charles Friedman to Morris Golland.

The Stuyvesant Realty Company have moved up a block in their purchases. They have now secured Nos. 238 and 240 West 34th st, and are negotiating for No. 244. No. 238 is 16x98.9, and No. 240, 25x98.9, and they are said to have paid $55,000 and $38,000 for them, respectively. Their purchases in the blocks below continue to come to light. Samuel Speyer has sold them Nos. 318 and 322 West 31st st, two 3-sty dwellings, each on lot 18.9x98.9; and William Richtberg has sold them Nos. 228 and 230 West 31st st, each on lot 19.9x98.9.

The Ten Associates, the Boston syndicate, which last week purchased Nos. 2 and 4 West 47th st, are reported to have purchased No. 570 5th av, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 20.8x100, from Caroline S. Fellows. No. 570 is 100.5 south of 47th, and only the corner of it abuts on the 47th st parcel, thus making it useless in connection with their former purchase,unless No. 572 is secured.

The Provident Savings Life Assurance Society, the owner of the Hotel Earlington, has purchased from Waldo Hutchins the 4-sty dwelling, on lot 25x98.9, No. 50 West 28th st. The Earlington abuts this property on the rear.

McVickar & Co. have sold for the Van Renssalaer family the 5-sty factory at the southeast corner of Grand and Baxter sts.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

The Realty Improvement Co. (Francis M. Jencks) has sold the 5-sty flat at the northeast corner of West End av and 90th st, on lot 25x100.

The Metropolitan Improvement Co. (Francis M. Jencks) has sold a plot of lots on 96th st, south side, beginning 125 feet west of West End av.

Patrick Cunningham has traded with Maria Steindler the two 4-sty flats Nos. 170 and 172 East 107th st, on lot 56x100, for the 5-sty store and tenement No. 1836 2d av, on lot 24x75. Mrs. Steindler pays $5,000 in cash.

John J, Sperry has sold the 3-sty dwelling No. 23 West 127th st, on lot 18.9x100.

Arthur S. Cox & Co. and H. C. Senior & Co. have sold for Turner & Kiernan the 5-sty flat, on lot 31.3x100.5, No. 35 West 65th st.

Cornish & Anderson have sold for Lillie B. Cornish two 5-sty flats, each on lot 20x100.11, Nos. 164 and 166 West 98th st.

No. 38 East 62d st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100, has been purchased by a Mr. Ely.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for John C. Umberfield, No. 320 West 105th st, a 5-sty American basement dwelling, 22x65x100.

James Carlew has purchased from Cullman Brothers, through L. J. Phillip & Co., the plot 75x102.2 on the south side of 77th st (Manhattan Square), 150 feet west of Central Park West. Jacob F. Cullman purchased these lots in 1900 for $101,900. The price given in the resale is $130,000. Mr. Carlew will erect three 25-foot dwellings on the plot.

The city last year decided to widen this street from 8th to 5th av 30 feet, and awarded each owner of a 25x100.11 lot $9,000 for 30 feet. Some of the owners are asking $25,000 for 25x70.11.

The lot just purchased sold at the Scholle auction in April for $4,850.

The sale of the plot at the southeast corner of 5th av and 60th st by the Lee estate for about $800,000 is another illustration of the immense advance that has taken place on this avenue in ten years. The plot fronts 50.10 on 5th av and 200 feet on 60th st. The two lots adjoining the corner are only 75.10 deep. The plot contains 13,900 square feet, which, at $800,000, would make the square foot price $57.55. The Metropolitan Club paid $480,000 in 1890 for the opposite corner, fronting 100.5 on the avenue and 200 feet on the street, and containing 20,080 square feet, or a square foot price of $23.90. FOR TAX-FREE MORTGAGES.

The Board of Governors of the Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York recently adopted the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, Any tax imposed on all mortgages, as proposed by the late Stranahan bill, is a burden upon borrowers, thereby imposing a heavier tax on mortgaged property than on unencumbered property; and

Whereas, The present tax on mortgaged debts, as a part of the net personal estate of each person, is an unjust and oppressive burden upon widows, orphans and others wherever enforcement is seriously attempted; and

Whereas, This present tax cannot be equitably enforced, and is a great detriment to real estate interests;

Resolved, That the Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York strongly urge the entire exemption from taxation of all debts secured by mortgage of real property.

This is the resolution referred to by Mr. Ward in his speech at the banquet of the Builders' League, reported elsewhere in this issue.

The World of Building

Material Market.

While there have been several reductions in metal prices, the movement has not carried itself into manufactured goods. The makers of these generally stand upon prevailing quotations. This will hardly satisfy consumers, who naturally expect to share in any cut in raw materials, and the consequence will be a holding back on the part of buyers until the manufacturers concede them their natural rights. As to structural material, building continues very active all over the country, and a large tonnage in shapes is being placed with the mills right along. In this city current business, notably for heavier structural steel, continues quite large. A contract has been placed which, with cast-iron columns, will call for 8,000 tons of material for the Astor Hotel, in Long Acre square.

The National Lead Co. yesterday made a reduction of ¼c. a pound in white lead, making the price 6c. per pound. This action naturally followed the recent cut of ⅜c. per pound in the price of pig lead made by the American Smelting and Refining Co.

Copper.—The United Metals Selling Co., selling agents for the Amalgamated Copper Co., announced Thursday a further cut in all grades of copper. The reduction in the price of the metal brings Lake copper down to 13 cents, and electrolytic copper to 12⅞ cents. Casting copper was reduced to 12½ cents. There were free predictions yesterday that still another reduction to 12 cents for Lake copper was likely to be made in the next few days.

At a meeting of the representatives of the principal concerns of the country, held in New York on Tuesday last, it was decided not to change the prices of brass goods. It was argued that the margin of profit is very low as it is, and for that reason a cut to correspond with the decline in the price of copper is not warranted. The price of copper wire has been shaded in sympathy with the lower quotations for the metal.

Pig Lead.—Announcement was made this week by the American Smelting and Refining Co. of a cut in the price of lead from 4.37½ cents a pound to 4 cents. This action, which was taken with a view to stimulating the demand for lead, was practically agreed upon at a recent conference of lead producers of Idaho and Utah held in this city. The fact that the price of lead abroad has been lower than here had some weight in bringing about the reduction. Officials of the company assert that the interest of both the ore producers and the smelting company will be best subserved by making a reduction at this time.

Lumber.—The general market has continued to show a good undertone, although demand has been moderate. Advices from the east state that all Maine mills have shut down for the season. State spruce is firm and supply limited, and prices very firm and advancing, at $20 on a 9-inch base. Eastern spruce arrivals continue light, and in fact there will be but very limited and very light arrivals from now until spring. Prices are stiff. The entire white pine market is strong, and will continue on this base, with a tendency to advance on almost everything during the entire season. Yellow pine for general construction work is in strong demand, and while there is no special boom on, yellow pine is in good shape and holds its own. Hemlock is now on a $15 base. The local demand has increased. Stocks are light at the mills, with heavy orders prevailing, and, with any increase in the demand, another advance will be made. Cypress continues in good demand, with every indication of a stiff market for some time. There is not much change in hardwood. Prices rule firm. Quartered and plain oak, poplar, chestnut and ash continue to be called for in fair volume, and the market is in good shape and steady on prices as quoted elsewhere in this issue. White pine shingles are practically out of the market, and those firms having any are easily getting good prices for them.

To offset the car scarcity, the lumbermen of Tacoma are arranging to forward lumber to New York and other Atlantic coast cities by steamship around Cape Horn. The first shipment of 500,000 feet for New York is carried by the steamship "American," and the next boat of the American-Hawaiian line will carry 1,000,000 feet.

Lath.—There have been few arrivals of eastern spruce lath, but, with only a small demand, prices have weakened slightly to $3.25@$3.50.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—There is a quiet market in all these lines, as is usual during such cold weather, but as compared with last year, the degree of activity is good. Prices of bricks, lime and cement are steady, showing no change.

The manufacture of bricks from sand by a European process, it is reported, will be begun in Chicopee and Holyoke, Mass., as soon as the necessary machinery can be secured by the promoters, Dr. C. M. Pomerat, of Holyoke, and Dr. J. O. Beauchamp, of Chicopee. Bricks made by the process are said to be harder than clay bricks, and the cost of production but half the cost of making bricks from clay. The bricks can be baked in a day, and are ready for use in four days.

Hardware.—Business continues to give more definite indications of the near approach of the holidays, and of the end of the year. The difficulty of obtaining raw material is still felt in many lines, and this, with the strength of the iron market, gives a firm tone to prices generally. The break in copper has not yet had much influence on the market in manufactured goods, owing to the fact that it was in a good measure anticipated.

Nails.—Demand for wire nails in the local market has fallen off somewhat during the week. The market is represented in a general way by the following prices: Small lots from store, $2.35 to $2.40; carloads on dock, $2.25. Cut nails continue to be ordered in about the usual proportions. Merchants whose trade demand cut nails usually order them irrespective of price. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Plumbers' Supplies.—Pig tin is exceedingly dull, with prices gradually declining. Arrivals are now coming more freely, and by the middle of next week they will foot up to about 2,400 tons. This is considered ample to meet requirements at this time of the year. Spelter, while unchanged as to quotations, is seriously affected by the unsettled condition of other metals. Business is practically at a standstill. The metal is nominally quoted at 4.45c. from store. As there is nothing in store, however, 4.35c. is quoted for spelter in transit. The tin plate market remains unchanged. The American Tin Plate Co. are selling only for the first quarter of next year on a basis of $4.19 per box of standard 100-lb. cokes f. o. b. New York, and $4 f. o. b mills. There is still some difficulty in getting prompt deliveries of sheets, and the independent mills coming in the market have been able to sell up their product for 60 days or longer. However, some sheet mills are actively soliciting orders for delivery in March and later. Price continues steady, in consequence of the short supply, No. 27 common being quoted by jobbers at 4c. to 4.05c., and galvanized sheets at 65 to 65½ per cent. off the list.

Paints and Colors.—The season has closed, and for several weeks to come business will be confined within narrow limits. The outlook for spring trade, however, is considered to be excellent, and a repetition of the fall activity, it is confidently expected, will begin soon after the new year has opened. Not many changes in prices are looked for, but the general expectation is that lead products may be lower after the turn of the year. The unprecedented activity in the structural iron trade has caused a corresponding movement in metallic paints, the consumption of which continues on a very heavy scale, giving the producers about all they can do to keep up with their orders. Naturally, the tone of the market is firm, but at the same time there seems to be no disposition manifested by sellers to raise quotations above the present level of $19.50@$21 for brown metallic oxide, and $16@$20 for red. With the active consuming season ended and the annual stock-taking engaging the attention of most manufacturers, there is not much business being done in mixed paints or colors in oil. The outlook for business with the incoming of the new year, based on the general prosperity of the country, was never better, and manufacturers look forward to a large spring trade.

Linseed Oil.—The market for spot oil is unsettled, as a result of dull trade and active competition. Such business as is going at present is in small quantities at prices based on 51@52c. for 5-barrel lots, according to seller. The American Co. still adheres to its quotation of 55c. for city and 53c. for western. It is reported that the recent floods in the north of this state have allowed the release of about 17 boatloads of flax, which was supposed would have to winter in the canal just above Albany. They are now in tow for New York.

Glass.—Window glass is moving slowly, and jobbers are complaining of price-cutting. Manufacturers have contracted with jobbers to deliver a large consignment to them during the next three months, and although provided for for the present, the outcome of the jobbers' market is being watched by manufacturers. Plate glass is more active. Quotations remain unchanged, and it is not considered likely that any further change in prices will be made until after the first of the year.

Building News.

The building boom is still on, and the industrial cities and towns of the country show no tendency to relax their activities in the building line. A series of years of unparalleled commercial and industrial prosperity encourages home building and investment construction as permanent reminders of the successful days of the past.

A vote was taken in the Council on Tuesday on a motion to adopt the report of the Committee on Law recommending an amendment to the Building Code to provide a definition for bachelor apartment houses, and it was lost. A motion to reconsider was carried and the matter restored to its position on order of second reading.

The federal bankruptcy law has the floor. It is to be remodeled by amendment. If you have an idea as to the value of the present law, or a suggestion for its improvement, put it on paper and send it to Chairman Ray, of the House Judiciary Committee. The amendments are expected to throw additional protection around the creditor class.

Paris is to have a porcelain tower, which will rival in size and beauty any similar structure in China. It is to be over 130 feet high, covered with porcelain decorations made for the purpose at the Government factory of Sevres, and will be erected in the Park of St. Cloud, on the site of the old tower known as "Diogenes's Lantern."—Exchange.

James W. Pacey, the well-known carpenter and builder, is now associated with Mr. Gleckner in the management, and the company is busy with contracts for the new Pabst Hotel, on Grand Circle and 58th st (bronze work); St. Bartholomew's Clinic; Wells Building; Mutual Life (annex); Navy Yard Branch, Y. M. C. A.; Melrose Telephone Station; Western Electric Building, and others.

A. D. Hoxie, roofing and general sheet metal worker, has removed his shop from No. 263 Monroe st to No. 372 Madison st. He has been very successful in his plan for yearly contracting to keep roofs in order, and is a scientific worker; his knowledge of general house-heating having been gained with a manufacturer of heaters in Rochester, N. Y. As an additional convenience to his friends, he has also opened an office at No. 235 Broadway.

A few weeks ago fire destroyed the factory of the Columbia Kalameined Iron-Clad Wood Works, on East 116th st. In order to provide better-equipped quarters, and a modern plant for a constantly increasing business, the Columbia Iron-Clad Door Co. has been incorporated with office and factory at No. 550 West 41st st, where the best of facilities for good and quick work, including modern machines, have been installed.

The old Morse Building, corner of Nassau and Beekman sts, is hardly recognizable since the massive brickwork of the two lower stories has been covered with a thin veneer of light stone.

The new stories added are also of material of a light color, while the six stories between are of red brick like the original structure. It is one of the few big office buildings down-town that changed hands under foreclosure. It was subsequently traded off by the Washington Life, who made a liberal loan to the new owner.

Last month there were 5,636 building permits taken out, as against 4,664 for the same period of 1900, an increase of 972 buildings. In November, 1901, permits aggregated an expenditure of $20,405,025, while those of November, 1900, involved the sum of $14,379,612, an increase of 42 per cent. Regarding the figures for October, 1901 and 1902, the total for October of this year was $4,585,900 less than the preceding month, and October of a year ago exceeded the corresponding period of 1901 by $5,299,236.

In our last issue it was stated that the first elevator apartment house to be erected under the new law would be at the northwest corner of Lenox av and 112th st; this was an error. There is now being erected at Nos. 42 and 44 West 120th st a 7-sty elevator apartment house for James Everard, from plans by James W. Cole. The plot was the site of Oscar Hammerstein's house, on which Mr. Everard held the mortgage and which he foreclosed. Other elevator apartments being erected under the new law are: Nos. 226 to 232 West 107th st; 113th st, south side, 75 feet east of Lenox av; and 129th st, north side, 100 feet east of 8th av.

Messrs. J. B. King & Co., whose factory and mills at New Brighton, Staten Island, were recently destroyed by fire, will rebuild at once. They have purchased about one-half mile of water frontage adjoining the large tract already owned by them, and upon which the old works stood. On this largely-increased plot they will erect a modern factory and mill, which, when completed, will give them a capacity of 12,000 barrels per day. An up-to-date mill for the manufacture of whiting will be included in the improvements. For the immediate production and delivery of their dry mortar, the firm have put into operation at their Roslyn, Long Island, plant, a complete mill, which is now running. The firm are in a position to fill all orders without further delay.

LUMBER'S REMARKABLE YEAR.

One of the most remarkable years ever experienced by the lumber industry of this country will soon pass into history, remarkable from the fact that from January 1 to date practically every variety of lumber used commercially has held a uniformly strong position, with the selling price almost invariably determined by the shipper, a condition which should, and perhaps has, resulted in giving every branch of the trade a fair return upon their investments and applied energies. There has been no boom in any particular line—and for this the trade should be devoutly thankful—the natural and wholesome operation of the law of supply and demand having created the prevailing level of values, and we will go over into the new year with the bargain counter absolutely barren of offerings, unless it would be proper to place the cull grade of two or three of the cheaper varieties of hardwoods in that classification.—Lumberman's Review.

FIRE TESTS WITH DOORS.

The British Fire Prevention Committee recently undertook a series of investigations at their Bayswater Testing Station, devoted to tests with doors, firstly with two double deal doors and two double oak doors; secondly, with a single "Jarrah" wood door and a single "Kerri" wood door, the thickness of the doors in each case being 2 inches. The double oak doors appeared to have very considerable fire-resistance compared to the deal double doors, the test in each case extending to 1¾ hours. The "Kerri" and "Jarrah" wood doors were unfortunately badly constructed by the makers, and although the wood itself showed considerable resistance during a test of one hour, the fire appeared to get through where the joints had not been satisfactorily made.

Legal Decisions.

Restrictive covenants in a deed of part of a tract—They are inapplicable to another part of the same tract subsequently conveyed by the same owner—A residence for nurses is not "noxious or offensive." Where the owners of a block of land adopt a general plan for the improvement of the same, regulating the character of the buildings to be erected thereon and restricting the use thereof to certain purposes, communicate such plan to purchasers of portions of the block and embody the provisions thereof in covenants in the deeds executed by them to such purchasers, a person who acquires title to the remaining portion of the block under a deed from the original owners not containing the restrictive covenants contained in the deeds of the other portions of the block, without knowledge or notice of the oral agreement made by the owners of the block that the entire block should be sold subject to the restrictive covenants, is not bound by such covenants. The erection of a hospital corporation upon land subject to a covenant that the grantees thereof would not use the premises for "any manufactory, trade or business whatever, which may be in any wise noxious or offensive to the neighboring inhabitants," of a building to be solely used for the residence of nurses employed in the hospital, does not constitute a violation of the covenant.—(Moller vs. Presbyterian Hospital, 65 App. Div. 134.)

Lease—Consent to assignment—Rival claimants to possession. A landlord consents to an assignment of a lease where he accepts rent under it from the assignee with knowledge of the assignment. Where the assignment is made and is recognized by the landlord before appointment of a receiver in bankruptcy of the assignor, the assignee is entitled to dispossess an occupant who has intruded upon the premises under a claim that he purchased the lease upon a sale of it made by the receiver.—(Carcewich vs. Woods, 26 Misc. 201.)

Agitation of the mortgage tax exemption movement continues to interest real estate men. The prospects are that the fight in the coming session of the Legislature will be a memorable one, the interests involved being some of the most powerful in the State. At the head of the movement in Brooklyn is George E. Lovett. Associated with him are many of the leading brokers and representatives of the financial interests, and together the pressure brought to bear on local legislators, both before and after election, has been fruitful of hopes of success. Further reference to this movement will be found in the report of the annual dinner of the Builders' League of New York, given on another page.

This, like the sister-borough, is enjoying an awakening in real estate business, and in development and in the form of large transactions rather than small ones; but as the former usually precede the latter, we may look for these to follow with the opening of spring. The Long Island Railroad's purchases alone anticipate and foretell a big popular movement this way, and there are other facts that support this view.

It is reported that Howard M. Smith, President of the Bedford National Bank, and formerly President of the Union League Club of Brooklyn,, will be named by Borough President-elect Swanstrom to be Commissioner of Public Works for the borough It is understood that Mr. Smith now has the appointment under consideration. Mr. Smith is a Republican.

Negotiations are under way for the erection of a club-house by the Free and Accepted Masons of the Second and Third Masonic districts, on the plot at the southeast corner of Cumberland st and Greene av. The parcel is owned by two members of U. S. Grant Post, G. A. R., and if the present scheme goes through, the Masons will erect the building and Grant Post will have its headquarters there.

The committee appointed by the trustees of the Public Library of the Borough of Queens have selected three sites for the Carnegie libraries in that borough. One will be in Broadway, Ozone Park; one in College Point, and one in Newtown. The sites in College Point and Newtown have been paid for by popular subscriptions.

Flatbush real estate men are determined that at least one Carnegie branch library be placed in their section of the borough, and, so, to that end, John Reis has offered to the city a plot 30x125 in Lenox road, near Rogers av. As yet it has not been decided whether the offer will be accepted or not.

Work has been begun on a new music hall to be built at the northwest corner of Willoughby and Pearl sts, the old buildings on that site now being torn down, the estimated cost of which is $50,000.

The park for the 4th Ward has been approved by the Board of Aldermen.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title an dinterest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th. The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

LUMBER.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands. Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and even car lots, besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and altogether it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.

Vol. LXVIII. DECEMBER 28, 1901. No. 1763

THE contending views on stock market probabilities are aptly illustrated by typical comments on the declaration of the dividend on Missouri Pacific this week. "Here," says the bull, "is a stock that had not previously paid a dividend for ten years, this year paying five per cent. in spite of corn crop damage in the territory through which it runs." On the other hand the bear asks: "Why should the one year's dividend the stock has paid be made its investment basis, when it was so many years in the non-dividend list?" The first takes present, and the second past conditions as the guarantees of Missouri Pacific's future. Similar reasoning guides action on other stocks. These positions are irreconcilable, and as the rival supporters of each are strong, they account for the wide fluctuations seen in prices. The great fact upon which prices of railroad securities have held firm of late—the continuous increase in earnings—was somewhat shaken by the returns for the third week of December, which were bad when compared with previous ones. The stormy weather throughout the country in the week reported on, explains some of the loss, but not all. It has been noticeable for some time that the number of roads reporting losses has been slowly growing, though hitherto, as a rule, confined almost entirely to the small properties. If they are often joined by large ones like St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and Louisville & Nashville, as was the case this week, that will modify generally accepted views, not only of the measure of prosperity the railroads themselves may be expected to enjoy, but also of the extent of general activity and the volume of the country's business. For this reason the railroad returns for the coming and succeeding weeks will be watched with increased interest. The stock market continues to be largely professional and the movements of prices technical. Money has been somewhat easier this week and those who were not too eager and anxious had always a chance to obtain accommodations at moderate rates, but the situation is yet by no means clear. Indications point to immediate relief, but not to permanent stability of low rates. Outside of the influence exerted by these facts there is no diminution of the cheerfulness with which the prospect is generally regarded. It is claimed on all sides that the Christmas trade has been highly satisfactory, and that money has been spent freely, as it is only done when prosperity is widespread. It is easy, however, to make too much of this fact; for, while it is positively indicative of what has been, it is not necessarily so of what will be.

WHILE the agitation in favor of exempting mortgages from taxation is growing and more and more people are seeing the wisdom of the proposition, it does not appear that any steps are being taken to consolidate the friends of the movement. The Real Estate Board of Brokers have placed themselves on record in its favor, as have also the Brooklyn brokers, and individuals are voicing their sentiments through the press; but no one has proposed that all these forces should be brought together so as to speak to the Legislature with united voice. This is the first thing to be done if the Legislature is to be induced to act, and the next thing is that the members of the movement should individually press their views upon as many assemblymen and senators as they can approach, either by right as constituents, or through personal acquaintance. The exemption of mortgages from taxation would be a direct aid to public revenue. So long as the great bulk of that revenue must be raised from real property, so long will any measure that induces the development and improvement of that property help to swell that revenue. There is nothing that could assist physical development in this city so much as the repeal of the tax on capital employed in the work, that is to say, of the tax on mortgages. Relieved from any danger of the imposition of the personal property tax this capital would come in more freely and at lower rates; and it requires no arithmetic to show that by its employment in erecting buildings and increasing the value of land, the community would obtain more from it than they can possibly obtain under a system that rather deters physical development than creates revenue.

NOT a little attention is now being given to the city debt limit and, notwithstanding that some who do not seem to know the difference between the annual budget and the permanent debt, insist upon joining in the discussion, light is breaking in on the public to whom it is becoming clearer that the present limit retards the city's proper and natural development. The fact that one public man after another is taking up this matter is gratifying, because assuring that the mischief that was feared from the constitutional limitation will not be allowed to eventuate. The question has passed from one of whether the limit is too restrictive, to one of finding means to prevent the evils of its admitted restrictiveness. As we have previously pointed out a number of remedies have been suggested. The latest is offered by Tax Commissioner Feitner, following and alternative to that presented by him in these columns some weeks ago, that the borrowing power of the city should be equal to the value of the real property owned by it. This we are not as ready to accept as his first suggestion, that the debt limit should be ten per cent. of the realty tax valuation plus the city exempt real estate valuation. The strongest argument against the alternative suggestion is that as the city's real property stands on the books of the Tax Department at a figure much below its actual value, and the entry is still incomplete, it would be possible for a reckless administration to indulge in wholesale extravagance by substituting the real value for the nominal value on the books. That would not do at all. This question also arises in connection with this proposition: Suppose the outstanding debt equal to the valuation of the municipally owned real estate, where are the funds for improvements to come from? What is wanted is a plan that will give the city a satisfactory margin of credit to work on now, and a larger yearly increase in the future, than it has had in recent years. This, the addition of the valuation of the city's exempt property as is now stands on the books would do, because not only would it create an immediate increased margin of from $35,000,000 to $36,000,000, but it would, of course, increase the borrowing power as additions were made to that property, and the record of values became more perfect. Like the Comptroller, we have a lingering fondness for our own suggested remedy, but like him would be willing to compromise on the one of Mr. Feitner's that we have already favored.

THE charges made by Cass Gilbert in an insurance journal and reproduced in another column of this issue, call for investigation, as they touch the honor of the buildings trades, and are calculated to weaken the confidence of capitalists in real property investments in this city. Mr. Gilbert, in effect, gives it as his experience that the rules of good fireproof construction are violated more in New York than in any other city in the United States, and specifies what these infractions of honest work consist of. These charges involve not only questions of honest work, but also questions of the safety of life in the event of maximum floor loads being imposed and in the event of fire in buildings erected in such defiance of the law. If proved, they show the need of stricter supervision of work, both on the part of owners and of the authorities having care of such matters. We say, if proved, because we share the general objection to forming opinions on ex parte statements, but we cannot imagine an architect of Mr. Gilbert's standing making such statements, the seriousness of which no one comprehends better than himself, if he were not able to substantiate them.

ONE of the questions that must come to the front as a result of recent developments is that of where the mart for real estate securities is going to be; in Broadway or in Wall Street? This is quite apart from the question of the relative values of the various securities issued by the many realty corporations that have become active of late. Up to this time these securities have been placed among the friends of the several enterprises, or dealt in over the counters of certain houses and institutions. Quotations for a few have been made on "the Curb," outside the Stock Exchange, and a few have been marketed under the hammer. It is in the nature of stocks and bonds to disperse into many hands, and when this is the case a public market is necessary, because the holders do not know the private channels for disposing of them. Whoever provides this market, of course, reaps the rewards in the shape of commissions. If this business is not by policy directed another way, it will surely find its outlet in Wall Street. It may be caught a little north of that thoroughfare, but will it? The Real Estate Board of Brokers are considering the advisability of inaugurating a daily call in real estate securities. Presumably, on the theory of modern preference for expert opinion, the buying public would have more confidence in a "list" of real estate securities made up of the selections of the Board than in one made in Wall Street, as they would prefer a railroad or industrial list prepared there to one made up by the Real Estate Board of Brokers. But something more than a "list" and a "call" will be necessary to carry this business to realty circles and to keep it there. It will go whither the readiest realizations can be found. There are prejudices against real estate securities to be considered, but they will dispose of themselves as the prejudices against other forms of investment worked themselves out. The incorporations of the past two years alone are sufficient to indicate that a big business is preparing for somebody in stocks and bonds based on realty operations, and the question at the moment is, who shall that somebody be? Left alone it will undoubtedly be Wall Street.

The Real Estate Situation

It is a common complaint among brokers that the prices asked for choice parcels in all sections are prohibitive of business. Prices in any particular field of business have a common tendency to advance, whenever particular members are specially favored, but if this advance is not engineered with judgment it often hurts business. Owners, prone enough at any time to see virtues in their holdings that buyers can never be brought to see, are just now encouraged in regarding their possessions with the most favoring eye, not merely by the activity of the market and the prices obtained for real estate in sections where the demand is urgent and insistent, but also by the sensational prices reported elsewhere. The sale this week of the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-eighth street by the syndicate, of which C. T. Barney is the head, to the New York Realty Corporation, is one of these which make owners put something more on prices they were previously willing to take. The Barney syndicate purchased this parcel in 1899 for $400,000, they took title this year and it is now reported have sold for $550,000. These prices are for land values only, the buildings not being considered. The plot contains 8,560 square feet, which would make the square foot price two years ago $46.73, and on the resale $64.25. Compared with the Stewart plot at the corner of Thirty-fourth street, which contains 21,612½ square feet, and which sold at the rate of $63.44 a square foot, this seems a very high price, particularly as the Stewart plot had a frontage of 175 feet on Thirty-fourth street and is certainly as good as Fifth avenue at Thirty-eighth street. The larger plot bought by the proprietor of the Waldorf-Astoria, being the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-seventh street, but having a frontage on the avenue twice as great as the purchase under review, cost only $62.87 a square foot. The lesson of these comparisons is obvious, but whether obvious or not, owners who want to avail themselves of the current market movements, ought to weigh as carefully the defects or disadvantages of their offerings as their merits and advantages, and remember it is from lack of exercise of this prudence that would-be sellers bewail lost opportunities when the period of demand has passed.

Asked Prices vs. Business.

Among the building items announced during the week, apartment hotels still figure prominently; and it is apparent that the coming year will see little or no diminution in the remarkable rate at which this relatively new class of improvement is now being erected. The Record and Guide pointed out recently that plans have been filed during this year for thirty-five buildings classed as hotels, to be erected at an estimated cost of $18,552,000, against seven buildings to cost $1,780,000, which were projected during 1900. So far as the coming year is concerned we have already reported the probable erection of eighteen new buildings of the same kind, and the season is only in its infancy. Altogether it seems extremely probable that the record of 1901 will be surpassed in 1902. What is more interesting, however, is the increased area over which apartment hotels are being built. There is still a much stronger tendency to select sites for these buildings in the central parts of the city than there is to select sites in the outlying parts, and the districts between Fifth avenue and Longacre Square and along the line of lower Madison avenue remain the favorite districts. Still building projects for such improvements have been announced for streets as far south as Eighth street, and as far north as 125th street, and for avenues as far east as Lexington. Builders are beginning to erect them to accommodate not merely the restless, partly Bohemian population for which they formerly catered, but also for the same class of people that now fill the west-side apartment houses. Moreover, there is a tendency to build them more cheaply than formerly, so as to attract families of limited means. Where the movement will end and how far apartment hotels will displace house-keeping apartments is still a doubtful matter. The former have the advantages of economy and of reducing the troubles and labors of domestic life to a minimum; the latter have the advantage of greater privacy and of appealing to that domestic sense which, it is to be hoped, is as strong as it used to be among Americans. That apartment hotels will entirely displace flats any more than flats have displaced private dwellings is not for a moment to be expected; but it will unquestionably be a much more popular type of building in the future than it has been in the past. It is the most extreme possible development of the principle of coöperative living in which everything is centralized and done by machinery, and as such, will always appeal to people who wish entire freedom from the labors and cares of domestic life.

Apartment Hotels on 125th St.

Events have been working for years to make the section around Broadway and 34th street the geographical center of the great community that is spreading itself over, not merely Manhattan Island, but Long Island, Staten Island, the mainland north of the Harlem River, and even territory extending back west from the Hudson River. Prices of land have advanced as time went on, but it was not until the Pennsylvania Railroad Company recognized the central character of this section that owners of land therein really awakened to a true sense of what they possessed. The sales reported on behalf of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company this week show that the buyers have a generous appreciation of the situation, and other transactions have been completed that prove they are not alone in this regard. One of the largest and most interesting of these is the sale of the 120-foot plot, Nos. 42 to 52 West Thirty-third street and adjoining the Hotel Martinique. This property has not changed hands before since 1852; a year ago it could have been had for $400,000, which would have been at the rate of $3,333 a foot front; it is now said to have been sold for $650,000—$5,416, or an advance of $2,103 in less than a year a foot front, and nearly as high as lots on Thirty-fourth street between the same avenues have brought. Nos. 30 to 36 West Thirty-third street, a plot 70 x 98.9 sold in 1899 for $226,000. W. H. R. Martin, the owner of the Martinique, is said to be the buyer, and it is stated that the property will be improved by the erection thereon of an addition to his hotel.

Patrridge and another the leasehold of ten lots on the southwest corner of 29th st and 11th av (leases have 49 years to run), and from Stokes & Thedford the leasehold of six lots on the south side of 29th st, 250 ft west of 11th av (leases have 56 years to run). This completes the purchase of 61 lots, comprising the entire block bounded by 11th and 12th aves 28th and 29th sts, by the above-named company through Mr. Kirwan. The premises will be occupied as a freight yard by the Erie Railroad.

Results of Fireproof Partition Tests.

DEPARTMENTAL CONCLUSIONS REGARDING VARIOUS SPECIALTIES TESTED.

During the fall, fire and water tests of 16 different fireproof partitions were conducted by the Department of Buildings, at the foot of East 106th st, under the supervision of W. W. Ewing, Engineer to the Department, whose conclusions are found in a report recently presented to the Department.

Regarding the Bell, Brinkman, Sanitary, Schratweiser, Sprickerhoff, Maurer, New York Expanded Metal Co., Moeslein and Roebling partitions, he says:

I am of the opinion that these constructions can be used where the term "other fireproof material" occurs in the various sections of the Code for partitions, elevator shafts, dumbwaiter shafts, light and vent shafts, and bulkheads on roofs, provided suitable separating bars or beams are used horizontally at each story height, in order to carry each story of elevator shaft or partition on itself; also, that partitions in their horizontal measurement shall be strengthened with such cross walls, piers or buttresses, or built, in such iron or steel framework as may be directed by the Department of Buildings. And further, in accordance with the former ruling in the case of dumbwaiter shafts, that they be built not over 45 ft. in height, without angle-iron construction at corners, and that all elevator construction shall have suitable angle irons at corners.

I would therefore respectfully recommend that the above blocks (partitions) be allowed for use when constructed as tested, on condition that each story of partitions and elevator shafts be self-supporting, the partitions to be properly braced vertically, all elevator shafts to have angle-iron constructions at corners, and openings in same properly framed, and that the dumbwaiter shafts be not allowed to be built over 45 ft. in height without angle-iron construction, and that any variance or change in the composition or method of constructing said blocks (partitions) shall be declared to this department, in order that, if necessary, further tests shall be made to demonstrate the efficiency of such new constructions.

Regarding the Norman, Metropolitan, Averill, Freeman-Dobbin and White partitions, the following conclusions were reached:

I am of the opinion that these constructions can be used where the term "other fireproof material" occurs in the various sections of the Code, for partitions, elevator shafts, dumbwaiter shafts, light and vent shafts, and bulkheads on roofs, but not where prohibited in Section 37, Chapter 334, Laws of 1901, in relation to tenement houses, provided, suitable separating bars or beams are used horizontally at each story height, in order to carry each story of elevator shaft or partition on itself; also that partitions, in their horizontal measurement, shall be strengthened with such cross walls, piers or buttresses, or built in such iron or steel framework as may be directed by the Department of Buildings. And further, in accordance with the former ruling in the case of dumbwaiter shafts, that they be built not over 45 ft. in height, without angle-iron construction at corners, and that all elevator construction shall have suitable angle irons at corners.

I would therefore respectfully recommend that the above blocks (partitions) be allowed for use in buildings when constructed as tested, except where prohibited in Section 37, Chapter 334, Laws of 1901, in relation to tenement houses, on condition that each story of partitions and elevator shafts be self-supporting, the partitions to be properly braced vertically, all elevator shafts to have angle-iron constructions at corners, and openings in same properly framed, and that the dumbwaiter shafts be not allowed to be built over 45 ft. in height without angle-iron construction, and that any variance or change in the composition or method of constructing said blocks shall be declared to this department, in order that, if necessary, further tests shall be made to demonstrate the efficiency of such new construction.

Fireproof Construction.

The following, taken from an article contributed by Cass Gilbert to "The Chronicle," an insurance journal, will doubtless afford interesting reading to the Department of Buildings and builders in fireproof generally:

In many of the new buildings in our large cities—especially in New York, more so than in any other city I know of in the United States—strictly fireproof conditions are ignored and so-called fireproof buildings are erected in a most wretched and flimsy manner.

Several such buildings have come under my personal observation within the past few months. In these the steel work in the outer wall had no protection other than that afforded by three or four inches of limestone. The girders were most insecurely covered with thin terra cotta, the floor arches were laid in the hastiest manner and with scarcely cement enough in the joints to hold them together. Openings were left between the arch blocks through which a fire could readily pass from one story to another. On top of these arches, instead of a substantial concrete, I have seen ashes, cinders and rubbish, without any mixture of cement, dumped together. In some instances the material has been brought fresh from the ash heap and piled, still smoking, into the building—tin cans, waste paper and chips of wood forming part of the so-called "concrete." It is obvious that, while this material is filling, it is not strengthening to the construction. While possibly the floor arches would be strong enough to carry the light loads that might be placed upon them, if they were subjected to any ordinary load, it would be a miracle if they withstood the strain. Should a fire occur in the building, it would almost as readily penetrate from floor to floor as in the old-fashioned timber-construction; and yet I have no doubt that under the law and the insurance regulations, these buildings are classed as fireproof. They certainly are acknowledged as such by the renting agents, and will be occupied by tenants who believe them to be such. When disaster occurs the newspapers will be filled with sensational accounts of the burning of "another fireproof building."

From my viewpoint, it is a crime to erect such buildings and a swindle to advertise them as fireproof. Insurance regulations, if not the law, should so rate these buildings that they cannot compete with buildings which are honestly built. Thus some benefit would accrue to the owner of the real fireproof buildings from an insurance as well as a renting standpoint.

The Hoffman-Corn Deal.

Holdridge & Ward, the junior member of which, Francis E. Ward, is the President-elect of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, have effected the biggest trade in New York realty which has been put through in several years. For Henry Corn they have sold two new business buildings in the lower 5th av section, and he takes in exchange a parcel in lower Broadway and one on Washington st, the five parcels aggregating $4,050,000. Dean E. A. Hoffman purchased from Mr. Corn the new 11-sty modern mercantile building now being completed on the site of the residence of the late Marshall O. Roberts, at the southeast corner of 5th av and 18th st; the plot is 66x129, with a 49-foot L in the rear 92 feet deep, and which Mr. Corn bought for $500,000. The new building now being erected was estimated to cost $550,000; the property figured in this transaction at $1,250,000, as against $1,000,000 for the Parmly Building, at Nos. 165 and 167 Broadway, and the abutting Smith Building, at Nos. 13 to 17 Cortlandt st. Mr. Hoffman acquired the Smith Building at auction in 1898 for $330,000, and the Parmley Building in a three-cornered deal in 1895, for $500,000. The 5th av property just sold is fully rented to prominent merchants, among the tenants being S. Stein & Co., wholesale woolen dealers, who will occupy the store and several lofts on a ten-year lease. The other property sold is the new 11-sty loft building, known as the "Cluett Building," at Nos. 19 to 23 West 18th st, and extending through to 19th st; it adjoins the Siegel-Cooper Co.'s store, and fronts 75 feet on 18th st and 89.3 feet on 19th st. Cluett, Peabody & Co. have a ten-years' lease of the stores, and the entire building rents for over $70,000, and was valued in the deal at $1,100,000. Hoffman Brothers are the buyers of this property and give in exchange the Electrical Exchange Building, covering the block front on Washington st, between Cedar and Liberty sts. The building is 7-sty high, fronts 114 feet on Washington st, 70 feet on Cedar st, and 75 feet on Liberty st, and figured in the deal at $700,000. Just a year ago Holdridge & Ward sold three parcels valued at $3,000,000 for Mr. Corn.

The Committee of 36.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Hanna and Gompers. In the mode of Heinz, Two of the 36. And these two may be properly said to be the head and the tail thereof, the body being composed of Bishops, Archbishops and the other laborers that seek to change tares to wheat, together with a sprinkling of business men and business agents.

And all these conferred together, promised to confer some more, and adjourned. Surely the late Rev. Mr. Jackson was correct. "The sun do move." Else its rays had never fallen on such an aggregation as the Civic Federation.

And the outcome is to be a paraphrase of the great proclamation made by the great One, nineteen centuries ago. Peace and good will are to obtain in the Industrial world. And the means to this end are both simple and familiar—mediation and arbitration. Such is the general plan. For particulars see small bills. Now it's the small bill that we are most anxious to scrutinize. In this matter, the modus operandi has a singular fascination for us. Is the committee to act only when invited by both parties to a controversy? Is it to solicit invitations for itself? Is it to confine its energies to a local area, or is it to exercise them throughout the national domain? And if it be invited or permitted to mediate, or arbitrate, or both, will it not have to be in continuous session to effectively meet the demands of the situation, even though the field of its operations be restricted to our own City? These be serious questions, and far be it from me to discuss them in other than a serious frame of mind. But for the life of me, I cannot help feeling that the task which Marconi has set for himself is easy compared to that which confronts the Committee of 36.

And yet it is among the possibilities that the capacity of the Committee is equal to the occasion. This, however, can only be demonstrated by many tests, and, as the natural course of progress in matters empirical is from the simple to the complex, I diffidently suggest that a beginning be made on the problem at 73d st and Broadway—that the troubles on the Stokes job be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Should the Committee find such a consummation beyond its powers, it might accomplish its purpose by adding to its membership some member of the Mason Builders' Association, which has had sixteen years' experience in mediating and arbitrating, and which, during that long interval, has given to the Building trade in this City such a measure of security from the evil of strikes that I can but wonder why some one of its many prominent members has not already been invited to act as No. 37 at least. But perhaps the Civic Federation is not to include the Building business within the scope of its activities. Let us hope the contrary.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

The details of the large deal made through Holdridge & Ward, between Henry Corn and Dean E. A. Hoffman and Hoffman Brothers, will be found on the preceding page.

By far the most interesting transaction of the week is the sale of six 3-sty dwellings, Nos. 42 to 52 West 33d st. They adjoin the Martinique, on the east, and are said to have been purchased by W. H. R. Martin, the owner of that building; he, however, denies that he is the buyer, although it was admitted at the hotel that an addition to it would be erected on the east. The plot, which has a frontage of 120 feet, is said to have sold for $650,000, although it could have been purchased a year ago for $400,000. Nos. 30 to 36, a plot 70x98.9, were purchased by the American Realty Co. in 1899 for $226,000; at the price quoted for the present sale this is an advance of $2,205 per foot front in two years.

Charles H. Easton & Co. have sold for George P. Malone the 4-sty flat No. 115 West 46th st, on lot 25x100.

Collins & Collins have sold for Theodore H. Mead No. 100 E. 39th st, a 4-sty brownstone dwelling, on lot 28x74.3. The buyer is the Wall st broker, John H. Jacquelin, who bought the house for occupancy. Mr. Mead purchased this week, through the same brokers, No. 16 East 75th st.

The most interesting transaction of the week is the sale by the Barney-Sheldon syndicate to the New York Realty Corporation, of the old Bennett property, which they bought from the estate of Austin Corbin over two years ago, but to which they only took title last summer, it having been necessary to make good a defect in the title, due to the fact that James Gordon Bennett bought the property in his individual capacity, while also acting as executor of his father's estate. The property is located at the northeast corner of 5th av and 38th st, and fronts 60.11 on the av and 125 feet on 38th st, No. 1 East 38th st being 98.9 feet deep. The sellers paid $400,000 for the property, which contains 8,560 square feet, or at the rate of $46.73 a square foot, and are said to have resold it for $550,000, or $64.25 a square foot. The southeast corner of 5th av and 37th st, a plot fronting 130.9 on 5th av and 112.6 on 37th st, and contains 14,315 square feet, was purchased by George C. Boldt in May for $900,000, or $62.87 a square foot.

Michael E. Pepe & Bro. have sold for Anthony Reissert to V. Casazzo & Bro. No. 122 Sullivan st, near Prince, a 5-sty building, on lot 23x100, for $20,000.

Francis M. Jencks has sold the 3-sty dwelling, No. 241 West 49th st, on lot 17x100.

Contracts for the sale of the Lord & Taylor property were signed on Friday afternoon. Harry Fischel has purchased it through H. D. Baker. It is the old Lord & Taylor store at the southeast corner of Grand and Chrystie st, fronting 100.2 on Grand st, 101.6 on Chrystie st and extending through the block to Forsyth st, where it has a frontage of 50.2. Mr. Fischel will divide the ground floor into small stores and the upper floors he has not definitely decided how to use. He will not rebuild at present. Lord & Taylor will vacate March 15th, 1902.

The Singer Manufacturing Co. have purchased No. 161 Broadway from the Greenwich Fire Insurance Co., and the price is said to be $350,000. It sold, in 1880, for $127,500. The property adjoins Nos. 155 and 157 Broadway, which the company acquired in May, 1900, for $500,000. They now have a plot fronting 120 feet on Broadway and an investment in land of $2,104,500. They will improve the property just purchased together with Nos. 155 and 157 Broadway. It would not be surprising if they had acquired the property which Henry Corn has just purchased from E. A. Hoffman, as the Cortlandt st parcel abuts the holdings of the Singer Co., thereby giving them access to the Parmly building even if they cannot get No. 163, which is between it and their Broadway front.

Phillip Nehrbass has sold to Lowenfeld & Prager, through Bleiman & Co., No. 123 Delancey st, a 5-sty tenement with store, on lot 20x68.

James W. Taylor has purchased from the estate of B. Schmidt No. 428 7th av, a 4-sty building, on lot 19.2x69.10. Ames & Co., were the brokers. No. 426, a similar building, sold for $18,200 in April, and was resold in October for $22,000.

Sheahan is the buyer, and the price $75,000.

Herbert A. Sherman has sold for the Douglas estate the 4-sty tenement with store No. 430 8th av, on lot 21.7x90, between 31st and 32d sts and adjoining property recently purchased by the Stuyvesant Real Estate Co.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

William Martin has sold to Arthur E. Wood a lot 25x100.11 on the north side of 115th st, 300 feet east of 8th av. A plot 50x100.11, only 225 feet east of 8th av, was recently sold at auction for $13,900.

The last of the old residence properties on 125th st, west of 7th av, has been sold by Samuel Goldsticker for the executors of the late Henry Schubert to The Central Realty, Bond and Trust Co. This is the old Schubert homestead, comprising the block front from 125th to 126th sts, on the west side of 7th av, with frontages of 125 feet on each street. The property has always been held at extravagant figures; $900,000, it is said, was asked for it when it was expected that the World's Fair would be held in Harlem. It was offered at auction once and bid in at $420,000, and was probably sold at less than that figure. The most recent sale in the block is that of Nos. 235 and 237 West 125th st, extending to 232 and 234 West 126th st. The plot is 50x199.10 and there are four 4-sty flats on it. It was sold at auction on October 29th for $113,100, the 125th st part of it having been purchased in 1884 by Lippman Toplitz for $65,000 and the 124th st houses in 1887 for $45,000. Using this property as a comparison and making all allowances for the large plot and that it has 450 feet of frontage, it is hard to figure a value of $420,000.

Another sale of interest is that of the sixteen lots fronting on St. Nicholas av, 125th st, 124th st and Hancock place, by the estate of George W. Carleton to A. C. & H. M. Hall. The property was purchased by Mr. Carleton in 1871 for $28,000. It fronts 200 feet on 125th st, 201.10 on St. Nicholas av, 62 feet on 124th st, 155.10 on Hancock place, with a westerly line of 130 2. The buyers, it is said, will erect an apartment hotel on the land.

Chauncey Patterson has sold No. 133 East 64th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100.5, adjoining the northwest corner of Lexington av.

S. H. Stone and Lowenfeld & Prager have sold the plot 100.11x95 at the southwest corner of Manhattan av and 108th st for $45,000, but $38,300 is said to be the correct figure. Another proposed library may be established at Pacific st and 4th av.

Brooks, and Joseph Kelly, of New York City.

Material Market.

Among metals there have been few changes. Structural steel is still difficult to obtain, and its future can only be determined when it is seen whether the building movement will be as great in 1902 as it has been in 1901. On this head it is interesting to note that the American Bridge Company have on their books for fabrication 400,000 tons of bridge and structural work. In hardware and plumbers' supplies very little is doing; buyers assuming a waiting attitude in the expectation that the reductions in basic metals must eventually be followed by similar movements in manufactured products. The few variations in quotations that have occurred during the week will be seen in our regular report of market prices given elsewhere. The features of the most important branches of this market follow.

Lumber.—There is a fair amount of business doing in the local market, with a somewhat better demand from out-of-town dealers than from the retail trade of the city. White pine is very firm, and prices have an advancing tendency. Eastern spruce is scarce and prices firm. Very limited arrivals are looked for until next spring. Demand for yellow pine is good, especially that suited for general construction work. Hemlock is in good request at firm prices. Mahogany and cedar have held firm, with a ready demand for all offerings.

Lath.—Early in the week prices for eastern spruce lath were quoted down to $3.25. Arrivals, however, have been small, and the close was steadier, with buyers at $3.25 and sellers at $3.50.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—Considering the season of the year, the demand for Hudson River brick has been fairly active, and with only moderate offerings prices have been firmly maintained. An advance in price is expected with the beginning of the new year. Eastern lime has been in fair request, and with supply limited prices have held firm. Both Rosendale and Portland cement have continued to meet with a satisfactory demand, and prices were quoted unchanged and steady at 75c.@95c. for Rosendale, and $1.70@$2.00 for domestic Portland.

Nails.—The irregularity of prices for wire nails has continued. Only a limited amount of business has been transacted, buyers generally pursuing a very conservative policy in their operations. The New York market is represented by the following quotations: Small lots from store, $2.25 to $2.30; carloads on dock, $2.25. At the monthly meeting of the cut nail manufacturers, held in Pittsburgh, prices were reaffirmed for the month of January. On account of the high price of steel it was not deemed advisable to make lower prices, especially as it was not considered probable that the demand for nails would thus be increased. New York quotations for carload and less than carload lots are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Glass.—A meeting of leading glass manufacturers will be held to-day, at Muncie, Ind., for the purpose of discussing community of interest plans. It is confidently expected by persons prominent in the trade that the proposition will be favorably considered, and that before a great while the window glass makers will have a practical working agreement as regards prices and output.

A man of long experience and large acquaintance in the building trade wishes a position with general contractor or master carpenter. Understands plans and can estimate costs. Address A. C. H., Record and Guide office.

The alvantages claimed by them in their move are: It is convenient; it gives more than twice the room they had in their old quarters; they can deliver more promptly than before; they can give more attention to every detail than ever before. CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R S $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances excuted on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

Editor Record and Guide:

In your issue of December 21st, on page 892, appears a communication signed by "J. W. Stevens, Contractor," relating to a mechanic's lien filed by the writer against the property, No. 10 West 18th St. In this communication Mr. Stevens stated that the writer falsely represented to him that the contract was with the Bethlehem Foundry & Machine Company. The proposal for this work was drawn by the writer personally, written in the first person, and signed "Robt. S. Bishop." And in this form it was accepted by J. W. Stevens, and at the time no statement was made nor inference given that The Bethlehem Foundry & Machine Co. has any interest in this contract whatever; subsequently bills for various payments on this work were rendered in the writer's name, and Mr. Steven's checks for payment of these bills were drawn to the writer's order. The communication further says, "The work done was condemned and was not done in accordance with the contract." The writer had never received any intimation that the work had been condemned until the publication of this letter. Furthermore, the work to what Mr. Stevens now objects had been accepted by his representative, and had been in position for from six to eight weeks prior to the demand for payment.

Robt. S. Bishop.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

. . . The New Rapid Transit Route

The interest taken in the new underground rapid transit route shows clearer than anything else how closely the future value of millions of dollars' worth of real estate is connected with this long-deferred enterprise.

So great was the demand for the rapid-transit maps issued recently by the Record and Guide, that the entire edition was exhausted.

A new edition is now ready for delivery; price, 10 cents; postage extra, 2 cents. The map has also been printed on bond paper. Price, 25 cents; postage extra, 2 cents.

Every real estate broker, and all who are interested in real estate, should possess this map. It gives the route of the new transit lines, the location of all stations, sections of the road, etc. Will be needed for constant reference. Order at once. RECORD AND GUIDE OFFICE,
